Centennial boasts of a big man, named McCormick, a native of Ireland, who is six feet six inches tall and weighs 280 pounds.
It is denied that the Mineral Railroad and Mining Company intend to sell their claims to the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company.
Dogs are now taught to carry trains across the street. What will teach the dogs to keep their trains out of the street?
The swinging-saloon steamer that was to do away with sea-sickness on the English Channel is to be broken up for the materials in her.
The grand naval review at Port Royal, South Carolina, will begin about the first of October, and is expected to continue about six weeks.
The States of Antioquia and Tolima are in open rebellion against the Colombian Government, and affairs in Cauca are not improving.
Pastor Milten, an eminent Swedish historian and novelist, died recently. His works in the departments of literature are very popular.
Alexander Campbell has been sentenced to the gallows for the murder of the minister John P. Jones, at Lanston, in September, 1873.
Wm. L. Hirst, an eminent lawyer of Philadelphia, died at Bedford Springs, Wednesday evening, of typhoid pneumonia, at the age of 70.
The Indian war is likely to be long and tedious, as the Indians have separated into small bands, each of which will be hunted down.
Mrs. Pauline Wright Davis, a well-known advocate of universal education and independence, died at Providence, Rhode Island, a few days ago.
The White Cross line steamer C. F. Funcks, from New York August 10, has been destroyed by fire off the English coast. No lives lost.
The insurrection in San Domingo has not yet been quelled. Several ports are under blockade, and the city of San Domingo is still besieged.
The nineteenth session of the International Statistical Congress opened Friday morning at Feuchtwangen, Prussia. The United States was not represented.
Long Branch hotels have been greatly benefited this year by their neighbor at Feuchtwangen, the Centennial Exhibition, and will keep open till October 1.
Explosions of farm steamer machinery are now becoming somewhat common. A steam thrasher killed three men and wounded six the other day in Minnesota.
Mr. George Q. Richmond, the first Democratic candidate for Attorney-General of Colorado, is now Secretary of the Central National Commission for that State.
A woman in Council Bluffs, Iowa, has sold out her husband for a cow, calf and pig, and the man has gone home with the first wife, from whom he had been divorced.
Mr. Henry Geist, of Shamokin, whose son died of cholera, is now being sued by the Reading railroad, for an accident on the Reading railroad, has sued the company, laying damages at $20,000.
The Pittsburgh Presbytery have decided that according to the standards of the United Presbyterian Church members of secret societies cannot be admitted to church fellowship.
A New York police justice requires officers bringing prisoners before him to "stand at parade and state their charges in a tone of voice plainly audible to the prisoner."
A Kavalan steamer extraordinary is to be held off the Irish coast. The steamer is named Vanguard, the toys of whose man only are visible, will be sold to the highest bidder.
The owner of the yacht William B. Fay, "a young merchant," drowned, together with a friend and a sailor who attempted to swim ashore, in Halifax harbor, recalls the Mohawk.
An enthusiastic revival is now going on at Bethlehem, under the direction of Rev. S. A. Taggart, of Philadelphia, and the Y. M. C. A., all the clergymen of the place participating.
The Speaker of the House of Commons had a very ill day, represented by the press reports of his proceedings, so that these will be reported by an official stenographer.
Henry Claussen, a wealthy brewer, sits by the Judge of the "Special Night Court" for hearing the cases of bankrupts and insolvents of the New York Garden and signs bail bonds for them.
The Messenger journal complains that a scene in the Potomac court, represented in an illustrated journal, makes the Messenger and the Mollie attendants appear lambskin-looking than the court and lawyers.
The "substantial" citizens of Carbonate will hold their annual camp-meet at Central Lake, Sept. 25th. Hon. W. W. Ketchum, Hon. J. D. Jones, and J. A. Gro are among the distinguished invited guests.

CAMPAIGN REPORTER.
We will send the CAMPAIGN REPORTER from the 1st of September to 31st of December, for TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.
That tidal wave did not get a good start in the Green Mountain State.
TILDEX makes no reply to the charge of defrauding the Government, and says:
The Evening Post says the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention would have disgraced a ward caucus.
SOUTH CREEK.—A meeting of the Republicans of South Creek will be held on Friday evening. Good speakers will be present.
CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS has accepted the Democratic nomination for Governor in Massachusetts. A nominal honor.
The people of Vermont have passed judgment on the charges against TILDEX, in connection with defrauding the Government.
JOHN F. CHAMBERLIN, we are confidently informed, declines to allow the use of his name as a candidate for Senator. He is in favor of W. T. DAVIES.
