BRADFORD COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Bradford County Teachers Association was called to order by the President, E. E. Quinlan, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the Graded School building in Canton, February 14, 1879.

The Association was opened by singing and devotional exercises, conducted by E. T. Burgan. Minutes of the previous meeting held at Monroeton were read and approved, after correction by E. T. Burgan.

The following resolutions, previously published by the Committee on Resolutions, were read:

1. Resolved, That, in ungraded schools, the male and female pupils should have recess at different times.

2. Resolved, That teachers who persistently neglect to teach map drawing, the principles of reading and penmanship, sounds of letters and diacritical marks, mental arithmetic, and to have the greatest possible use of the blackboard, are not worthy of certificates, and should not be employed by directors.

3. Resolved, That the practice of requiring teachers to "board around" has not the argument of economy in its favor, and that, in winter at least, it should be discontinued in Bradford County, as it has already been in many counties of our State, and in some townships of our county.

4. Resolved, That the advanced scholars in our winter schools should be taught the principles of mensuration.

5. Resolved, That the studies in our common schools do not meet the requirements of the times.

6. Resolved, That diagraming is not essential in imparting a knowledge of the structure or meaning of the sentence.

J. W. Parsons called for the first resolution.

Prof. Burgan thought as a small proportion of the teachers were present, it would be better to postpone the discussion, as it is one in which teachers should take interest. Discussed by H. E. Raesley, followed by G. W. Ryan, who mentioned an instance showing the necessity of adopting the resolution. Mr. Parsons thought the teacher needed rest as well as pupils, and he should be able to control pupils while on the play-ground, which is impossible while having a part of the school in charge. Prof. Burgan said much should be left to the discretion of the teacher, still he should be guided by the wishes of the directors and the County Superintendent, and thought some tact required to keep those pupils, who are in, at work. E. B. McKee suggested giving 20 minutes for recess, (10 for each division,) and while one division is at play, allow the other division to quietly talk, thus allowing the teacher a rest from work and an opportunity of watching those at play. J. T. McCollom thought the resolution countenanced neglect on the part of directors in regard to properly arranging the school premises. H. S. Patterson believed directors consider many of the resolutions discussed by Association as made in a fault-finding manner; and also that he has classes in algebra and philosophy which fill the recess period.

The resolution was further discussed by H. E. Raesley and A. T. Lilley.

The following substitute to the resolution was offered by J. T. McCollom:

Resolved, That it is the duty of directors of the several townships to provide the school premises with such conveniences as will permit the teachers to give recess to all pupils at the same time, but where they have not done so, it is advisable that teachers should give boys and girls recess separately. Substitute accepted.

Prof. Burgan remarked that the resolution was to benefit teachers, not to instruct directors. A. T. Lilley thought the resolution comprised all. The substitute was further discussed by G. W. Ryan, Prof. Gibbs, Arthur Head, M. S. Parsons, E. B. McKee. Prof Ryan thought directors are not able to do as they like in making improvements, as they stand between the teacher and the people—their power is limited. Prof. Gibbs said the expense of properly arranging the school grounds would be trifling. Arthur Head thought this neglect more attributable to carelessness than to any unwillingness on the part of directors.

E. B. McKee thought a reduction in teachers' wages would enable the board to make the necessary arrangements. J. T. McCollom believed the surroundings of the school houses, and the wages of a school teacher correspond. A vote was taken and the President declared the substitute to the resolution adopted.

The President appointed as a committee to solicit new members and to enroll old members: Misses Clara Lewis, Hattie Spaulding and M. E. Howland.

After singing the Association adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

J. S. Bovingdon gave an exercise on penmanship, followed by G. W. Ryan, who urged the necessity of teaching penmanship by principle.

Sarah E. Ballard followed with an exercise in geography which was finely illustrated by a class of four small scholars who drew a map of Europe, and answered all questions readily, showing much system and thoroughness in the drill.

Prof. Ryan commended the work that had been done by the class, and strongly urged the practice of map drawing; he reports an improvement in the work that is being done by many teachers in that branch.

E. T. Burgan asked the length of time required to teach a class to draw a map, and was answered by Miss Ballard, one recitation on the construction lines, another on the chief points, another on the coast, etc., but each day review from the beginning. Music.

E. B. McKee gave the rates at which teachers may subscribe for the BRADFORD REPORTER, also the offer made by the Bradford Republican, allowing two columns of the paper to educational matter.

J. T. McCollom spoke on the subject, and suggested the idea of the teachers of Bradford County establishing a paper solely on the subject of education.

