SUICIDE. WILLE S. BULLOCK, a young man about 26 years of age, and a nephew of Burron S. Parsons, who resides near Gilletts this county, committed suicide at the Elmira House, in Elmira, on Monday night last. Bullock, registered at the Elmira House on Monday afternoon, and at bed time was assigned room No. 19. About 11 o'clock Tuesday morning the chamber maid being unable to gain an entrance to the room in consequence of the door being locked, notified the propri-etor of the fact, when a step-ladder was procured, ascending which the maid open-ed the transom over the deor to the room, and in looking in discovered the fortu-nate man on the bed partly undressed. Im mediately on the young woman's informing the proprietor of what she saw in the coom, says the Free Press, (the proprietor) summoned Police Officer Purcell, who with the chambermaid went up stairs. She climbed into the room through the transom window and unlocked the door, Purcell then entering the off and a cloth over his head. A bottle that had contained chloroform was suspended over his head, balanced in its place by a boot over the other side of the headboard. The mouth of the bottle was downward and from it went an India rub ber tube, the other end of which was in the young man's nostrils. The lamp was that he had been dead all night, his body being frozen stiff. oner Dundas was immediately notifled. On the person of the young man was found two letters sealed and stamped One was directed to Burton S. Parsons a dilletts, the other to Miss Mrytia E Wheat Horseheads. With them was note directed to Mr. Casey asking him to mail the letters; and saying that his bill would be paid if his friends were not Bullock was an unmarried man. Local Correspondence.

ORWELL ITEMS.

People are guessing on the connucdrun sually propounded at this season of the ear—viz: "Who are to be the townshi officers?" Take a woman's advice an adopt the prospectus of the Bradron Reporter, and "Take the Best" especially for school directors....The Library Association sends greeting to the "Thirty Ladies" of Towanda, and rejoices in their prospect of success in establishing a good library.... An oyster supper is to be held at DIMMICE'S Hall. for the benefit of the Orwell library, of Friday evening. February 20th. It Friday evening, February 20th. bound to be a success—socially and final cially-so say those who are most interest Orwell, February 10th, 1880.

SMITHERE D At last we have snow enough for sleighing, and it is being improved by those who have waited for it so long....We understand that Mr Crawropn intend to teach a select school here in the spring. Those intending to apply for certificate at the spring examination will do well to town that parties from Troy expect to urchase the dry goods estal M. BULLOCK. S. does not lack for stores, there being no less than seven at the present time....We have not yet heard whether either of our public houses are can to make drunkards and paupers of ar boys. It is a strange and lamentabl fact that there are good (?) Christian men among us who will deliberately attach their names to a petition asking that such license be granted. A very large majority of our citizens want no license; if our public houses cannot live without it, let them close up. But give us no dram

Smithfield, Feb. 11, 1880 BARCLAY. A lodge of the I. O. P. of T. was insti tuted at this place on Monday evening, January 26th, 1880, by John D. This was, indeed, a pleasant affair Mr. and Mrs. DICKERMAN received each guest with that hospitality that every body loves. As they placed their grand parlors and saloons at their disposal, light triumphant. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Moates were there with their baby HAROLD, which the young ladies took special uelight in holding and kissing and pronouncing him the fattest baby in the vicinity. Prof. R. W. KENDALL was present with his choice cremona violin, and by request favored the company with the "Mocking Bird," which he renders so charmingly as to hold his listener spellbound to the close of the piece. Mr JAMES KENDALL accompanied him on the organ. That only can be called music that commands attention. None could have gone from there with any other than a feeling that they, had received a donation instead of giving one. Only twenty five cents each for a fifty-cent supper, and the oysters prepared by Mr. T. C. Proc-TER!...The thirteenth annual election School took place at the Church on Sun day, as follows: Superintendent, Mr. D. BOURNE; Assistant Superintendent, D E. A. EVERITT: Secretary, Mr. LER LIE GEROULD: Treasurer, Mrs. P. BEARDS-LEE; Librarian, Miss Belle Mead; Chorister, Mr. L. D. Hill; Organist, Miss LILLIE SMITH; Assistant Organist, Miss ELLA LOMAX.... A barn and shed belong-ing to Mr. JOB MORLEY, and containing a quantity of hay and stalks, in which Mr. Lewis Hiney had an interest, was burned January 29th: no insurance. RICE, of Elmira, were visiting friends in this place two weeks since... Miss HAT-TIE E. BURNS is attending the Graded School at Towards this winter... Ambiington township continues unabated. RUNDELL ollowed with a much larger house, one that would do credit to a village or city; Mr. R. M. PRUNE with a large barn. Rev. A. Lane, not to be left behind, came to time with as good a house as the best.

Mr. JEREMIAH TRAVIS is finishing a new and stylish dwelling at Luther's Mills.
Mr. L. P. Gustin, on Kendall Hill, not be outdid by his father or any of the "Sugar Creekers," first built the finest gambrel-roofed barn in the township, and s now completing a dwelling to match it. Mr. P. P. Burns, a new corn and grainhouse, shed with stanchions and henery; Mr. JUSTIN MORLEY, new dwelling; Mr. R. M. KNAPP, preparing to build a new house in the spring... The coming elec-tion promises to be a hotly-contested one
