A TOUCHING STORY.

There came a young man from Towanda, who came up and borrowed a dollar. (Balance next week).
—Haverly Advertiser.

Then he made a loan.
And then he borrowed a dollar.
This pretty young man from Towanda.
—Haverly Advertiser.

And the priest man, with a sigh,
Said, "I wish that had been I."
Instead of that young man from Towanda.
—Haverly Advertiser.

The Sullivan Centennial Celebration, August 29th, says the Waverly Advertiser, will be the most important demonstration of the kind ever witnessed in Southern New York or Northern Pennsylvania. Many of the most eminent men of the Nation will be there, and from present appearances, the concourse of people will be the largest ever seen outside of our large cities. Everything is being put in readiness for the grand occasion. The grounds are the finest in the country, and access to them easy, and the fare merely nominal. The celebration will last but one day, with a grand display of fire-works at Elmira in the evening.

A YOUNG man who claimed to have been taken for MARTIN PHILLIPS, of Springfield Centre, on Saturday forged an order on EXETER BANKERS for $5,000, which was cashed by GEORGE O. HOLBORN, of that place, who was in possession of a check for $10, with Mr. PHILLIPS' name, and presented it at PHOMERY BANKERS Bank. He did not succeed in passing it, and went back to the Adams House where he had been stopping. S. W. POMEROY went down to the Adams House, and found the fellow and told him to come up to the bank and excuse himself to go to the bank, but he refused to do so, and the man disappeared before his intentions were suspected. —Troy Gazette.

A CRIMINALITY—County Commissioner HENRY received a bill, on Saturday, last, from his brother Captain JOSEPH HENRY, who is stationed at Camp Buckner, Arizona Territory, what the Captain writes is "a genuine production of that young fellow's pen." The "original" was shipped to Elmira on the 17th inst., and although shut out from light and air from that time until its arrival, was found to be alive, and, as far as could be discerned, in excellent health and spirits when the box was opened. The "creature" is about the size of the ordinary bear found in this section, and had a long and pointed nose, and a pair of horns on its head, and spots a tail about three inches in length, might readily be taken for one.

The Board of Managers of the Bradford County Agricultural Society met on the Fair Grounds on Saturday last. Arrangements were made to construct two new buildings; also a stand with seats for spectators, besides several stalls for stock. One building, 70 feet long, is to be used for horses, and this, with the new stalls to be erected, will fully supply the needs of the county. An abundance of hay and straw will be supplied gratis, and no effort will be spared in protecting and caring for animals on exhibition. A building, 28x32 feet, is to be put up for the exclusive use of the Educational Department. This will be provided with seats and desks in which to hold the various courses of instruction indicated in the program list. The members of the Board are springing to make the approaching Fair the most attractive and interesting of any yet held in this section of the State.

—A. T. LILEY, Secretary, Montrose Grange.

EXCURSIONS ON THE W. R. R. TO THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT—Parties of five or more going to the Encampment, from the same place, can gain excursion tickets on application to the agent of the L. A. R. at any station in the county. Military organizations will be carried at two cents per mile.

—J. ANDREW WILK, Commander.

The following program from the Towanda correspondent of the Elmira Gazette of Sunday last: There is a large possibility that some of our readers may be able to discover its meaning:

"An invitation has been extended by the Towanda Grange to the G. A. R. to be present at the encampment which will be held in this month, and which is to be held at Towanda, Pa., on the 24th of August." Encampment.

FRANK COOKIN, of Apalachin, received a letter from a man on a wagon on the 20th inst., from which he had been thrown, on which he had been riding on a lay night. Going down a steep hill the lay night became unmanageable and slipped forward, striking the horses, making a complete wreck, and causing the driver, GEORGE T. COOKIN, to be thrown, on which he was about twenty years of age, and a son of GEORGE COOKIN, Esq., of Apalachin.

Last week we spoke of the immense freight on the Erie and Lehigh Valley roads, as indicated by work at this station, but the half was not told. On Friday, August 20th, 300 cars of freight were forwarded on the Lehigh from this station, and a large number remained over to be shipped on Saturday next. This is one of the largest consignments of goods that we have ever seen at this station. The trains were taken to Saratoga for information.

HERICKVILLE, on Monday, September 8th,

and continue two weeks. We cheerfully recommend him to the people of that section as a thorough educator, and every way qualified and worthy of a liberal patronage.—LaBaville Advertiser.

An entertainment consisting of readings and recitations, by Mr. L. T. POWERS, of the Boston School of Oratory, who has been given in the Methodist Church next Tuesday evening.

EMMA J. ROSE, wife of FREDERICK ROSE, a painter of Port Jervis, started from that place on Tuesday last week to visit her relatives at Towanda, Pa. After her departure, Mr. ROSE found that his wife had not carried off the contents of the money-box, the earnings of months, but her wardrobe, and the first article she was given to her, was a pair of shoes, which she had received a telegram, purporting to be signed by her, dated Towanda, stating that she was sick and asking him to come at once. He went to Towanda, but she had not been there, and then he visited Owego, Waverly, Elmira, Canandaigua, Rochester, Buffalo, Hornellville, and back to Geneva, without finding trace of her or the trunk. He finally learned that his wife had left the train at Susquehanna, claiming to be sick, had stopped her baggage and went to New York. Mr. ROSE went to New York, but could find no further trace of her. Mr. ROSE thinks a Port Jervis man is implicated in the matter, and has been known to a friend in New York, and also takes steps to procure a divorce. They had married in Port Jervis ever since their marriage (ten years), and had no children.—Owego Times.

DEPARTURE OF AN AIDED PILGRIM.
On a recent 1870, and KATIE ELLIOTT, long a respected resident of Rome, fell asleep in Jesus—aged 95 years, 7 months and 23 days.

She came to Rome with her parents from Peekskill, Dutchess county, N. Y., about 50 years ago, they being among the first settlers of that town. About KATIE spent the most of her long and useful life in the same neighborhood and on the same farm where her parents were first settled; and though she lived so long in this age of improvements, she had never taken a ride upon a railroad or even seen a train of cars. She spent her time in her childhood, and on her journey to the affairs of her family—leaving behind her numerous descendants of children and grandchildren. Thirty-eight years she had been a widow, but all these years of loneliness she had the God of the widow and the fatherless for her comfort and support. A good neighbor, an affectionate mother, and a faithful Christian, she has left a bright example for us all to follow, retaining her faculties in a remarkable manner to the last. Respected and beloved friend, farewell!

Where she rests anon.
Aches and farrow were a happy subject;
Where parting words that pass our lips no more.
Another thing connected with the history of our departed friend I should not forget. Soon after she came to Rome, she met the late Mr. H. W. WATKINS, pastor of the Methodist Church at Crystal Springs, N. Y.
