THERE is an effort being made to in luce Governor Hoyr to call an extra session of the Legislature. It is claimed that there is some need of further amendment of the revenue laws, and of making, appropriations for certain charitable intitutions, which failed last winter through the blunder of a clerk. There is however, no danger that the revenues ing in repair. will not be sufficient to meet all the financial obligations of the State during the year, and the Governor will make a great mistake should he yield to the clamor of those who desire a session of the Legisture.

ANOTHER old merchant has gone wrong n the person of BENJAMIN C. BOGERT. Freasurer of the New York Produce Exchange, who is a defaulter to the amount of $31,000. Mr. B. was a highly respected merchant, in whom general confidence was felt. After the discovery was made, he died suddenly at the house of a friend in the city, and it is supposed that his death was caused by a dose of laudanum, taken purposely.

The legal-tender question will not be settled by the Supreme Court, at present. That body having unanimously, refused to advance the BUTLER-Crittenden case on the docket, and it will take two or three years to reach it in regular order. The only point involved is the constitutional ity of the act of 1878, authorizing the reissuing of legal-tender notes after they have been paid into the Treasury, and Congress will probably repeal that act, before the learned judges have an opportunity of considering the question.

As investigation of the financial affairs of the city of Elizabeth, N. J., shows that startling irregularities have been com mitted by those interested with the man agement of the city affairs. Bonds have been sold in violation of law, and warrants drawn without authority, and there is general crookedness. The parties derelict are to be brought to answer.
