There was a large attendance of teachers from all parts of the county and from Northern Pennsylvania. There was no failure in the programme. All to whom duties had been assigned, entered heartily into the work. The papers were good, practical productions, and the discussions were lively and interesting. Among the visitors was Professor PITCHER, of the Towards high school, who took an active part in the discussions and added much to their interest. Extremes of woman's taste and skill are to state for the encouragement of farmers of the county, what one of their neighbor farmers is doing. I refer to W. A. Wood, of Smithfield. who has a farm of 100 acres of cleared land. Besides his farm, horses, cows and other stock, he has 24 head of very fat cattle, ready for markets for which he expects to get 61 cents live weight, which will amount to something like $2,000 for the lot. He is now feeding them but three pounds of meal each per day, but during the winter, fed them six pounds. I estimate that he has fed them all from $400 to $500 worth of grain during the nine or ten months that they have been fattening, and a finer lot of steers and heafers you will hardly find anywhere. Farmers can make their own figures Tompkin's County Wheel Rake. as to profits on such a lot of cattle, but will no ey. No. 3 Mercur's Block, Towards. Through the courtesy of Mr PEET, our popular nurseryman, we were shown he other day some of the frees which he has planted in different yards in this place. We could ot svoid noticing the great difference overywhere apparent in the condition of his trees and those brought here from abroad. Out of the hundreds which he has set out during the past two seasons, scarcely one has died, while the live, growing ones among those purchased from foreign-agents, are the exception. In a beautiful yard at the upper end of town, we noticed that a large majority of the expensive trees put out last Spring were dead, and the palance maintained only a sickly existence. Mr. PEET's trees were all thrifty and vigorous. An mend he can have. We cordially commend him to the patronage of the people of this county, as a reliable and worthy gentleman.
