RAILROAD SUBSIDIES.

A good beginning has been made in the House of Representatives at Washington by rejecting the first railroad subsidy bill of the present session. It was one of the very numerous progeny of Pacific Railroad schemes with which the whole country has been ringing, and was regarded on all hands at Washington as a test case. Others, however, are pressing forward, nothing daunted, and very plausible statements are made on their behalf. We are glad to see Congressmen standing up manfully against them all, and we sincerely trust that they will continue to maintan that attitude through the session, setting their faces rigidly against all further subsidies.

This is the duty that Congress owes to the taxpayers of the republic. It is so recognized by General Grant and all who represent his views. Our finances are in no condition to warrant our proceeding any further in the career of reckless prodigality that has excited so much complaint, and however desirable the schemes of public improvement for which so much money is demanded, they should one and all be left to be accomplished by private and corporate enterprise, as fast as the growth of population and the movements of trade shall warrant. We must now pause and take time to look about us, to ascertain definitely the state of our affairs and the future financial prospects, before we add to our fiscal embarrassments. We must make both ends meet. We must garner up the immense resources we have been lavishing.

We have nearly finished the building of one great through railroad to the Pacific, and that it is sufficient now to bind together the widely separated parts of our far western domain. While that region is so thinly settled it would obviously be unwise to give this line any rivals to divide its traffic. It is our duty to give it time to develope the country and build up its trade. Let it have all the advantage of a monopoly of the field in order to insure its immediate and rapid success, so that the managers may be enabled to relieve us of that portion of our national debt incurred for its construction. This is the true way to show that it is profitable to go on building these works. We are satisfied that with proper management the road can and should relieve us of that portion of our debt, and hence we rejoice at the resistance in Congress to all further subsidies to Pacific railroads. We trust that Congress will stand firmly by this view.

THE PENSION FOR MRS. LINCOLN.—About a week ago Senator Morton introduced a bill granting a position to Mrs. MARY LINCOLN, widow of the late President of the United States. This resolution was referred to the Committee on Pensions. Tuesday, Mr. VAN WINKLE, the Chairman of that Committee, made a report, in which the Committee say, in substance, they are unable to perceive that Mrs. LINCOLN, as the widow of the late President, or in any other character, is entitled to a pension under the letter and spirit of any existing law. The Committee are aware the friends of the resolution expect to make a permanent provision for the lady under the guise of a pension: but no evidence has been furnished to them or reasons assigned why such provision should be made. If such was the intention, the Committee submit the reference should have been made to some other Committee. The committee on Pensions, at least for some years past, have not thought it compatible with their duty, or the objects of their appointment, to recommend in any case the granting of any special pension, or any pension of a greater amount than is allowed by some general law. If they thought the amount so allowed too small, they would feel it incumbent on them to report a general bill for like relief in all similar cases. If the increase proposed was on account of extraordinary military or naval services, the proper reference would be the Military or Naval Committee. Under all these circumstances the Committee have no alternative but to report against the passage of the general resolution

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—The Senate Committee on Indian Affairs have agreed to report adversely on the House bill to transfer the charge of the Indians to the War Department, and will report in favor of the Senate bill to erect the Indian Bureau into a separate department, with an official head who shall have a seat in the Cabinet. The policy is questionable; but Congress having all the facts before them in relation to Indian Affairs, ought to know how to manage them so as best to protect the treaty rights of the red men and secure the safety of the frontier settlements.

THE INAUGURATION BALL.—It has finally been settled that the inauguration ball is to take place in the north wing of the Treasury. This is the new addition to the building now nearly finished. It is thought that the rooms will be ready for the ball by the time they are required. One of them, called the "cashier's room," will be, when completed, one of the most elegantly finished rooms or balls, if not the finest, in the country. Its walls are of the richest Italian marble. The height of the ceilling from the floor is thirty feet.

—The Republican caucus held at Wheeling, W. Va., unanimously nominated Gov. Boreman for United States Senator.

THE FINANCES.

Senator SHERMAN has reported, from the Finance Committee of the Senate, two important bills that attract general attention.

One provides, first for legalizing contracts for payment in coin; second, it abolishes the sinking fund, and appropriates annually $140,000,000 out of the revenue from imports to pay interest and principal of the debt; third, it provides that holders of any legal tender notes may convert them into 10-40 five per cent bonds specifically payable, interests and principal, in gold, and exempt from all taxation; fourth, it provides that the Secretary shall issue gold demand notes for circulation to an amount not exceeding the gold in the Treasury; fifth, the Secretary may at his discretion use those gold notes to buy in these 5-20's; sixth, when he pays in 5-20's he shall cancel an equal amount of greenbacks; seventh, the National Banks may issue specie demand notes without limitation by depositing in the usual way $100 in bonds for $60 in specie notes, provided that no bank shall take less than $50,000 of such specie notes.