A motion was made and seconded that the President appoint a committee to consider the matter of starting an educational paper in Bradford County.

Remarks by A. T. Lilley, who gave the history of a former attempt which proved a failure.

G. W. Ryan thought it necessary that a committee be appointed, one from each township, who should solicit subscriptions, and report to the President of the Association.

I. S. Crawford suggests a weekly paper instead of monthly, as mentioned.

E. E. Quinlan requested that the committee act with caution, and suggested a small paper at a small price, at first.

J. T. McCollom proposed that the expense be known before making any decision.

J. S. Crawford suggested that the committee look over the ground and report at the next meeting.

Arthur Head believed an educational paper should include the popular news, and without the combination would not be a success.

The motion was carried that a committee be appointed to consider the feasibility of starting an educational paper.

A motion was then made that a committee of five be appointed to take charge of the educational columns of the Republican. Carried.

E. B. McKee suggested that the committee to consider the starting of a paper be instructed to appoint a sub-committee in each township.

Ed. A. Thompson thought the committee should report by the first of April, and if feasible to issue a paper; a motion to the effect was made. Lost. Song.

The President appointed the following persons a committee to take into consideration the starting of a paper: J. T. McCollom, H. E. Raesley, W. H. Benedict, G. W. Ryan, A. T. Lilley.

A lesson in English grammar by H. E. Raesley, in which he explained his method of teaching the analysis of a sentence; further illustrated by J. T. McCollom.

Arthur Head called for the third resolution. Discussed by I. Crawford and E. T. Burgan. A motion was made to lay the resolution on the table. Lost.

Remarks by J. T. McCollom. Arthur Head thought some of the discussions should be for the benefit of the teacher instead of all for the benefit of the pupils.

Rev. Mr. Hayden advanced the idea that the advantage of boarding around was the power it gave over an uncontrollable scholar. H. E. Raesley and Prof. Ryan said the health of the teacher is often undermined, as many districts in the county are not suitable for a teacher to board around. Mr. Garrison considered it the duty of the patrons to call on the teacher in order to become acquainted. George Moscrip, I. S. Crawford and Ed. A. Thompson also spoke on the resolution. Carried.

The President appointed the following persons to take charge of the columns in the Bradford Republican: E. B. McKee, E. T. Burgan, H. E. Raesley, Sarah E. Ballard, Sarah E. Cook. Song. Adjourned to meet at 7:30 o'clock P. M., in the M. E. Church.

EVENING SESSION.

At 7:30 P. M., the President called the meeting to order. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Hayden. Music by the choir.

A paper "Methods of Discipline," was read by J. T. McCollom, dividing the subject into home, school and social; he showed the necessity of system in school work, as the child's habits formed while young, are to shape his life; he considers calisthenics a good drill, which must be conducted with system, thus establishing ideas of order while they improve the personal appearance.

Remarks on the subject were then made by several: Prof. Quinlan considers constant work in the school to be the very best aid to discipline, since it assists in forming industrious habits, in enforcing discipline and in acquiring knowledge. Rev. Mr. Hayden says all discipline should be intended for the benefit of the one disciplined, and not as a vent for any irritation a teacher may feel, hence it should be given kindly, friendly, and with dignity, thus inspiring confidence and respect. H. E. Raesley said much tact was required by the teacher, who should govern the school through its leaders. E. B. McKee says the teacher should never punish while angry. J. S. Bovingdon suggests asking refractory scholars to do some favor. Rev. Mr. Durand thought the teacher's example to be of most importance, for as is the teacher, so will be the pupils. Prof. Ryan urges the motto, "Do right; because it is Right;" he condemns letting pupils have too much liberty in order to study their nature. Mr. Moscrip suggested if the teacher see an indication of failure to study, the method he has used is correct whatever he finds at fault. Eugene A. Thompson says to use no deception. I. S. Crawford says, let the teacher discipline himself, then the school. H. S. Patterson thinks a teacher should make no rules, let common sense judge. Rev. Mr. Nason says most of our best influence is unconsciously put forth, having conquered himself, thus command respect. Music. Declamation by George Andrews; subject, "A Short Sermon," a humorous selection which was heartily enjoyed by the audience. Recitation by Miss Alice Swart, "Hannah Jane;" it was a fine selection and well recited. Music.

