BOANDAL LANE.

BY MRS. M. A. KIDDER

It is not on the signboard, Sir. Go search both far and wide ;

So secret and so sly Although the tenants oftentim Include the rich and high. I'm told they're even cannibals And when they dine or sup,

By way of change they li turn about, And eat each other up! They much prefer the youthful, Sir, The beautiful and rare;

They grind up character and all,
And call it wholeships fare!
And should the helpless victim wince, They heed not cries of pain; These very bloody cannibals, That live in Scandal Lane!

If you should chance to dine with them Pray never be deceived. When they seem most like boson They're least to be believed. Their claws are sheathed in velvet. Sir.

Their teeth are hid by smiles, And woe betide the inne Who falls beneath their wiles! When they have singled out their prey, They make a cat-like spring;

Or hug them like a serpent, ere They plant the fatal sting! And then they wish their guilty hands, But don't efface the stain, These very greedy cannibals That live in Scandal Lane
