JAY COOKE & CO. In my letter of June 27th last, said that the 7 per cent. dividend de clared by the tru-tee in the bank ruptcy case of Jay tooke & Co. would be paid hereafter; that is, it will be paid here n Philadelphia after many legal coestions have been disposed of. I has not yet been paid and at the meeting of creditors, held December 1st, that dividend was re

A Report, of 60 pages, pamphle form, was submitted at this meeting which compressed, simply shows the the indebtedness of the firm is $10 804.848. The available assets, in eluding cash in hand, may be se down at half a million dollars. The claims against individual members of the firm amount to $2,000,000, which under the bankrupt act, the individ ual assets must be applied to the payment of debts due by these individuals before they can be applied to the layment of the partnership debis The cash in hand that can be applied to a payment of dividend to general creditors, amounts to $491,915.04 and for the payment of individua debts of the members of the firm, is $231,018.05. Just when a dividenwill be paid is a conundrum I give up, and yet it is due to Jay Cooke to say that he is not responsible at al for this delay. Everything long ago passed from his hands to the Trus

Col. John W. Forney having re voked the sale of the Press to Col. A. K. M'Clure, it is now probable that the Age, a Democratic daily. will be purchased by M'Clure. The Age is a member of the Associated Press, has a fair share of advertis ing, and its circulation is not much behind that of the Press. It is said that M'Clure's financial backers are Major John O. James, of the firm of James, Kent, Santee & Co., and City Treasurer Widener. It would be dif ficult to find more reliable or more capable business men. That Philadelphia presents a rich field for first-class newspaper, is evidenced by the fact that Chicago has three daily papers-Tribune, Times, and Inter-Ocean each as large as the New York Tribune, and scarcely lesnational in their influence, while this city has no daily as large as the Tri-

MR. EDITOR: Allow me, through he medium of your worthy paper, to say a few fords in behalf of the Grange movement in eneral, but more particularly of the Grange at HENDLEMAN'S. a North Towanda. Speaking in a general way, he Grange is an organization composed for at ast should be of farmers, or men adually ougaged in agricultural pursuits, and the aim and object of the organization should be the mutual protection and elevation, educationally, morally and socially, of all its members. All ther trades and professions have their organiations and unions for the purpose of protecion and mutual benefit, and I claim, as branger, the same rights for that particular rganization: that they should have their reckly or semi-weekly meetings, and should Mrs. J. D. Hillis, Bridge-st. or the good of the order resolve themselves in a farmers' club, if you please, and discus ne various modes of preparing the soil and o rop growing,—the harvesting and marketing t the products of the farm, and stock raising and carrying on the dairy business successfully to reasonable man, or set of mon, can doub nat this would be beneficial. That the order f the Patrons of Husbandry should be used as au engine of power to oppress any class of men r to exact exorbiant prices for their products ir, that there should be any combination mong them to drive prices up and thereby re ard the growth and general prosperity of the ountry, I do not believe, and, as a member 6 that order, do not desire. I believe that all le rilmate trades and professions should be en conraged, and, through their organizations should be heard and respected. No reasonable man doubts the oppressions of large and wealthy corporations or monopolics, and I fine no fault with organizations designed to counteract in a measure their encroachments. they keep within the pale of the law. READ THIS !-At no previous time have I been able to getthe prices down so low se under the present system of close celculatng and selling for cash, with only one price. Desiring to reach a certain point in my Decmper trade, I have marked my stock at such ow figures that people must wonder how I can t. A little mite on everything counts up a o it. The fact is, I am willing when selling such large quantities to take quite a small profne end of the day. Another fact is, I am for unate in using cash for my purchaser. 2 Be ades, I do not lose my money when I sell for ash, and my only one-price plan makes it neessary for me to underself-everybody else. It could be absurd for me to allow poor goods to 20 out of my store, when I am aiming for a arge increase in my business, and guarantee o give satisfaction and fair dealing. I have out one way to do business with everybody one price to one and all. Now, when clothing is so cheap it is the time to purchase. When von visit Towanda, call in and look at my stock and get my prices before you purchase. ALEX. SOLOMON, One-Price Clothier, 123 Maintreet, Towanda, Pa.

Dec. 2, 1874 Something Grand. - The underigned calls attention to several new things in tentistry, as follows:

First: A new style of plate for ARTIFICIAL TEETH, perfect in all respects. 1st. It has the olor of the mucous membrane, resembling ne lips and gums so closely as to dety detection. no. 2d. It is absolutely pure and wholesome.
d. It is very light as well as strong, so that ne plates can be made thin, avoiding a mouth full of clumsiness. There is positively no disount on this plate in any direction. Hundreds I them are now in use among the le people of this town and county, and all call hem "GRAND." nem GRAND.

Second: We have the means of attaching suckers or suction cavities to lower sets of eath, which holds the plate firm on the jaw, preventing any movement of the plate in man-icating, or accumulating of food under it. Bil-ticult cases completely managed.

Third: The liquid introus oxide gas—a new orm of anaesthetic, which is perfectly safe and cliable, in all respects. Renders tooth-extract-ng a delight, instead of a dreadful operation. Fourth: All manner of dental operation tone in the most artistic manner, at M. D. L. Dobaox's dental rooms, in Dr. Pratt's new office onliding. State street, below Main, Towands.
