LETTER FROM PHILADELPHIA.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11, 1879. The good ship Constitution, popularly assembled in Columbus, on Wednes | known as "Old Ironsides," arrived here last week, having been nearly five mouths in crossing the ocean. She left Havre early in January with the American exhibits from the Paris Exposition. Before will hardly suit those who cling with she had proceded far she ran aground, any degree of tenacity to the ancient which necessitated her putting into Portsmouth for an examination. It being found that no damage had been sustained, she proceeded in her voyage, but only a few days later she encountered a terrible storm in the Bay of Biscay, in which she lost her rudder. Repairs were executed at Lisbon, from whence she sailed on April 11th for New York. She led or board about 950 packages of exhibits. It was a hazardous experiment for the old vessel, and it is probably her last, as she

> William W. Longstreth, a director and ex-President of the Lebigh Valley Railroad Company, died Wednesday morning n his residence, 2017 Chestnut street, in his seventy-seventh year. His death was caused by general debility. The death of his wife, which occurred on Sunday last, is thought to liastened his demise. During General Grant's stay in Constantinople he was invited by the Sultan of Turkey to visit his extensive stud of horses, comprising about sixteen hundred head of purest Arabian blood. After the visit his Imperial Highness ordered that the two best horses of the stud should be should be ably represented in that selected as a present to the General, and State, but it is also evident that there they were shipped with great care on ire just two too many engaged in board of the Norman Monarch, which arthe unlimited currency candidacy for rived at New Haven, Connecticut, on business to thrive.
