LETTERS FROM THE PROPIE PINIS.

We feel very grateful to friend "Vin dex" for his kind and complimentary words in regard to our wisdom as a Republican and ability as a writer; but in the United States, except Win. M. Evarts, Beecher's great lawyer. What gives us far greater pleasure than his compliments, is his unmistakable devotion to the principles of the Republican party, which lie at the foundation of pers liberty and free government. We can love such persons though we may differ from them in regard to the best methods of securing the common objects we have in view: of promoting the welfare of our party, our country, and our fellow-men. With the exception of an interesting essay on the history of Greece, the only points he makes are the following: 1st. That the Delegate system is antirepublican, because a few Republican vo ters in Alba or Barclay have precisely the same power in the Convention as much larger number residing in Canton or Pike. The point is well taken, and in case Canton, Pike, and the other large districts should insist on having more representation, we presume that Alba and delegates but such men as those delegates Barclay would not dispute the justice of for the people want. Father Abraham seems to think it very lican voters should count as much a Canton with her 167 Republican voters. Are we to select officers to do the business of a party only, or do these officers do the business for the whole people? Now suppose Alba borough poils 500 votes, and out of that 500 she gives 36 Republican the Northern people of their bitterest votes, and Canton township polls 300 votes, and out of that 300 she gives 167 Republican votes, is not a good selection and is as wicked as it is stupid and of officers of as much consequence to the absurd. As between the Union and 36 Republicans in Alba, as to the 167 in Confederate soldiers there is still. Canton? Then by what good reason shall they not have an eagual voice in selecting these officers? Let the primary meetings be fairly advertised and the voters come together and choose out of their number good men for delegates; let such delegates come together from all parts of the county in convention and select good, capable men to fill the offices, not from the men who want the offices and are going about the county to secure to their interest the such a nomination, every Republican should come to the polls and vote out of We presume those large districts are will- principle, for he had a fair voice in mak- abolishes all distinctions between sonably supposed that the voters of the hereafter; that, while we forgive the enemies of the republic, we believe there can be no true reconstruction or reconcilliation that is not founded upon the unity of the Nation coul justice, equal security to all, full toleration of race and opinion. Until these things shall come to pass the Republican party cannot ground its arms, nor can it be said that its mission hás been performed. It is enough that we have fully and freely forgiven those who waged the rebellion and drenched the land with fraternal blood, and when we are asked to ignore the Union soldier, to refuse to recount his services for fear of wounding rebel susceptibilities, to reduce foes and oppressors, it is too much Confederate soldiers there is still, and should ever be, a great choice. The proposition continually ugged upon the people of the North by the Democratic party is, that to be reconciled to the people of the South vou must treat the Union and Confederate soldiers as being equally honest, equally patiotic, each fighting for what he believed to be right, treat them with equal consideration, make no preferences or distinctions in rewards or honors. This proposition right and wrong, loyalty and treason, between fighting for freedom and slavery, between civilization and barbarism and while affecting impartialbeing constructed at Harrisburg for get out their voters at elections, and in that purpose. We also see it stated the district they are never able to elect them select the best. I can see nothing liberty and humanity.

HERE is a little analysis that is quite suggestive, as it is a matter of daily record in the Pittsburg Evening Tel-
