[For the Reconten.] LETTER FROM BOSTON. Boston, July 22, 1872. Ma. Epiron : Boston has had its iubilee, and it is now a thing of the past and can be read of in history. This is a subject of which Boston can well be proud—not the jubilee, but the fact that it only lives in history. Financially, it was not a success as anticipated, and the committee feel ly made friends, and electors, the rather sore, particularly when they put their hands in their pockets and find a copy of the guaranty fund as printed, with their names thereon affixed. Boston is to-day full of beggars. The committee above mentioned are begging for more time and not. The reduction of salaries and more money, while the populace in perquisites so that offices will not be general are begging for more air, so eagerly sought after, is their remmore rain, more ice, and more everything that is cool and to be had with Whether this or that man, or this or little effort, except flies. Having been about two months in the Eastern States and New York natural home. recently, I am prepared to give my opinion that the New England electoral vote will be as formerly, unanimously for the Republican nominees. New Hampshire and Connecticut were the only really doubtful States. The nomination of Henry Wilson, will add much to Grant's strength; Mr. Wilson being a man of great popularity and influence, and of un-doubted integrity. His attaching himself to the fortunes of Gen. Grant

shows his estimate of the strength of

In Massachusetts, I impression is pretty general that, if not wrong in the outset he has become already at foult at the last because the last bea come already at fault at present. Has Greeley captured the Democracy? or have they captured him? Did Jonah swallow the whale? or putting a flower, but she has put one did the whale swallow Jonah? These conundrums are agitating the public mind somewhat. Either way, it is our history has to show. For men so utterly and so long opposed on principles, to drop those principles and rush into each other's arms for the sake of the spoils, show a most desperate love of office on both sides. The main difference of principlesaccepting their platform as sincerebetween the Republicans and Democrats is on the Ku-klux question. track. He now argues with the Nullifiers of Jackson's day, and with the texture. Ireland ought to be called sovereign in all domestic affairs, and that the Nation has no right to interfere with any violation of common or statute laws. They would thereshould like to live in a community fore allow the Ku-klux-klans to renew their devilish schemes, and if the Rebels in power in the States ironed table-cloth—which is neatly did nothing to protect the Unionists, folded after every meal, will look the latter must suffer hopelessly, for Congress cannot protect them. This is the old States rights scheme newly applied—the old heresy on which they began the war, endorsed by H. G.—the very manner in which the Rebels might begin to resurrect slavery as they did when encouraged by Andrew Johnson's treason—the very way in which the Rebellion could be again commenced. To stop Rebellion, H. Every State under Democratic control has shown a greatly increased rate of expenditures-Ohio one year, New York two years, our State Senate one year, are specimens of this tendency. And then to remember that Tweed and all the Tammany rogues are in the Greeley movement, and men of their stamp everywhere - is enough to command the vote of every man, Republican or Democrat for the man who did not ask the Presidency-U.

---BEAUTIFUL IRELAND. We know, of course, that Ireland is called the "Emerald Islo," and the color of the emerald is green : but never had it entered into our imagination that there was anywhered in the world to be seen such verdure as it charmed our eyes to look upon in not a spot in Ireland, I believe, where blessed nature can find an excuse for -not only in the gardens and in the meadows, but upon the very walls and the crags of the sea, from the the most shameless political coalition great rhododendrons down to the smallest flower that modestly peeps forth from its grassy cover. Irish furze so richly yellow, covers all places that might otherwise be bare or barren; the silk worm delights everywhere, from thousands of trees, to draw its web of gold; the blooming hawthorn, with the sweet-seented pink, and especially the white variety, adorns the landscape and garden; wall flowers of every hue and variety clamber to hide the harshed and softened with lovely flowers: Government fails to do so. Up to and if you kneel anywhere, almost, within six months, Mr. Greeley was on the yielding velvet carpet, you the most strenuous advocate of this will find little, well nigh invisible principle. He now takes the back flowerets—red, white, blue and yellow-wrought into the very woof and the Beautiful Isle. The spirit of the
