Our citizens, generally, I believe, are in favor of a county poor house, or in other words, a seminary for the unfortunate; a place where they may be educated to cleanliness, labor and economy, instead of being knocked down to the lowest bidder, who often proves to be very much unfitted for the charge, as they now are....The Temperance movement has reached our place. Through the ora-torical persuasions of Charles Smith, of Elmira, and Major Van Cleve, of Philadelphia, many have taken the pledge of total abstinence. In one of his lectures, VAN CLEVE said: "You may think it a trifling thing to keep this pledge, but let me tell you that while one may keep it, unless you seek and obtain help from on week, and soon business will be booming high, ninety-nine will fail Last Friday night was one of note with us.