The New York Democracy are without a gubernatorial candidate. It is just as well, however, as the dye is cast in favor of Gov. Morgan and HAYES & WHEELER.
COL. OVERTON and Hon. E. R. MYER will address the Republicans of Liberty Corners on Monday evening next, at the school house. After the speeches a HAYES and WHEELER Club will be organized.
The Democrats of New York last week met in convention and nominated HORATIO SEYMOUR for Governor, although it was known to the officers of the convention that he had peremptorily declined to accept the position.
Hon. E. R. MYER and Col. OVERTON addressed a meeting in Litchfield on Saturday last. In every section of the county the work goes forward, and Bradford will show reform in the right direction by giving her usual majority this fall.
ARKANSAS has gone Democratic by about 50,000 majority. Why should it not? Had the Republicans of Vermont employed the same means of keeping Democrats from the polls that the Democrats did Republicans in Arkansas, the majority could easily have been doubled.
THE meeting at Weston's on Saturday last, proved a very pleasant affair. A fine pole was raised, and beautiful flag unfurled to the mountain breeze, after which stirring addresses were made by Col. OVERTON, W. T. DAVIES, J. McFERRON and R. A. MERCUR. The people of old Monroe are alive, and will give a good account of themselves in November.
In the contest for the Congressional nomination in Wayne county, C. C. JADWIN, an energetic, intelligent merchant, was successful. The Conference will be held in this place on Tuesday next. Each county has a candidate. Bradford is the largest county in the district, and presents a man admitted to be the peer of any who has ever held the position from this district, and confidently expects that her claims will be accepted by her sister counties. With Col. OVERTON as our candidate, the Democrats will have but a form home.
The Argus last week paraded before its readers, with usual brazen brazenface, the fact that a young Democrat aided the Republicans of Wyoming in removing the guypoles from their pole after it was in position, and that the act was not acknowledged in any manner by the Republicans. The truth is he was greeted with the warmest applause, the speaker pausing to allow the band to serenade the young man. The conduct, as reported in the Argus, is not in keeping with the reputation of Republican audiences anywhere, and especially of Wyoming.

THE BALL IN MOTION
The Campaign Opened.
LARGE AND ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING.
The Court House was crowded to overflowing on Monday evening last, in pursuance of a call for a Republican meeting. G. M. BIXBY, of Wyoming, was called to the chair, and J. HOLCOMB, S. W. ALVORD and D. M. TURNER elected Secretaries. Mr. BIXBY made a few appropriate remarks on taking the chair, which were loudly applauded. At the conclusion of the President's address, Hon. GEO. LANDON was introduced. It has been a long time since Mr. L. has stood before a Republican caucus in this place, but his successful hunt for reform outside of the party seems only to have increased his devotion to the principles of his early life. For nearly two hours he held the vast multitude spellbound by his eloquence and his masterly arraignment of the Democratic party for its false pretenses and open corruption. It was first decided that TRAY was the center candidate, but Mr. OVERTON thought he saw another chance for N.Y., and eloquently pleaded that geographical lines should be ignored. In this he was successful, and the names of HERBICK and AMES were again placed before the convention; a ballot resulted in favor of the former by a majority of nearly two to one, which fully convinced CHARLEY that Union soldiers stand a poor show in a Democratic convention.
PELO PECK, having once been sacrificed to the duplicity and trickery of Maj. TRAY, was "set up" for the same purpose again without opposition.
For Jury Commissioner there was considerable strife, for the reason that the nominee is elected without opposition. Mr. E. P. DECKER, of Towanda township, who has voted early and often and worked in season and out for the party leaders, thought himself entitled to the position, and was promised the support of Maj. TRAY and others, but on the second ballot he was declared defeated by a young gentleman of this borough without any political convictions, and who scarcely knows himself which party he trains with. We have not learned what excuse Maj. TRAY gives for so basely betraying his most influential friends by defeating Mr. DECKER, in the face of a positive and voluntary pledge to support him, and order his laquey, IRA SMITH, to do the same thing, but he will probably give HARRY and DAN the excuse the mouse did the cat: "I was in liquor when I made the promise." By the way, those who saw the Major after the convention were pretty well satisfied that there was considerable liquor in him, as he swaggingly boasted that he was the man who was going to be elected.
We must congratulate the Democracy on their good fortune in securing men of so much character as D'A OVERTON, and Mr. JOHN DOBBS and a few others, representatives of their party. It adds largely to the moral tone to see such men take an interest, and by the time another Centennial rolls around the little leaven thus added to the putrefying mass may have some effect.
