These young men have set an exam le which some of our older capitalists might profitably or quite all have immediately united with the follow. By combining their capital, they are enabled to conduct a business requiring the services of seventy-five to one hundred men, and necessitating the expenditure for labor sions of Alternhundred to two thousand dollars per week. This money is in turn paid ever to the merchants and business men, who are thus encouraged to locate here. Thus, these three young men, who could accumulate riches quite as rapidly by loaning their money, are doing more for the real prosperity and permanent growth of our town, than a score of Shylocks demand such exorbitant rates of interest that those who would use it for the benefit of their fellows, cannot afford to take it. There are men in every community who have accumulated fortunes by taking advantage of the necessi ties of business men, and yet who cannot be induced to invest in any enterprise calculated to promote the interests of their town, even 'tho', there is a certainty that they can reap as much profit as by putting their money out at a large percentage. While we have some such men we are proud to state that a large proportion of our men of even limited means, are enterprising and unselfish. Were this not the case, we should not to-day occupy the enviable posi-tion we do in thiness circles. But if we are to continue to increase as we have during the 18. H. L. Mr. P. is thus left in made to establish glass works, and a number the middle of winter, without hay or grain, and of experienced operators have volunteered to furnish half the capital, provided the other half can be raised here. On examining the subscription books, we observe that the very men who have already invested in manufactories, are the ones who are encouraging this new branch of industry.

The three establishments referred to above if put in successful operation, would add to the population of our town within the next two years, one thousand, and increase the business million of collars annually.

We shall refer to this subject again, when we shall take pains to point out some of the men who nave been most prominent in building inp Towards, and to whom should be accorded the praise of our prosperity.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

lence of mankind and become household words so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as ATER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of maryellous cures, which have won for it a other medicine. It still makes the most aston shing and effectual cures of Coughs, Calds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects. which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet make room for new stock,
