EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENTS.

The Educational Department in this paper has been successfully maintained for about five years. It had its origin by one of the present editors handing a resolution to the Secretary of the Teachers' Association at the session held at Towanda, in February, 1875, to the effect that a column in one of the county papers be procured for educational matters, and that a committee of five be appointed to take charge of the same. When the feasibility of the resolution was discussed, some of the members of the Association predicted that it could not be maintained, for the reason that it had been tried and failed. There have been a number of changes in the committee of Associate Editors since the column was inserted in this paper, but with a few exceptions the educational matter has appeared weekly ever since. The editors labored, in writing and supplying matter for a long time, and felt that their labors were not fully appreciated by the teachers. About this time more interest seemed to be manifested, and the teachers felt encouraged—and continued in their labor of love. Soon its beneficial results began to become known and felt, and continued until within less than a year there seemed to be a demand for an Educational Department in the Bradford Republican, which is also edited by a committee appointed by the Teachers' Association, and has been maintained since. Since the establishment of the last named department the demand has grown, and the result was, that at the last Teachers' County Institute, steps were taken for the publishing of a paper devoted to education, which has resulted in the publication of the School Journal. Thus, we notice, what was alleged would be a failure, has proved to be the father of an another educational department and journal of education. We are glad to find interest enough in education in the county to record the history and progress of the educational departments and journals—as springing from the establishment of this department in the REPORTER. The people of Bradford County cannot fail to be profited by such means of educational news—and literature.

IMPARTING AND TEACHING.

The power of imparting to others is possessed in different degrees, by different individuals. Many persons make this power or faculty one of the most important requisites in a successful teacher.

Children of course must become acquainted with facts. Facts may be imparted, told or communicated. That there is a great difference in the powers of different persons to impart facts to primary pupils in an interesting and pleasant way, we will admit. For more advanced pupils, this faculty of imparting is not required. After children have acquired a sufficient number of facts, they are in a position to help themselves and to learn, or acquaint themselves with fact. Pupils must learn by their own efforts in order to strengthen their minds, and all that a teacher should do is to guide and direct the pupil's inquiry, and see that he gets the proper understanding of the things he studies and learns.

One of the faults of many teachers is, that they tell too much. They are too ready to assist the pupil when obstacles or difficulties present themselves. The teachers who make this mistake labor under the impression that they are imparting knowledge, while the fact is they are depriving the pupils of mental effort the only true method of developing mind.

The only true method of teaching is to teach in such a way as to cause the pupils to investigate, to think, and to act for themselves. To determine the best methods of instruction the teacher should ask himself the question, how, and in what way can I present this subject so as to cause my pupils to investigate, think, study and act?

To do this requires a knowledge of the faculties of the mind, and how to call out those faculties. The teacher who has that knowledge and tact to use it practically, will succeed in the true art of teaching, and teach the pupils habits of study, investigation and thinking, which will enable them to educate themselves.

DISTRICT INSTITUTES.

District Institutes are more frequent this winter throughout the county than heretofore. In some townships the teachers are allowed their time by the directors, while in others the teachers maintain their district institutes, and teach twenty-two days for a month. This is a very credible showing for the teachers of the county. It shows that the majority of the teachers in the county are interested in their work, and desire to improve. The only way in which teachers can convince the people that district institutes are of any value to them, is to have the teachers take an interest and make their meetings useful by not only practical discussions, but practical and school room work. To carry out this idea, we would suggest that a class in the several branches of study be invited to attend, and that teachers be appointed to take charge of the class. In this manner we think the teachers may have a practical example of conducting a class recitation. In this way the teacher can show how he conducts a recitation, and need not tell how he does it. Besides being a benefit to the teachers, it would be profitable for the pupils. If any should try this practical idea of conducting the District Institutes, we desire to hear from them through these columns.

INSTITUTES.—The Teachers County Institute of Luzerne County, was held last week. The attendance was large, but the exercises consisted mostly of lectures and addresses, by professors and principals of normal schools, etc., who are generally fond of airing their knowledge upon such occasions, and make it pleasant and agreeable for the teachers, and induce as many of them to attend their schools as possible. This formerly was the way of conducting institutes in Bradford County until the present Superintendent took charge, and we are pleased with his method of requiring the teachers to do the work, and not only be passive recipients.

THE number of scholars attending school in Bradford County during the school year of 1878, were as follows: Males, 7,084; females, 7,117; total, 15,101. The average percentage of attendance was eighty, and the average cost per scholar was eighty-three cents per month.

ATHENS township has twenty schools, and has more scholars attending school than any other township or borough in the county. Towanda Borough has but twenty-two scholars less than Athens township, and employs but nine teachers.

EXHIBITION OF SCHOLARS' WORK.

