FRANKLIN'S Concert, Wednesday evening next.

ON Tuesday night of last week, a house belonging to J. W. NICHOLS, in Burlington, was destroyed by fire. The building was known as the "Old Nichols House," having been the residence of J. W. NICHOLS' father.

THERE is one public gathering that inclement weather never affects. We allude to the young bloods who gather in front of the church doors after evening services to stare at the worshippers as they come out.

POWELL & CO., address a few remarks in another column, to ladies, in regard to silks. Their stock is an immense one, and our lady readers should be sure to call at their establishment before making purchases in this line.

A TROY correspondent says that a female fiend living on Mackney street, in that village, threw a box full of pepper in the face of a little boy living in her neighborhood Thursday. The child suffered terribly, but owing to skillful treatment is slowly recovering.

SAYS the Alba correspondent of the Canton Sentinel of last week: "The firm of REYNOLDS & EVANS has nearly completed a number of omnibuses to be sent to the city. PETER HERDIC, M. C. MERCUR and several other gentlemen were in town this week inspecting them."

WORK is well along on the steam saw mill on the McKAY place, says the Canton Sentinel, near the Carbon Run branch of the Schrader. The proprietors expect to have the mill in operation within a month's time, when the steam whistle will first be heard in these forests.

THE Canton Sentinel says, "we never could conjecture the use of PETER HERDIC'S elephantine brick edifice at Minnequa. But we see how it all is now. It was designed for a wagon manufactory, and will soon turn out thousands of the vehicles that are to "revolutionize local transportation."

ELSEWHERE we give the statement of the Receipts and Expenditures of Towanda Borough for the year ending March 31st, as "officially" compiled. It will, undoubtedly, prove interesting reading to the tax-payers of our Borough. It will be observed that the total indebtedness of the Borough is but about $2,000.

THE RICHMOND & VON BOYLE Comedy Company, presented the laughable Comedy, at Mercur Hall, on Thursday evening last, of "Our Candidate." It is but justice to say of this troupe that it is among the best that have ever visited our village, and should they conclude to again visit us, they will be greeted with such an audience as will put "standing room" even at a premium.

FIRE.—The dwelling house of A. BAXTER, at West Burlington, was destroyed by fire April 9th, together with most of its contents. The fire caught in the roof, and Mr. B. and family being absent, had made such progress when discovered, that it was beyond control. The furniture in the kitchen and in one sleeping-room, was all that was saved from the burned building. The loss is about $800. No insurance.

LUKE DOLAN and sister, while returning from this place to their home in Herrick, on Wednesday evening of last week, were thrown from their wagon near M. H. LANING'S, in Wysox, in consequence of their horses becoming frightened and unmanageable at the giving way of a portion of the harness. The lady was but slightly injured, but Mr. DOLAN received a number of severe bruises and a broken nose.

SAYS a Canton correspondent: "The Odd Fellows dedicated the new hall on Thursday afternoon. Notwithstanding the bad weather there was a good turnout. The grand officers of the State were present and everything passed off very nicely. The hall is one of the finest in the State. In the evening JAMES B. NICHOLSON, the Grand Secretary, delivered a lecture in Citizens' Hall. The hall was packed and the lecture fine."

DON'T fail to attend the Franklin's Concert.

WE credit the Canton Sentinel with the first "trout story" of the season. And, taking into consideration that this has been rather a cold spring in which to germinate fish stories, we consider the Sentinel's effort not a mean one. Here is what it published last week:

"Some boys set eel hooks one night recently in Towanda creek, and caught a trout weighing a pound. Trout are rare fish in that stream."

ABOUT twelve miles from Canton, says the Sentinel, in Sullivan County, is a sheet of water called Merritt's Lake. It is somewhat larger than Lake Nephawin, and is often visited by fishermen in quest of sunfish, catfish, and eels. Recently the lake has been stocked with bass, and when three years expire, before which time bass fishing is not allowed, another attraction will be added to those which Northern Sullivan now presents to pleasure seekers.

THREE fast trotters left this place for the Philadelphia races last Saturday; they were shipped in one car and reached the city the next morning. JOHN O. WARD'S "Larkin," M. D. SWART'S "Josephine" and J. G. PATTON'S "Ripton." The two latter, "Josephine" and "Ripton," have received some training from L. S. KINGSBURY, whose successful development of trotting speed in the noble animal is well understood in this section. The races commence at the New Hunting Park, May 4th.

SAYS an Athens correspondent:—"A horse owned by C. C. RISHEL, of this place, chose to back when the Dr. wanted him to go forward. The consequence was he backed himself off a perpendicular wall over fifteen feet high, into the Susquehanna river, sitting down on the dashboard, which didn't hold him. Strange to say the horse came out almost without any marks, but the buggy was a total wreck. The water being only twelve or fifteen inches deep, the wonder is how the horse came out alive."

THE LeRaysville Adcertiser entered upon its second year with its issue of last week. It celebrated the event by hoisting the Republican State Ticket, and announcing that hereafter it chooses to be numbered in the ranks of "stalwart" Republicanism. Good for the Adcertiser. It has been, through its first year, a bright, spicy little sheet; well edited and excellently printed. We welcome it to the ranks of the Republican party, and hope it may see the day when thousands shall acknowledge it as a leader.