The second is a bill to amend the National Bank Act. This provides first that national banks shall make reports whenever called upon by the Comptroller to do so, which shall be at least four times a year; secondly that no national bank shall hold deposits for more than ninety per cent. of the bonds it has deposited with the Treasurer, and subjects the bank officers to fine or imprisonment for paying or offering to pay anything to secure government deposits; thirdly, for winding up the banks in ninety days after the stockholders have voted to go into liquidation; fourthly, fixes the compensation of national bank receivers at fifteen hundred dollars, and commissioners according to a graduated scale; fifthly, provides the national banks shall not make loans on United States notes, or circulating notes of any other bank as collaterals.

HEALTH OF THE HON. M. B. LOWRY.

The Hon. M. B. Lowry, Senator from the Crawford and Erie district, (says the Harrisburg Telegraph) was slightly affected with paralysis Monday afternoon while at dinner at his boarding house. The one side of his body, and particularly the leg and arm, were considerably paralyzed yesterday, but we are glad to learn from one of his attending physicians, that he is able to use his leg again, and is otherwise considerably improved. It will, however, require some day's patient rest before he can partially attend to his duties. The absence of Mr. Lowry from the Senate will be severely felt by his constituents, whose interest he is always watching, and we hope that his health may soon permit him to occupy his seat in that body.

TENURE OF OFFICE ACT.—In the United States Senate, on Monday, Mr. Edmunds, Chairman of the Retrenchment Committee, reported Senate bill amending the Tenure of Office act, with a motion that it be indefinitely postponed; and also House bill repealing the act, with amendment authorizing the President to remove a Cabinet officer as his pleasure during the recess of Congress, and to suspend any officer during the recess in his discretion, without assigning any specific reason therefor. The committee consists of Messrs. Edmunds, Patterson, of New Hampshire, Williams and Buckalew. It is understood that the three former Senators favor modification rather than repeal, while the latter is in favor of repeal. The modifications recommended will probably be adopted by the Senate and accepted by the House.

TROUBLE AMONG THE DEMOCRATS.—Our Democratic friends seem to have considerable trouble about finding a candidate for Governor. Heister Clymer, who was so badly worsted by Governor Geary in the last campaign, declines the honor of running against the Governor a second time, most peremptorily. Asa Packer writes that he has no ambition of being a candidate, yet, if it is necessary that he should again be sacrificed as he was in New York, when he was presented by the Pennsylvania delegation, as their candidate for Vice President, he must submit. Gen. M'Candless and Gen. Cass seem to be the only gentlemen prominently pressed by their friends. It makes, however, little difference to the Republicans whom the Democrats present, Geary will beat any one brought forward.

☞ The New-England Labor Reform League just established in Boston means to employ lecturers, tracts, journals, the pulpit and the ballot in their cause. The memorial of the League, drawn up by Mr. E. M. Davis, of Philadelphia, declares that paper money is better suited to the wants of the age than gold or silver, and that gold bullion or gold dust may be transferred to foreigners in payment instead of coin stamped at great expense in a mint. It also claims that the necessity which brought in greenbacks brought out old benefits to the cause of labor, and that the country produced, in the last seven years, more wealth than it had ever realized before in the same space of time. What will the bullionists and the copperheads say to all this? Of course, the circumstance that most of the assertions put forth by the "League" are neither based on facts or history, will materially affect their value in minds of some people.

—A Louisville dispatch says there is no truth in the report that Jay Gould has obtained control of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and that the gauge will be changed.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 1st, 1869.

The Joint Resolution, presented some weeks since by Mr. Boutwell of Mass., proposing an amendment of the Constitution in reference to the right of suffrage, was passed by the House of Representatives on Saturday, 30th ult., by a vote of 150 to 43. It provides that "the right of any citizen of the United States to vote, shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or any State, by reason of race, color or previous condition of slavery of any citizen or class of citizens of the United States.

A similar proposition has been pending in the Senate, for some weeks, and the subject has been thoroughly discussed, and therefore Senators will be prepared to vote without much delay upon the House Resolution, and the Senate will no doubt pass it before the close of the present Congress. It will then require the ratification of three-fourths of the State Legislatures to constitute it a part of the organic law.

