THE Republicans elected their entire ticket at Litchfield, at the recent township election. Capt. S. D. Bannum was chosen Justice of the Peace.

DANFORD CHAFFEE will deliver his lecture, entitled "The Seven Wonders of the World," in the Baptist Church, on Tuesday evening next.

WE LEARN that the Ladies' Benevolent Association has received and responded to more calls the past month, than at any time during the same period since its organization.

A donation party will be given for the benefit of Rev. G. W. CHANDLER, of Towands M. E. Church, at the house of Wm. N. Fos-TER, North Towards, Wednesday evening March 3, 1875.

Mrs. George Northbup died very suddenly in this place on Tuesday evening. She was apparently in her usual health, and had performed her usual household duties after tea, and while amusing a neighbor's little child, enddenly turned to her husband and requested him to call a physician. Before the doctor arrived she was dead. It is supposed that disease of the heart caused her sudden demise.

We reen that an apology is due ourselves as well as the reader, for the very shabby appearance of the REPORTER for the last two weeks. Old type, poor rollers, and cold weather were the causes. The defect is partially remedied this week, and we hope in the course of a month to present the REPORTER in an entirely new dress.

When routine business does not occupy all the time of the sessions of Oscaluwa Grange, of North Towards, literary exercises are introduced, and thus the most important object of the organization, mental and social culture, is made a p: ominent feature. At the meeting en Friday evening last Mrs. Concurr, aged seventy years, read the following eggay. Many of our school teachers will find in it much food for reflection, and it will be read by all with interest and profit;

EDUCATION. It is with no small degree of diffidence that we appear as essayist at the present time, yet ever hoping to be found with our lights trimmed and burning, and with ready hand and willing heart, do what the Master, above and below, assigns us, we ere attempt it. But we can but remer him of whom Pope speaks, who

Eight lines a year."

Now as ever in life, sad and happy thoughts are ringled, as we sit down to pen these few lines. Yesterday, as it were, a merry school girl to-day the hand of Father Time falls heavily on our head. The recording angel sits writing the last pages of our life and sealing them for eternity. We can say but few words, but we feel there can be no subject of more commen interest to the community or brotherhood, than that which we have chosen. Every boy ought to improve on his father; every girl grow of more common interest to the community or brotherhood, than that which we have chosen. Every to yought to improve on his father; every girl grow into a nobler, gentler, more self-denying woman-hood than her mother. Man, in the development of his physical, mental and moral powers, is wholly dependent upon education, and parents are to telf-children fortune, fate and destiny. It should be remembered that their influence is for good or ill; that it must result in promoting the happiness or misery of those who are subject to its action. That they are deciding the character of their children, determining their fortune, spinning the threads of fate, planning their fortune, spinning the hards of their children, determining their fortune, spinning the hards of fate, planning their fortune, spinning the hards of their children, determining the streeting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields its resting place at the bidding of the arm that wields on the 23th Christmas day, the same died and was buried.
