THE OBJECT. The most extraordinary part of this disclosure was the agency the friends of old Ben. Boyd, the notorious counterfeiter, now serving a ten years' term in the Illinois penitentiary, had in the proposed scheme of villainy. Ben. Boyd was captured by Elmer Washburne some time ago, and a gang of counterfeiters, such as seldom obtain a foothold in Illinois was broken up. Boyd, through the agency of his friends and his own wealth, has for some time past been trying to liberate himself from prison. The shrewd scheme was to carry off the remains of Mr. Lincoln, secrete them, and keep them until President Grant should be compelled to give Boyd his freedom, conditioned on the restoration of the remains to their former resting place. The information thus obtained was conveyed to Leonard Swett, Esq., and Colonel Robert Lincoln, both of Springfield and steps were taken to frustrate the plan. Mr. Swett states that while many people might think this descying to keep from the warpath by regu- cration of the tomb of Mr. Lincoln a mere job "put up" by parties for selfish interests, they were greatly mistaken. He believed there was a well-concerted plan on the part of these desperate men to secure possession of the remains. WHAT THE SCOUNDRELS DID. Later and further examination of President Lincoln's tomb shows that the scoundrels who attempted to rifle it on Tuesday night had pried off the lid of the marble sarcophagus with a chisel or axe, and somewhat chipped it in the operation. The lid of the cedar case, in which the leaden casket containing his bones lay, was forced off and placed upright against the wall. The casket itself had been pulled out about a foot from the body of the sarcophagus when they were alarmed by the accidental shot. on the floor of the vault, an axe, an

THE BULL-DOZER.

The "Bull-dozer" has appeared often of late in despatches from the troubled Southern section, but very few have a more than general idea of what he is. Here he is described to the life in a New Orleans letter to

The word here in this muddle is "Bull-dozed." I see some northern swindle the red skin until he is driven to papers persist in printing it "Bullganized; and armed bands of assassins and robbers, who ride about the people, and spreading terrorism among the Republican negroes. The Bull-dozers are successors to the Kuklux, the White League, the White quire for their own use themselves, power is not allowed to do. And so it tions. It is to these ruffians that goes on from year to year-has gone ou Louisiana owes her sad condition for years and years. Every year the army to-day. Two or three of these bands thropist knows nothing and cares less, so islies, and manipulated the ballot boxes to suit themselves in the inter-United States will have the effect of standing. I believe the army officer is the est of Tilden and reform. So we those men who have given the best years majority, and which are annually Republican, to-day reported without a dozen Republican votes.

Perhaps, just here, it will not be lowing the precedent established by London Times gives an account of a who has done more Indian fighting than new term of "Bull-doze." It originated in Mississippi. The "blacksnake" whip that teamsters use upon their oxen or mules is called there by been firm and just, and through all this a compound word, the first of which is "Bull's." It is abbreviated "Bull." and the whip called a "Bull." Whipwith it was called giving the anni for mal or "nigger" a dose of the bull conveniences, have not many to speak of, or a bull's dose. The Kuklux and to beat Republicanism out of the negroes and oblige them to vote the erally takes the shape of a hunting or the polls. Hence the name for these dozers," or "Bull-dosers." pronounce it "Bull-doozers" here. This is the real and only origin of negro with a scarred back can testify.

It would seem as if our city were in the hands of swindlers and confidence people. We are apt to laugh at the credulity of "country folks," and when a man is dupequally well known device of rogues, we laugh at his "greenness," and congratulate ourselves upon the fact that no such mishaps could possibly befall us. In the face of this, not a day goes by that some one is not duped in the most bare-faced manner, and frequently for large sums. One day it is a woman processing to own mmense property in a foreign country, who borrows the names of eminent clergymen, to use in support of her assertions, and the funds of the party whom she designs to make use of, until she comes it a little too far, and is found out; not, however, until several people have Centennial Choruses. been multched to various amounts, which combined reached the sum of several

The strangest of the cases, however, is that of Mary Stewart, whose history is now being investigated. A few days May 10 to November prior to the election, the daily papers 004,274 cash, and 1,906,692 free admis contained a brief notice of a woman hav- sions. The total receipts at the gates ing been brutally assaulted and outraged were $3,813,724.49. by a policeman, whom she had asked to show her to a respectable lodging, she having lost her way. The man was discharged, although pointed out by her, for lack of identification! The comment on this by people who merely saw the statement, was not very favorable to the ment, was not very favorable to the do, is Chairman, to prepare a final report powers that be, and it was hinted that had to Congress, covering the history of the it not been near election, officer Gleason would have been summarily discharged and brought to trial. It now appears that this woman has made several such charges, and a man is now serving out a sentence of twenty years in Sing Sing, the result of a complaint entered and prosecuted by her; with the possibility that in this case, as in the last ones, the statement was false. One feels inclined to ask, in the face of these various cases, which are only a few among many, what our police are worth, or whether we have any very great reason to flap our wings and crow over our country neighbors? 4 The Franklin, with Tweed, is in harbor, but it is said by those who know, that the old "Boss" will show fight. Some of the members, with a few Brail of the ladies, amused themselves with Bah, Bentel lawn tennis, which is rapidly crowding Decker, P.C. croquet out of the field.

The Rev. Dr. Field, editor of the New York Evangelist, inaugurated the free course of lecturers in Cooper Institute, Saturday evening, by giving his impressions of "Going Around the World." It was a bright and cheerful lecture, and the lecturer looked animated and happy. He is just in the second week of his second honey-moon, having been married on the country by night, killing innocent oin inst, to Miss Frances E. Dwight, at Stockbridge, Mass. Miss Dwight was a warm friend of the first Mrs. Field, and while on her death-bed, the latter requested her friend and husband to marry. The dying injunction, in this case, fortunately met with the approval of both parties, and they were able to fulfill it without doing any violence to heir own feelings. Unfortunately this is not always the case. A certain wellknown senator's wife died and made a similar request, the young lady being her sister. The senator would gladly have made his sister-in-law his wife, but she did not care for him. Her sister had wrung the promise from her, and, feeling OYSTER BAY bound by it, she let her chance of happiness slip by, by refusing the man she really wished to marry. So, the best years of life slipped away, until the widower became tired of waiting, and finding a Barkis who was willing, made her his wife. This absolved the young lady in question, but not until the best part of her life had been wasted, and too late for her to marry "her own first love." Fanny Davenport played Rosalind, Saturday evening, to an enthusiastic audience, but she was Fanny Davenport and not Shakespeare's Rosalind. The text was Shakespeare's, but it needs expurga-

Committee here can get up any story they please to send North, and get the whole Chamber of Commerce of the city to sign it. The day after the election they sent off a dispatch claiming 10,000 Democratic majority in Louisiana, before they had returns from three parishes in the State! This was signed by five Bank Presidents. The next day I said to one of these, 'Mr. Baldwin, how could you put your name to such a dispatch, when you could know nothing of the truth of the statement?' 'Well, Kellogg,' he answered, 'I did PLATED WARE, not read the d-d thing; but these people bring these things to my bank to sign, and I sign them without looking at them.'" By such tricks as this respectable men sign telegrams announcing as true what they know nothing about. Here people Stationery, Blank Books, Pass Books, Ladies and ve credence to such reports because of the signatures appended to them. And the general result is, that when the falsehoods they dignify are swept away by actual and true returns, many respectable people really believe their party has suffered a great outrage, and that the other has been guilty of a scandalous
