This put a stop Bulletin thus describes the scene at the Herdic "When the praying band arrived opposite the Herdie House, the gate leading to the yard was thrown back, the ladies passed through, aud marching directly to the house, the doors were epened, and soon the long hall was filled with earnest women, who immediately engaged in singing, the corridors resounding with ga-cred melody.

liquor traffic may be lessened, if not wholly swept from our midst? Should we, living in a " local option " county permit the temperance question to go by un heeded, when saloons are multiplying and drunken men walking our streets? Should w remain idle when the temperance people of the country are making such a desperate effort to get rid of the monster-intemperance? These are questions which should be answer ed and acted upon. I do not wish to be understood to imply that the "women's crusade" is the thing for Towan da, or the only way in which the liquor traffic can be suppressed, and the temperance caus promoted. But some steps should be taken to root out this evil, and by so doing better so ciety, lessen misery, and increase happiness.

A MUSICAL REVIVAL.-The principal interest with us during the week past has been the musical convention. For a rural di trict we have a considerable amount of musica talent lying around loose, partly in the rough, and for some time past no particular effort has been made to burnish it up, and utilize it. The bare announcement of a free concert was sufficient to draw a full house. On Monday even-Ig last the people were out in full force to listen to a concert at the M. E. Church, by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, of your place. They proposed to organize a class for a musical drilland stay through the week, the people seemed to have made up their minds differently-had other arrengements in view. But the very gentlemanly bearing of Mr. W. soon made an impression in his favor, and Mrs. W. fairly stole James Foster to Thomas Clancy, North Toa march on the hearts of the andience by her sweet song, and at the close some thirty gave John F. Ovenshire to Chas. L. Anthony, Athin their names as scholars. And notwithstanding that the measles were abroad in the land Marinda Ingham to Chas. H. Ingham, Wyaand the roads in a horrible condition, there was a fair attendance, considering that we are H. L.