A. J. Davis, Superintendent of Clarion County, in his report of 1878, says:

"A County Educational Headquarters has been established, and has two hundred and twenty schools, and Bradford has four hundred and seven—and yet the County Commissioners of Clarion County furnish a room in the court house for exhibition and safe keeping of scholars' work. If a county with half the number of schools can furnish a room for such a purpose, why cannot Bradford County, which has twice the territory and number of schools?

That a room in which may be placed scholars' work, and be exhibited and safely kept would be another step in the scale of progress in our schools we firmly believe.

The educational display at the County Fair in October last, was excellent for the first attempt, and a suitable room should be provided, in which the various exhibits could be placed and safely kept. We think this a subject the next Teachers' Association should discuss, and if deemed advisable to appoint a committee to interview the County Commissioners, and if possible to procure a room for this purpose.

MALE TEACHERS.

Male teachers have been in greater demand throught the county this fall than for a number of years past. As a rule, we think our schools would be better if more male teachers were employed. The trouble is that wages are so low, that the young man who is qualified to teach, can obtain better wages at most any kind of employment. In this county there are few who receive sufficient salary to induce them to follow teaching as a profession. In the Southeastern counties of the State the male teachers are paid from $30 to $50 per month in the rural districts. We have known a teacher to teach in the same country school for from five to ten years, in one of those counties; this is but one of the many instances where teachers were paid fair wages, and retained in the same position for years—even in a country school.

We think if the same policy were pursued by the people of our county, the schools would improve more rapidly than they do.

TEACHERS generally admit the necessity, and the importance of teaching pupils to compose. Some persons assert that if a person knows or understands a thing, he can tell it. We are not ready to admit this statement as true, it may be in part. It is one thing to have the idea, and quite another to be able to express that idea, so that others may understand it. To put those ideas on paper, and to express them, in conversation or to speak them, calls into action different powers of mind. We can see a greater necessity for being able to write or compose, than to be able to speak in public. Few of the many men in the world are ever called upon to speak in public—while there is never a man, even the humblest laborer, who is not compelled sometimes, to write a letter, which necessitates an expression of thought by writing them. This can only be accomplished by practice, and knowing something about the art of composition, and this can be learned in no more suitable place than in the common schools.

TROY Borough pays the highest rate of school tax in the county—thirteen mills—the average in the county being about six mills.

RANSOM COTTAGE RANGE,
With the Expansion Broiling Chamber,
—AND—
SMYTH'S PATENT DUPLEX GRATE.
With or without Low Closet, Reservoir, or Ornamental Elevated Shelf.
The Greatest Combination of Valuable Improvements Ever Presented in one Range.
After the flattering experience of the past year, having had a very large and extended sale, we find that the RANSOM COTTAGE is universally conceded to be the most desirable Range of its class in the market. Its general features are the same as in the celebrated Ransom Range, which has for years been considered the finest Range made. It contains the Patent Expansion Broiling Chamber, which is universally acknowledged to be the only successful and practical broiling attachment in use. It is also furnished with Smyth's Patent Duplex Grate. This celebrated Grate is extremely simple in its construction. It has now been in active use for more than five years, and in view of the universally successful experience of its operation and durability during that time, as well as the highly satisfactory results obtained by us in our own thorough trial of its qualities, we have no hesitation in pronouncing it the only complete and successful arrangement for removing clinkers and refuse from the fire-box instantaneously, thoroughly and cleanly, while the degree of combustion obtained has never, in our opinion, been equaled with any other style of grate.
The RANSOM COTTAGE is a thoroughly first-class Range in all its portions and appointments, while the price is extremely low. It is so constructed that it can be changed from a Low Closet to a Single Oval Range, by merely lifting the upper part of the Range from the Low Closet and placing it upon a set of ornamented legs. All sizes can also be furnished with the Ornamental Elevated Shelf. The large Sifted Ash Pan is taken out at the end of the Range instead of the front—a much more convenient and cleanly arrangement—and the capacious Warming Closet extends underneath the whole Range. The Hot Water Reservoir is heated entirely from the bottom, and is of a larger capacity than will be found on any other Range of this class. All the minor details in the construction of this Range have received the closest attention. It has highly burnished ends, nickle-plated knobs of a new and beautiful pattern, nickle-plated panels, nickle-plated Towel Racks, and the mounting and fittings is in the best style.

I am using Ely's Cream Balm and feeling very beneficial results. It is the only remedy of a great many I have tried which has acted as a cure. I have been troubled with Catarrh for over 15 years, my head has been almost free of the time, stopped and very much inflamed. It has opened my nostrils and reduced the inflammation in my head—in fact I feel I am being cured. It is the only remedy I have found which can be applied without pain and dread. My eyes are improving so that I can stand strong light, which I have not been able to for years. NATHANIEL FEGLEY.

