Executrix. As many medical men (students of mine) and others in this city have for imany years treated acute and chronic diseases with eminent successand as I am the well-known discoverer of this reil, able system, it seems only necessary to harely mention these lectures to secure a large class of students. Investigating minds are everywhere turning their attention to my great discovery in Electro-Therapentics. To satisfy the growing demand for Electrical treatment medical men and a host of others ignorant of my discovery, have procured batteries for experimental purposes, but soon fig.d. that no positive success can be obtained from the application of Electricity except in harmony with my discovery of the Electrical Law of Polerization.
