Since the elections in Ohio and Indiana men realize that the Pr. sidential contest. so far from being determined, is in reality only just begun. Each day it becomes more evident that the battle is to be fought with desperation by both parties, and with very close results. And just here let me remark that not one of the really well informed persons in regard to people should not come armed to the road report that the difficulty with the transactions of Tweed's ring with whom I have conversed, but that ridi-cules the idea of Samuel J. Tilden in the ole of a reformer. Said one gentleman, 'A man who has been in as many o

I wood's jobs as has Tilden, to preach reform! It won't go down with those who are personally knowing to those facts."
When the "reformer" was chairman of the Democratic State Committee, all he desired to know in order to carry the State, was "how many majority it would be necessary for New York City to show, in order to counterbalance the Republican majority in the rest of the State." Could this campaign be free from the presence of such ballot box stuffers and fraudulent counters as he was at that time, it is clear that Tilden would not go to the White House by the aid of the electoral vote of the Empire State.

"FIVE POINTS" and "The Hook," in New-York City, are of world-wide infamy for their immorality, and give ten Democratic votes to one Republican. Are they the quarters where to look for "Reform?" Yet the socalled "Reformers" rely upon just such localities for their success.
