THE recent statement of Secretary SHERMAN, concerning the public debt, shows a decrease during the past month $11,000,000. This should be gratifying to the people at large, and at the same time is highly creditable to the financial skill and consummate ability of the Secretary of the Treasury.

THAT was a ghastly murder in Ontario, Canada, when, in the small hours of Wednes lay morning, masked men massacred a whole family, including both parents, two sons and a niece, and then burned their bodies in the flames which burned the house. For the credit of human nature this horror has but few recent paraliels.

> THE Republican party, fortunately, has amongst its leaders several men who are recognized by the people as fit and available candidates for the Presidency. The choice is not parrowed to one man: we could name a dozen, any one of whom would receive the cordial and enthusiastic support of the party.
