THE SILVER COLLAR The Dugoine Brothers, as they were called, were small farmers, residing about forty miles west of Montreal. The father, at the time of his death, had left each of his sons a small farm of eighty acres in the lit-tle village of Grand Pre. Francis Dugoine, the elder, though deficient in the perseverance and industry which characterized the younside. "Give him a button—that'll settle his hash." ger, was nevertheless, to all appearances, more successful and prosperons than the other. It was a wonder to all how Francis Dugoine, idle and prodigal in his habits, could have more money and make a better show in the world than his brother Paul, who toiled early and late and was al- sition near the outer door. Oh, what TAYLOR'S ELECTRIC OIL! This oil has proven itself a medicine unsurpassed in the cure of Rhommatic lameness of any kind requiring an outward application. We defy the medical world to bring a material better adapted to the alleviation of pain and lameness in Man or Beast than, is this medicine. It works upon the same principle as its nearest kin—Electricity; and although, like all of our best medicines, it sometimes fails, yet the cases of failure are very rare, and, are always complicated ones. It works like magic upon burns, frost-bites, sting of been, and all external poisons. Every family should have it in cases of fresh cuts, bruises or sprains. It will not smart like most medicines when applied to a new sore. It is no quack preparation, but is composed of nine of the best materials known to meteria medica, compounded upon scientific principles. As a horse medicine it is taking the lead of anything in the market. Buy it and try it. If you do not like it, return it and receive your money back.
