Gentlemen.—We are more and more pleased with the Cooley Greamer as we continue to use it, and we feel confident that we shall produce a better quality of butter this summer by means of it than we ever have before. We are now getting $1.00 a pound for our butter. Very truly yours, MELVILLE BULL. From Editor of the American Agriculturist.] NEW YORK, Jan. 9, 1878. ermont Farm Machine Co.: Versiont Farm Machine Co.:

Dear Sire—I have set up the No. Cooley Creamer which I procured of you, and have now had it in use on my farm in New Jersey several weeks. I find that it does all you represented that it would do, and that besides raising at Lo of the cream from the milk in less than it hours, and keeping the milk priectly sweet; it occupies very little space; may be kept anywhere in a kitchen, or a barn if deaired, because being closed completely against secess of air the cream can imbite no odors; also that it produces more cream from the milk than I can procure from shallow pans, and is a great labor saver. I strongly recommend it to every butter-maker. I am sure I have gained in both quisity and quantity over any kind of nan I have yet used for setting salik for cream.

Yours very truly, HENRY STEWART.
