

VELOPEERS are almost as numerous on the streets as potato bugs.

PROF. SUFFERN'S Musical Convention, now in session here, is well attended.

UNIVERSALIST sociable at the residence of Hon. C. S. RUSSELL, on Tuesday evening, June 10th.

The Tunkhannock Democrat says wild strawberries are very abundant in that neighborhood.

Rev. Mr. Brown, of Waverly, and Rev. J. S. BEERS, of this place, will exchange pulpits next Sunday.

The injured passengers of the late accident on the P. & N. Y. R. R., near Wyalusing, are getting well.

POWELL & CO. have just been replenishing their stock, and now offer extraordinary inducements to cash buyers.

GEO. D. BROWN, Esq., has moved into the house recently occupied by Henry Portz, on the Doctor Portz farm.

The experiment of ten cent half fares in this place has proven a failure, and the old fare of 25 cents has again been adopted.

WE WONDER if the town council are aware of the dangerous condition of the street at the intersection of Locust avenue and William street.

MURPHY MEETING AT THE PAUL FACTORY.—A. R. MOE will address the people of North Towanda, Saturday evening next. Turn out, everybody.

BASTOR HOWE visited the ancient parish of St. Mark's Church, Pike, on Friday last. The Rector, Rev. G. P. HORNES, is doing a good work there, and at adjacent parts.

The Graded School will close for the summer vacation on Friday. During the recess Prof. RYAN'S room will be enlarged by the addition of about twenty feet by fifty.

The farmers in Eastern Bradford feel that with pleasure the announcement in another column that H. B. ISHAM is prepared to do wool carding at his factory in Campbton.

Wm. HOLLAN, who has been serving a term of several years as a soldier in the regular army, has just been discharged, and is again at his home in this place, looking hale and hearty.

Messrs. Wm. MAXWELL and Geo. C. STOLL, of this place, will speak in behalf of the Murphy movement at Greenwood, Thursday evening, June 14. Let there be a general attendance.

JACOB served his father-in-law seven years for a wife, and now the fair merchant, A. D. DYE, after years of married life, has just experienced the extreme happiness of being the father of a bouncing boy.

MITCHELL & WADSWORTH of the Towanda Foundry, are making a specialty in iron fences. They have a very unique pattern, and now white iron is cheap they can put up fences almost as cheap as the ordinary picket fence.

HON. GEORGE LAWSON has consented to deliver an address on "Temperance in this place on Sunday afternoon next. Mr. L.'s great ability as a speaker and gifted orator will draw a large audience. Should the weather permit the meeting will be held in the Park.

A. R. MOE will tell the people of this place what he knows about the Murphy Movement, at the Court House, next Tuesday evening. As a speaker in the reform movement, "Bones" has accomplished a good work in the adjoining town, and we bespeak a rousing house on that evening.

PERSONAL.—DAVID HORTON, of Shepley township, is making a visit to friends in Illinois.

WALTER STARR, Esq., of Philadelphia, is spending a few days in this place.

Rev. J. S. BEERS and E. T. FOX are attending the Diocesan Convention of the Episcopal Church at Scranton this week.

A LITTLE boy, son of B. McCracken, fell into a well in the rear of his father's new building in the First Ward on Friday evening last, sustaining very serious if not fatal injuries. The workmen engaged in sinking the well, had left it only a few moments previous to the accident. The well was nearly thirty feet in depth, but fortunately for the boy, was not stoned.

WOMEN transient visitors to our town call upon you for pecuniary assistance. "Sister" that they are of the first order, and your minister, or some other of your friends, it will be well to decline compliance with their requests until they have obtained a personal introduction, even though they seem well acquainted with the names and circumstances of those whom they quote.

O. E. HORTON, who removed from this place to Southern Kansas, some four or five years since, is home on a visit to his father, ELMER HORTON, Esq., of North Towanda. Judging from his robust appearance and excellent spirits, he must be well pleased with his Western home. He was of that independent, industrious class, however, who compass success in any quarter.

THE Leigh Valley R. R., since the recent accident on their road, have made a change in the make-up of their passenger trains, placing the palace and sleeping cars immediately following the baggage car. The rule on all roads, heretofore, has been to put these cars at the rear of the train, mainly for convenience, but experience seems to have determined that rear cars suffer most by accidents, and this has dictated the change.

Ex-Senator LANDON delivered the Decoration Day oration at Tunkhannock. While in Tunkhannock, Mr. L. was the recipient from his old friend and neighbor, Hon. P. M. ORSKOFT, of a handsome present in the shape of a beautiful case of orange wood, cut in Florida. Mr. LANDON accepted the case as a souvenir of long-time friendship, and replied in his characteristic style, and the gratification of the donor and the edification of all present.

REPROCESSED.—The Methodist Episcopal Church at Towanda, Bradford county, Pa., having been thoroughly repaired, will be reopened for Divine worship on Wednesday, June 20, 1877. Preaching at 10 o'clock A. M., by Rev. J. T. WALKER, P. E. Brethren in the ministry and the public generally are invited to attend and enjoy the occasion.

