Next Mr. Buel Pelouber died, and the day after Mr. BERRY's sister died, and then ISAAC PELOUBET died: the same day his wife was taken down with the fever. The remaining sick were recovering. The doctors decided this sickness and mortality was not caused by any local malaria, but was Typhoid Malarial fever, brought on by over-work in the hot sun and rendered fatal from want of aclimation. - Waterly Advocate.

THE following complimentary notice of our present excellent and energetic County Superintendent, Prof. G. W. RYAN, we clip from the Towarda corresondence of the Wilkes-Barre Record of Monday last, and fully endorse every word of it. Prof. RYAN, by his thorough knowledge of what constitutes a good eacher, and his rigid determination to grant certificates to only those whom he onsidered good, coupled with his energy in the discharge of all the duties incumbent npon him by virtue of the office he holds, has done more within the past year, to advance the common schools of this county to a higher standard of usefulness, and to unite the people in their support, than has ever been accomplished before in the same length of time. That he is "the right man in the right place," is a verdict endorsed by our whole people: "The teachers' institute closed at noon on Friday last, after a very successful term of two weeks. About four hundred teachers attended the whole two weeks. County Superintendent RYAN is entitled to much credit for the very perceptible improvements in the efficiency of the eachers. The county certificates are issued only to those who can successfully pass a rigid examination. And his busi-ness-like manner of conducting the affairs of his office, have convinced those who desire to earn a living by teaching that they are not employed to hoe corn, chop wood, or use their brain in concecting schemes for passing away the time, but to labor hard in improving the minds of those entrusted to their care. Prof. RYAN has succeeded in creating considerable enthusiaism among both teachers and scholars throughout the county, and the people at large are beginning to express their pleasure in witnessing the result.

ONE of the most enjoyable pic-nics i has ever been our good fortune to participate in was that of the Church of the Messiah (Universalist) Sunday School, of this place, held at McCarthy's Grove, Ulster, on Saturday last. A special train of three cars left the Court House Switch at nine o'clock A. M., with about 130 scholars and their parents and friends, and arrived at Ulster Depot at 920, from whence the pleasure seekers marched to the beautiful grove, where they were shortly after joined by a large delegation from Sheshequin. The day was a beautiful one, and through the timely forethought of Messrs. H.