STOP THAT COUGH
BY USING
DR. GERMAN'S COUGH AND CONSUMPTION CURE.
Warranted to give relief or money refunded.
READ THE FOLLOWING LETTER WHICH SAYS:
Messrs. Howarth & Ballard.
Gentlemen: I take pleasure in recommending Dr. German's Cough and Consumption Cure, as I have suffered with a severe cough since last May. Have used all kinds of cough Mixtures, but could get no relief. Mornings after getting up would feel I would be so choked up that I could hardly breathe; also frequently vomiting severely. A friend directed me to use Dr. German's Cough and Consumption Cure. I did so, with but little faith at the time, but after using I changed my mind, and I can conscientiously say, after taking only one bottle, I did not only obtain relief but am not troubled with that fullness in the morning. My cough has stopped, and I can obtain a good night's sleep—something not enjoyed by me for weeks before. Will close by saying if this letter will be of any benefit to you, you may have my consent to make it public. Yours very respectfully. J. E. DOUSHAMER,
171 Bleecker St., Utica.
Remember that after using ½ of a bottle and you are not satisfied return the bottle and get your money as we sell no cure, no pay. Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle, as we are authorized to sell on these terms. Turner & Gordon agents for Towanda, Pa. 7-6m

Farm and Household.

Hints For the Work of the Month.

How do You Stand?—One cannot lay out his work to advantage, without knowing precisely how he stands with regard to his business. The beginning of the year is the appropiate time for ascertaining it. Frequently an account of business is kept for a month or two, and then neglected. If it is only to encourage habits of regularity and perseverance, it will be time well spent to keep an account, not only of money affairs, but a record of events for every day. This tends to beget promptness and system in every detail of farm work, and in business affairs, that, foresight and economy which are everywhere the prime essentials of success.

Keep a Record of the events of each day's work, and farm-life. One of the boys or girls should do this. A book will be needed, ruled with plain lines, on which to make the entries; put down the condition of the weather, the work done, and by whom; purchases and sales made, indeed, anything that may be needed for future reference, or that should be entered in the account book, which will thus become a valuable and interesting record of the farm.

Make an Inventory:—Put down every thing you possess, from the farm itself, to the small tools and utensils—and value each item fairly. Enter the money on hand, and also every debt owed. This is the first in beginning an account. The property owned, and money on hand, will be on side of the account, and the debts on the other. The balance will show how the farmer stands. This account will be the Account of Stock.

Purchases and Sales, are entered in the daily record, and from that into a purchase and sale book; except the cash transactions, which go into the cash book.

The Cash Book.—Every payment and receipt of money for purchases, sales, or for wages, should be entered in the cash book; this should be done every evening, and before it is forgotten; all these entries are transferred to a ledger to the proper accounts. The work is very simple and easy, and there are farmer's girls who keep all their father's accounts in the most accurate manner.

Hiring Men.—A farmer should try to make work for a hired man, or several if possible. If he can find profitable work for them, he is making money for himself. A few months wages spent in procuring or making manure, draining, clearing off stone, getting out stumps, or, otherwise making the farm more productive, will be well invested.

Keep the Stables Clean; clear out the manure every morning, and scrape or card of all filth from the animals. The stable should be made so warm, that the manure will not freeze at night; a lower temperature will either demand a larger amount of food, or the animals will fall off in condition.

Pile the Manure in square compact heaps; and if it is not frozen when thrown out, it will heat and ferment in the pile; but if once frozen, it will be likely to remain so during all the cold weather.

Cut the Litter.—If the litter is cut into 3-inch lengths, or even smaller, it will hold more moisture, will make better and finer manure, and will keep the animals cleaner than long litter. The gain in the quality of the manure, in one year, the saving of time in the handling, and increased effectiveness of it, will pay good interests on the cost of a wind-mill, and a fodder cutter, to do the cutting. But if the stormy and disagreeable days are chosen to cut up straw for this purpose, an abundant supply can be made. A broad axe can be purchased for $2 50, and with this and a block, a shief of straw may be cut into 3-inch chaff, in half a minute. Two persons, one to hold the chaff on the block or plank, and the other to use the axe, would soon cut up a ton of straw. Where hardwood saw-dust, dry swamp muck, or pine straw can be procured, these make excellent litter and manure.

Economy in Feeding, is a very important consideration. In some cases half the food used is wasted. Cutting the fodder has proved a saving of one-third to one-half. Where but 10 head of stock are fed, if the feed of one-third or one-half can be saved, it is simply a large increase of the resources of the farm, and is sufficient to pay the cost of a good cutter and the time expended in cutting.