Rev. Edmund Wells was then introduced as lecturer; his subject, "The Incidental Testimony of Metaphors;" Many interesting historical fact were cited by the speaker, which illustrate the peculiarities of the ancients; he gave the origin of many of our common words, elucidating the use to which they have come, and proved that by the metaphors, much may be learned of a people; his style was particularly pleasing. Singing. Recitation by Miss Mary Lewis, "From Earth to Heaven;" very well rendered. Declamation by F. K. Walter, on "Education." Doxology. Benediction by Rev. Mr. Gates. Adjourned to meet a 9 o'clock A. M.

MORNING SESSION.

Meeting called to order by the President at 9 o'clock A. M. Devotions by W. H. Brown. Singing.

An exercise was then given by Clement L. Heverly on "The Time Examples." They were clearly explained, and every teacher present should have received benefit; an opportunity was then given for questions on the subject. A question on the practicability of such work was asked by E. T. Burgan, and answered by E. E. Quinlan. A word by G. W. Ryan in favor of mental work in developing accuracy, rapidity and discipline. A. T. Lilley gave an abbreviation of the work already given. Eugene A. Thompson gave his method of arranging a programme from his own school, which designated not only time for recitations, but for study. E. T. Burgan suggested that the teacher leave a programme with the report on leaving school for the benefit of his successor. Prof. Ryan thought the system of making programmes was being improved in the county. H. E. Raesley said that students in his grade arrange their own programmes. H. S. Patterson approved the programme for study, which he considered as essential as one for recitation, many pupils are apt to give more time to some favorite study. Further remarks by I. S. Crawford, E. A. Thompson, J. T. McCollom and E. E. Quinlan.

Charles Warren then gave an exercise on common fractions, treating of addition, multiplication, etc.; other methods were given by Messrs. McCollom and Thompson. Singing.

The following resolution was accepted in place of the second resolution:

Resolved, That teachers who persistently refuse to teach map drawing, the principles of penmanship, mental arithmetic, analysis in written arithmetic, the principles of reading, and the sounds of letters, and diacritical marks, as given in Webster's dictionary, and to make the greatest possible use of the blackboard, are not worthy of certificates, and should not be employed by directors.

Discussed by Messrs. Crawford, McCollom, and Nason in favor of diacritical marks—being taught as given by standard dictionaries. A. Head spoke of the disagreement found in diacritical marks in different editions by the same author. A vote was then taken and the resolution carried.

The sixth resolution was discussed by I. S. Crawford and E. T. Burgan. Mr. Crawford claimed diagraming to be a great aid, not an essential, and a short way of imparting a knowledge of the relation existing between parts of a sentence, by appealing to the mind through the eye. George Moscrip thought the pupil must understand the relation of the parts of a sentence before diagraming, therefore it was unnecessary work. Prof. Burgan thought it a useful means of showing to the teacher the pupil's knowledge of analysis. J. T. McCollom offered the following amendment to the resolution:

Resolved, That diagraming is not a useful means in imparting a knowledge of the structure or meaning of a sentence.

The amendment was amended by striking out the word not, and as so amended was discussed by G. W. Ryan, Edward A. Thompson, Eugene Thompson, George Moscrip and I. S. Crawford. Resolution as amended carried.

Mr. F. A. Thompson offered the following:

Resolved, That the sounds of letters and diacritical marks should not be introduced till pupils can pronounce words readily at sight. Laid on the table.

The usual vote of thanks was tendered to the people of Canton for their hospitality, to the school directors for the use of the buildings in which to hold our sessions, to the trustees of the M. E. Church for use of church for evening session, to the singers and to Rev. Edmund Wells for his instructive lecture.

Columbia X Roads was decided as the place of holding the next meeting.

Committee report the following members:

Wagons and Carriages.

OLD ESTABLISHMENT
STILL TAKES THE LEAD!
Carriages CHEAPER THAN EVER, and Platform Wagons at a GREAT REDUCTION.
JAMES BRYANT
Proprietor of the Old Carriage Manufactory, cor. Main and Elizabeth streets, would call the special attention of FARMERS and others to his large and complete assortment of
OPEN AND TOP BUGGIES
AND PLATFORM WAGONS,
All of his own manufacture, and warranted in every particular to be equal to the most expensive city work.
NOW IS YOUR TIME TO BUY!
Look at the figures, and remember that every vehicle is warranted:

PLATFORM WAGONS	$100 to $110
OPEN BUGGIES	80 " 100
TOP BUGGIES	125 " 150

The prices are far below the cost of manufacture and will not be maintained after the present stock is disposed of, so you must make selections NOW.
Don't be imposed upon by inferior work and poor materials, but purchase at the establishment which has been in operation for nearly half a century and is permanently located.