The convention on the whole did not pass off smoothly and harmoniously.
IT BECOMES more evident every day that the moment the government is transferred to Democratic hands a ring of swindlers will begin to plunder the treasury through the medium of fraudulent Southern claims. For several years Congress has made an annual appropriation of $6,000,000 to pay for the arrangement and examination of the captured rebel archives. No money was ever appropriated more wisely, for the discoveries already made in the archives have saved the government millions of dollars by disclosing proof of the diabolical of Southern claimants. Adjutant-General TOWNSEND reports one claim of $700,000, and another of $550,000 defeated by the records, and the Southern Claims Commission reports one of $700,000. Thus $1,350,000 have been saved by the expenditure of not more than $30,000. But in the eyes of our new economists the six thousand a year was a wicked waste, and they cut it off. Claims amounting to over $10,000,000 are now pending before the Southern Claims Commission. Proof of diabolical constitutes a complete bar to a claim, and the ex-Rebels know what they were about when they struck out the item of $6,000,000 and cut off the chief means of obtaining this proof. Their friends will now plunder the government at will.
HERE are some of the "retrenchment and reform" bills which were introduced by members of Congress during last winter, and which would have become laws had the Senate and President been in accord with the Confederate House. Should the Republican party be defeated in the pending canvass, these bills and many more of a similar nature will be passed and the amount appropriated taken from the treasury. Here are the items:
Amount of bills for 140 claims..... 1,350,000
Amount of bills to refund direct taxes..... 2,451,776
Amount of bills to pay for property seized and destroyed..... 280,000
Total..... 4,081,776
Nearly five hundred millions of dollars to the South! That is the reason why "the South is united now as it was when Sumter was fired on."

THE DEMOCRATS MET IN CONVENTION
On Tuesday last, in Mercantile Hall, DANIEL MERRILL, of Wyoming, was chosen President, and S. W. BUCK and Z. F. WALKER Secretaries. The list of delegates was called, and the most of the old stagers who have composed the conventions for the past ten or fifteen years responded—many of them are men who have been repudiated by the Republicans and have sought asylum in that refuge for disappointed malcontents and corrupt men of all classes, the miscalled Democratic party.
Hon. JOE POWELL and Hon. D. ROCKWELL were unanimously re-nominated for Congress and State Senator, when the scramble for the other positions began. An effort was made to defeat Maj. TRAY with "E. HERBICK, Jr., Esq.," but all the eloquence and honied phrases of D. A. OVERTON, one of the delegates from this borough, failed to accomplish the object. The Major came out ahead of both HERBICK and AMES on the first ballot. At this point JOHN WILLIS claimed a "foul," but was overruled by the umpire. Capt. AMES was not much disappointed, as he expected his army record would operate against him in a Democratic convention. It was first decided that TRAY was the center candidate, but Mr. OVERTON thought he saw another chance for N.Y., and eloquently pleaded that geographical lines should be ignored. In this he was successful, and the names of HERBICK and AMES were again placed before the convention; a ballot resulted in favor of the former by a majority of nearly two to one, which fully convinced CHARLEY that Union soldiers stand a poor show in a Democratic convention.

EVERY VOTE COUNTS.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 5.—Appearance indicate that an exciting canvass of the past few weeks will culminate to-day in bringing to the polls nearly every voter in the State. Free conveyance is furnished every voter. Reports from all quarters show no such enthusiasm manifested since Lincoln's first election. Republicans consider there is a strong probability of an increase of 5,000 votes over their majority of 1874. The Democrats are sanguine the election will show a reactionary sentiment in favor of their party.
SOME RETURNS.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—85 towns give Fairbanks 29,165; Bingham 9,434. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck 15,243; Bingham 6,893. Congressional majorities show corresponding gains. Norwich gives Fairbanks 163; Bingham 141, a Democratic gain on State ticket of 20. The Democrats elect Bartlett, Sergeant representative, the first elected by them since 1854.
STILL THEY COME.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—One hundred and sixteen towns give Fairbanks 37,702; Bingham 14,409; the same towns in 1874 gave Peck 21,641; Bingham 6,688.
MORE OF THE SAME.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—In the first congressional district 49 towns give Joyce, Rep., 9,777; Childs, Dem., 4,421; the second district, 34 towns give Dennison, Rep., 8,104; Dickey, Dem., 3,304; the third district, 29 towns give Hendece, Rep., 5,841; Edward, Dem., 2,679.
