EDITOR REPORTER :- Our little village has been usually quiet during the past week, and with few exceptions would have rolled into eternity as many another On last Friday evening at about seven o'clock, a number of ladies and gentlemen were seen to congregate at the residence of JAMES MATHER, and in a short time had formed a line of march, carrying mys-terious packages, baskets, etc., instead of implements of war; proceeding up to Smithfield street to Church street, thence down Church street to the residence of Mrs. and Mrs. WILLIAM H. IRVING, who had just returned from their bridal tour, and settled down to the realities of house keeping. Having obtained admittance, the company coolly informed Mr. IRVING "that they had come to make him a visit;" althou h taken entirely by surprise, the young host and hostess soon made the assembly feel at home, and a pleasant visit was enjoyed by all. Of course the mysterious packages, baskets, etc., spoken of, contained nothing less than a bounteous supply of delicacies, which the ladies of Ulster know so well how to prepare Professor J. B. NEW YORK, June 5, 1879. MESSIS. ELY BROTHERS, OWGO, N. N.—Gentlemen: I have used your Catarrh Remedy, Cream Balm, and experienced great relief. In fact it is the only remedy that gave anything like comfort from a distressing and nauscous complaint. In my family I have found it specially good in colds affecting the head and nostrile, with my children and others. The relief has been almost instant. We consider it to be invaluable for family use. Very truly,

That Life Insurance Companies resist losses, has the least foundation of all the charges made against them. Prior to 1876 the records of seventy-one companies had been obtained. There had been paid without litigation on 46,338 policies, $134,625,376. There had been resisted $88 policies, covering $1.751.201. Of these, 88, insuring $389,677, were paid after litigation, and 110, insuring $513,-232 were not paid, the Courts having decided in favor of the companies. One hundred and ninety policies, covering $857,292, were undetermined. This shows that only about 11 per cent. of the losses reported have been resisted.