The civil service bill, of Mr. Jenckes, was under consideration in Committee of the whole on Saturday, but it does not meet with much favor. It cannot pass this session.

The strong minded women are here in force, pressing Congress to extend the right of suffrage to women; but the proposition does not seem to be favorably received. Congress evidently is not inclined to give the charming creatures the right to sing bass.

Nothing has transpired that indicates with any degree of certainty, who are to compose the new Cabinet. There is more reason for believing that Hon. James F. Wilson of Iowa, now a member of the House, but who retires at the close of the present session, will be offered the post of Attorney General, than most of the speculations as to the Cabinet of General Grant.

Senator Wilson's bill for "the reduction of the military forces" passed the Senate on Friday last.

A joint resolution relative to taking the census of 1870, was also passed by the Senate on the same day.

The House is dealing with another contumacious witness, and the democratic party may be furnished another martyr to republican tyranny. A Mr. Henry Johnson of New York, refuses to obey the summons of the select committee to investigate the election frauds in New York city.

A Resolution was passed on Friday last, requiring the Sergeant-at-Aarms to bring him before the House for contempt.

The Senate committee on pensions has reported in favor of granting a pension to Mrs. Lincoln, from the death of her husband. The amount of pension is not stated.

From present indications, one of the last acts of Andrew Johnson as President, will be the Pardon of Dr. Mudd, and Spangler, sentenced to confinement at the Dry Tortugas, for conspiring to murder Abraham Lincoln.

A majority of Senators in caucus, have decided to confirm no more of Andrew Johnson's appointments, but leave the places to be filled under the incoming administration.

The credentials of Hon. John Scott, Senator elect from Pennsylvania, were presented in the Senate on Thursday last.

The Senate committee on Indian Affairs, report adversely on the House Bill transferring the Indian Bureau to the War Department, and have reported favorably on the Senate Bill, making the Indian Bureau a separate department. COM.

PENNSYLVANIA IN THE CABINET.

The Pittsburgh Gazette says that "the friends of Governor CURTIN are working hard to secure for him the appointment as Secretary of Interior under President GRANT. Prominent in this movement are FORNEY, McCLURE, MANN, and other gentlemen who are skilled in political strategy, and know how to turn the public services and unquestioned popularity of their favorite to the best account.

On the other hand, the friends of Mr. J. D. CAMERON are earnestly endeavoring to have him made Secretary of the Treasury Department. He has demonstrated surprising executive and financial abilities, especially for so young a man. The new Senator from this State, made such largely through his influence and management, is warmly enlisted, as a matter of course, in his favor, and the utmost his father can do will be done to promote his elevation. With the two Senators from Pennsylvania, it is stated, eight or ten others are acting in this matter.

It will be seen, consequently, that the contest is an exciting one, and likely to draw into it all the elements composing the Republican party of this Commonwealth."

AFFAIRS IN ARKANSAS.—General R. B. Ayers, who was appointed to investigate the state of affairs in Arkansas, has submitted his report to Brigadier General Thos. H. Neill, of the Department of Louisiana, and the report has been forwarded to the adjutant general. General Ayers confirms the statements made by General Porter, of General Grant's staff, as to affairs in Arkansas, and characterizes the stories about the outrages committed by the militia as exaggerated, and, many instances, pure fabrications. The report concludes: "As fast as the civil authority is established, the militia forces are disbanded; and it is confidently believed that the civil law can be enforced in the future by officers thereof, and resort to the military power not to be again necessary."

☞ The Cuban insurgents have envoys to Washington, asking our government to recognize them as belligerents, and our people to furnish them with arms and munitions of war; and it is stated that there are many members of Congress who favor the granting of these requests. These same Congressmen, we have no doubt, are bitterly hostile to Great Britain because she recognized the beligerency of the Confederate States, and because her Lairds supplied the confederates with Alabamas, as well they may be; but they should not allow this hatred to induce them to commit the same blunder towards Spain that Great Britain did towards this country, when she acknowledged the bellegerant rights of the Confederacy. It is as good a doctrine for nations as for individuals, that what you would have others do unto you, do you even so unto them.

—Six hundred live quails were shipped from Dubuque, Iowa, to Massachusetts recently.

News of the Week

—A passenger train on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad was thrown from the track between and Jacksonville about twenty five from a few days past. Twenty-two, principally from Texas were killed and only one person, the mail agent, was seriously injured. The accident was caused by the removal of a rail by some scoundrels who, evidently, intended to plunder the train.—The engineer escaped by leaping from his cab.