The towns to be heard from will probably increase Fairbanks' majority to 30,000.
Congressional majorities in three districts are in; 112 towns, 33,418. Towns not heard from will swell this majority to 29,000.
Republicans throughout the State are jubilant. Returns come in slowly. The complete result will not be known before to-morrow.
Of the one hundred and twelve towns, the representatives elected are 100 Republicans, 6 Democrats, three unknown.
POLITICS IN DELAWARE.
The Republicans Carry Wilmington by a Large Majority.
WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 5.—In the election in this city to-day for members of the city council, the Republicans were successful, carrying eight out of eleven councilmen. The Republican majority in the city on different candidates varies from 1,045 to 1,200.
Mr. BURTON has a faculty of expressing himself in few and forcible words. When a reporter of the Boston Globe asked for a brief expression of his views on public affairs, he made this admirable and comprehensive response: "I believe the Republican party to be the party of ideas, and the only one to which can be safely trusted the administration of our National Government at this time. There can be no possible hope from the Democratic party that they will carry into effect and consummate the heritage of vital issues inherited from the war; and as best interests of the country, and I believe, I can do that nowhere outside the Republican party." Concerning his plans for the future, he said: "My intentions are to return to the practice of law in Louisville, a profession I love, and which I was taken from by accident, not choice. Politically I have no aspirations, and prefer to let me entirely alone."

POLITICS IN DELAWARE.
The Republicans Carry Wilmington by a Large Majority.
WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 5.—In the election in this city to-day for members of the city council, the Republicans were successful, carrying eight out of eleven councilmen. The Republican majority in the city on different candidates varies from 1,045 to 1,200.
Mr. BURTON has a faculty of expressing himself in few and forcible words. When a reporter of the Boston Globe asked for a brief expression of his views on public affairs, he made this admirable and comprehensive response: "I believe the Republican party to be the party of ideas, and the only one to which can be safely trusted the administration of our National Government at this time. There can be no possible hope from the Democratic party that they will carry into effect and consummate the heritage of vital issues inherited from the war; and as best interests of the country, and I believe, I can do that nowhere outside the Republican party." Concerning his plans for the future, he said: "My intentions are to return to the practice of law in Louisville, a profession I love, and which I was taken from by accident, not choice. Politically I have no aspirations, and prefer to let me entirely alone."

VERMONT!
THE TIDAL WAVE!
THE SAME OLD MAJORITY.
No Such Enthusiasm Since Lincoln's Advent.
HEAVY VOTE POLLED EVERYWHERE.
Returns Straggling in, but Very Consolatory.
Republican Gains Evident!
ALL HAIL, THOU NEVER SETTING STAR.
EVERY VOTE COUNTS.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Sept. 5.—Appearance indicate that an exciting canvass of the past few weeks will culminate to-day in bringing to the polls nearly every voter in the State. Free conveyance is furnished every voter. Reports from all quarters show no such enthusiasm manifested since Lincoln's first election. Republicans consider there is a strong probability of an increase of 5,000 votes over their majority of 1874. The Democrats are sanguine the election will show a reactionary sentiment in favor of their party.
SOME RETURNS.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—85 towns give Fairbanks 29,165; Bingham 9,434. The same towns in 1874 gave Peck 15,243; Bingham 6,893. Congressional majorities show corresponding gains. Norwich gives Fairbanks 163; Bingham 141, a Democratic gain on State ticket of 20. The Democrats elect Bartlett, Sergeant representative, the first elected by them since 1854.
STILL THEY COME.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—One hundred and sixteen towns give Fairbanks 37,702; Bingham 14,409; the same towns in 1874 gave Peck 21,641; Bingham 6,688.
MORE OF THE SAME.
WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Sept. 5.—In the first congressional district 49 towns give Joyce, Rep., 9,777; Childs, Dem., 4,421; the second district, 34 towns give Dennison, Rep., 8,104; Dickey, Dem., 3,304; the third district, 29 towns give Hendece, Rep., 5,841; Edward, Dem., 2,679.
The towns to be heard from will probably increase Fairbanks' majority to 30,000.
Congressional majorities in three districts are in; 112 towns, 33,418. Towns not heard from will swell this majority to 29,000.
Republicans throughout the State are jubilant. Returns come in slowly. The complete result will not be known before to-morrow.
Of the one hundred and twelve towns, the representatives elected are 100 Republicans, 6 Democrats, three unknown.