G. L. WILLIAMS, Pastor.

At a meeting of Wyalusing Post No. 68, G. A. R., held on Friday evening, the 8th inst., it was

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered to the ladies of Towanda for their efficient help in preparing for the decoration of soldiers' graves, May 30; to the Ladies Aid and Dram Corps, for music furnished on the occasion; to the teachers and scholars of our schools and to Co. K, National Guards, for their assistance in bringing the memory of our fallen heroes

At a meeting of the stockholders of the S. L. & S. R. R. Co., in Boston last week, Mr. PARSONS, the President, tendered his resignation. The directors, in their place today, when the resignation will be formally accepted. In the interim the business of the company is conducted by J. O. BISHOP and O. A. BALDWIN. The former has been Superintendent of the mines since Mr. P. took charge of the road, and the latter is Chief Clerk. Both are entirely competent to conduct the affairs of the company.

The marriage of Miss NETTIE PARSONS to Mr. STANLEY, of Philadelphia, on Tuesday morning, removes another of the brightest and most admired of our young ladies, as the newly wedded pair take up their residence in Philadelphia at once. Owing to the recent death of the bride's mother, none but a few relatives were present at the ceremony, but the hearty congratulations of a large circle of friends were extended to the happy pair. The bride was the recipient of many costly and appropriate presents.

SINCE the inauguration of the Murphy movement, our town has been remarkably free from fights and brawls, but on Friday night two young men who were not imbued with a spirit of "malice toward man" and who evidently had taken a pledge of total abstinence, had a little unpleasantness at the corner of Main and State streets. Cries of murder aroused the neighbors and attracted the police. The officer succeeded in securing one of the offenders.

As the train on the S. L. & S. R. R., was proceeding toward this place on Thursday morning last, a bridge just this side of WYALUSING gave way, precipitating the engine and cars into the bed of the creek. The trucks of the passenger coach also went down, while the body of the car rested on the piers. The trackman, Mr. BOSTON, was carried down with the wreck, but fortunately sustained no injury. The damage was repaired, so that Conductor BICK made his regular trip on Friday.

ABOUT two weeks since a little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. CLARK, of Wells, aged three years, strayed from her home and was lost in the woods. A general search was instituted for the missing one, which was continued for three days, about one hundred persons being engaged in it. The child was at last found about a mile and a half from home, in a very weak and feeble condition, having been without food or drink, Mr. and Mrs. C. return their hearty thanks to those who so kindly assisted in returning their lost one to his home again.

BASTOR HOWE made his annual visitation to St. Matthew's Church, Pike, on Friday evening last. There were present the choir, and a large number of the Rev. Messrs. BEERS and HORNES, and the Rector, Rev. Mr. HORNES. A good congregation was assembled. The Bishop preached and administered the rite of confirmation to six candidates, to whom he then gave an excellent address.

St. Matthew's has been much improved lately. The church arrangements have been altered for the better, and a fence has been built around the Church lot. So large an accession of communicants is most gratifying, and it augurs well for the future of the church, which is now in the hands of an excellent pastor.

Orders were given for the purchase of about 20,000 feet of lumber, also a quantity of fence posts, the latter to be placed in the center of the grounds, for convenience of persons with teams. Several new stock stalls are to be constructed, and other improvements will be made which will greatly add to the comfort and convenience of visitors to the grounds.

A FALCONER CONVENTION.—Mr. ELLIOT, on the night of May 26, some thirty or thirty-five broke the lock to the grand door of my barn, in Ulster, and stole some wheat. In connection with this fact certain ill-disposed persons have circulated a report through our town and elsewhere, that I have thrown the guilty party to the door of WARD EASTBROOKS, and found my wheat, and that he and I have settled the matter and are keeping it quiet. Now, in justice to Mr. EASTBROOKS, I desire, through the columns of your paper, to repeat the whole story as it unfolded. True it is I had some wheat stolen, but have got no clue to the thief. I would as soon suspect any other good citizen of our town of taking my wheat as I suspect Mr. EASTBROOKS. I have known Mr. EASTBROOKS for many years, and regard him as an honest, upright man.

G. H. VANDYKE, Ulster, May 9, 1877.

TEACHERS.—The Progressive Temperance Reform Society at East Springhill, celebrated its eighth anniversary, May 30, 1877. Rev. P. B. TOWNE, delivered the annual address, involving the doctrine that "drunkenness is a disease," and that doctors who prescribe alcoholic stimulants as a medicine, do more than any other class of men who are engaged in the sale of such articles, to benefit the large audience that was present. Rev. J. S. BEERS, recently invited those present, who were not members, to attend the next meeting, and to be present, they will move their hardware stock up there as soon as they are completed. Other movements in this direction are taken, among others the Post-Office. The borough authorities have improved the streets in this spring, and with a few more efforts the grade will be perfected and much added to the appearance of the village.

It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should

be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We believe in the expediency of the latter course, but we are not prepared to say that it is the best of all reasons. We believe the county will have a very business, a supply market, and a market for its products. It is a pity that the poor house question, or rather county house, is again before us. Of course some public spirited persons are found who are willing to sacrifice (7) his home, if need be, to afford the county an eligible site for the necessary buildings. A correspondent of the Bradford Reporter is quite anxious that they should be located in the railroad, in order that the surplus products may be shipped advantageously. We