The First National Bank of this place has been so judiciously managed, that, although it has been liberal in furnishing loans to business men, it has not been troubled by the many failures which have occurred here during the past year. The stockholders of the Bank are largely indebted to the prudent and judicious management of Cashier BETTS, for such a flattering and creditable result. With such an honorable reputation as a financier at home, it is not surprising that Mr. BETTS is already mentioned by prominent men in different parts of the State as a future candidate for State Treasurer.

THE ELECTIC—The most welcome and highly prized of all the monthlies which reach our shores, is the Electric, edited by H. W. BIRDWELL, and published by E. H. PELTON, 25 Bond Street, New York. The price of the Electric is $1 per annum, but we will send the Engraver and Electric one year for $1.50.

The revival services at the Methodist Church are going on with no lack of interest. YOUNG MEN are in better business than forming a "home guard" about the church doors, after service, to see the ladies pass out. Young men go home with your girls, if you have one.