—A young lady was found insane wandering about the woods of Vigo County, Ind., about ten days ago, and as she was unable to tell who she was or where she belonged, was taken to the Poor-house. In the pocket of her dress was found a pocket-book containing a good sum of money and a check for $400 drawn on an Oswego, N. Y., bank, and also a railroad check. She has since, however, recovered and explained away the mystery that surrounded, her.—She says that her name is Parmelia Robinson, and that she lives in Oswego, N. Y., with her parents, who are wealthy. She left them to visit a sister at Rockville, Parke County, but on the way became insane, and at Terre Haute took to the woods. Her trunk has been found at Terre Haute.

—Hon. D. D. Pratt, the new United States Senator from Indiana, tendered his resignation as State Senator to Gov. Baker on Wednesday, and received, at the same time, his certificate of election to the Senate of the United States. Writs for an election to be held on Saturday, the 20th of February, to fill the vacancy caused by his resignation, have been issued.

—One prominent citizen of Lansing, Iowa, was murdered by another on Monday last. The murdered man was named Frederick May, and the murderer Charles May—his cousin. The two had been engaged in a dispute about a load of wheat offered for sale by a farmer. Bitter words and threats passed between them, when Charles May withdrew to a store near by, and, returning with a revolver, shot and instantly killed the other while he was on the wagon examining the wheat. The murderer was immediately arrested and lodged in jail.

—It is reported that President Johnson has decided to pardon Dr. Mudd, and that he will soon issue the necessary papers. The Maryland Conservative members of Congress, in their petition for the pardon and release of the prisoner, argue that, as the Supreme Court decided in the Milligan case that trials by military commission are unconstitutional, he, having been tried by such a commission, should not be held to the fulfillment of his sentence.

—Advices from South America indicate that the Paraguayan army was not so badly defeated in the recent battles as was reported. Lopez, with his remaining force, still occupies the stronghold of Angostura and presents a defiant front to the Allies. The loss by the burning of the Custom-house at Rio Janeiro was greatly overestimated.

—Several persons have been arrested in Rochester, N. Y., charged with an attempt to defraud a life insurance company. One of them, named Allen, had his life insured for $5,000 in July last, and shortly afterward assigned the policy to a man named Garlock, a lawyer. On Thanksgiving day Allen was reported to have been drowned while fishing. Two men made affidavits that they saw him fall from a boat and drown. Suspicion being aroused, all the parties have been arrested, including Allen, who confessed that he was not drowned, notwithstanding the testimony of his friends.

—It has just been decided in the Court of Common Pleas in Toledo, Ohio, that the internal revenue tax levied by the Government on a piece of machinery is not legally a subject of specific charge by the manufacturer against the party for whom the machinery is made, unless special agreement is made.

—The full force of Colt's Armory at Hartford is now engaged on the contract to furnish the Russian Government with thirty thousand Berdan rifles, and upon the one hundred Gating guns ordered. The armory is to be enlarged.

—The Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church has appointed Tuesday next, Feb. 9, for the consecration of Rev. Dr. William Croswell Doane as Bishop of the Diocese of Albany. Right Rev. Dr. Potter, Bishop of New-York, will be the Consecrator, and the Right Reverend the Bishop of New-Jersey is named as Preacher. The Bishop elect will be presented by the Bishop of Rhode Island and the Bishop of Maine.

—The Connecticut State Democratic Convention assembled at Hartford, Wednesday. All parts of the State were represented. Hon. J. C. Loomis was elected President. After a little debate the Convention renominated unanimously the entire ticket of last year, with Gov. English at its head. A resolution in honor of the late Gov. Thomas H. Seymour was passed, the members rising and standing in silence.

—Judge H. S. Wallbridge, of Ithaca, N. Y., who was supposed to have been waiting at the Erie tunnel to get on the 8:10 train from Newark for New-York, was struck by an engine attached to a train from New-York on the Erie Railroad, and thrown against a train on the Morris and Essex Railroad. He was injured so much that he died soon after. He was a brother of Gen. Hiram Wallbridge, of New York.

—Mr. George Williams, Collector of Taxes for Genesco, was attacked near the village on Friday night by two highwaymen, brutally beaten, bound hand and foot, robbed of $626 in greenbacks and thrown by the roadside insensible. When he returned to consciousness he managed to free his feet from the shackles, and walked to Genesco with his hands bound, and gave an alarm. The townspeople turned out and scoured the country round, but, at last accounts, had not found the criminals. Mr. Williams at the time of the attack was returning to his home about two miles from the village, on the Cuylerville road. He had been to town to deposit the money in the Genesco Valley Railroad Bank, but was unable to do so, as the bank was closed.