IN connection with the Reading Room at Athens, efforts are now being made to establish a Library. The Gazette says that "Books have been opened at the store of G. T. ERCKENBRACK, and lists are in the hands of each of the Executive Committee of the Athens Reading Room for subscriptions to the capital stock of the Athens Library Association, limited to 100 shares. As soon as the stock shall be subscribed for, a meeting of the subscribers will be held for the payment of $2 on each share, and the transaction of the necessary business to place the Association on a working basis.

THE Elmira Advertiser's Troy correspondent says: "A man by the name of NELSON, while attending a logging bee on the premises of JAMES GREEN, on Armenia Mountain, on Thursday, had his leg broken. The fracture was near the joint, both bones being broken. Dr. E. G. TRACY, who was called at a late hour Thursday evening, fears that the joint is injured. It is unfortunate that there was whisky at the bee, for there is no evidence that any of the parties were intoxicated, but many uncharitable people will attribute the accident to the frequent visitation of the jug."

HINTON of the Athens Gazette, has become tired of keeping out of his paper the doings in and about Athens "just for the sake of the feelings of intimate friends" of those who commit misdemeanors. In the last Gazette we find the following, and we hope CHARLEY will live right up to what he says:

"Last week we had two or three splendid rows, and early on Monday business opened in full blast. We have kept quiet all this time, hoping that no mention of them would be made, but as other papers are picking up the items, under our very nose, and making capital news out of them, we cannot remain longer quiet, and hereafter a full account will be given, regardless of the parties concerned. If people will get down in the mud, we can't help it if their names do appear in public print."

FRANKLIN'S Concert.

ONE of the queer things in business is the propensity of people to seek irregular methods of advertising. The Cincinnati Gazette says it is unaccountable the prices some men pay for sticking their advertisement in irregular places. Especially is this so when compared with their unwillingness to pay anything for advertising in the regular channels. Advertisements, thrust into irregular and unbusiness-like places, impress the general mind that the concern is of a similar character. But an advertisement in a general newspaper of first-class standing, carries the impression that the advertiser has a standing in his own community, which he is not afraid to show to his neighbors, and that he does not shrink from competition with the best of them. If any one is going to a place to buy, whether he be a trader or buying for his own use, and has to seek dealers through advertisements, where will he look for them? To registers, almanacs, theatre bill frames, in railway stations, occasional advertising sheets or circulars? On the contrary, he looks to the most reputable newspaper of the place, and he thinks that advertising in these gives an assurance of the good standing of the advertiser and his business enterprise and of the sufficiency of his stock.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The following has been published in the Athens Gazette for some time past, over the name of C. O. HUNTINGTON:

NOTICE.—Any party who has borrowed money of the Athens Building and Loan Association, or Mutual Building and Saving Fund Association of Towanda, or Towanda Building and Saving Fund Association, or Bradford Loan and Building Association of Athens Township, may learn something to their advantage by calling on me before making any further payments to said associations.

LARGE FIRE AT SAYRE.

A fire broke out in the rear of S. F. FELLOWS' grocery store, in Sayre, on Saturday morning last, at about ten o'clock, and in less than thirty minutes two of the largest business blocks of that thriving village were in ashes. FELLOWS' grocery store occupied one-half of one block, and H. FISHER occupied the other half as a dry goods' store. PORTER & CO.'s drug store adjoining was soon destroyed, as was also BUTLER'S restaurant. Five families occupied the second floors of the stores, and several of the members barely escaped with their lives. The entire loss will aggregate nearly $7,000, the insurance amounting to $5,600. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

ABOUT TOMATOES.

Dr. ALLEN, in a communication to the Athens Gazette of last week, has this to say about tomatoes:

"Are tomatoes healthy? We, unhesitatingly say yes, if used within the limits of moderation. We do not think they should be used very freely without being cooked. They possess an acid that excites the salivary glands even to salivation in some people, and a long persistence in their use may cause a spongy state of the gums, and cases are reported where the teeth have become loose, and have fallen out. Such cases are quite rare. They are an appetizer, and judiciously used stimulate the digestive organs, causing the food eaten to be better assimilated, and the body better nourished. Dr. DIO LEWIS say that tomatoes should never be eaten without being cooked. We are not of his opinion, having known many to use them daily for a long time without injury, but the fruit should be fully ripe. The use of the unripe fruit is questionable, even if used as a pickle, yet it may be used moderately with as little risk as other pickles. The banishing of tomatoes from the list of fruits prepared by our housekeepers, would be a severe loss to them, as they are easily prepared and cheaply produced, and are quite a luxury to very many.

In conclusion, we unhesitatingly say to all lovers of tomatoes, eat all you want of them, confining your appetite within the bounds of moderation, as in other articles of diet."

FINANCIAL REPORT.

At the recent session of the Presbytery of Lackawanna, at West Pittston, the following resolution was adopted:

The Presbytery would cordially commend the fidelity and efficiency of these Christian women, and would earnestly urge upon all our churches to form auxiliary societies within their bounds."

The Rev. P. H. BROOKS was directed to tabulate the report and have it printed, with the above action, at the expense of the Presbytery, in one paper in each district.

WHY THEY REJOICE.

The Wyalusing correspondent of the Elmira Adcertiser, of a recent date, has the following to say about the splendid new grist mill just completed at that place:

"The people of this section are, and have great reason to be hilarious over the fact of the successful starting of the new and elegant flouring mill of George H. Welles, Esq., at this place. It is now complete in all it appointments, and at a cost of twenty thousand dollars. A brief history, your correspondent deems to be in order and of interest to those who may become its patrons. On the site of this structure stood the old "grist mill" owned by Judge HOLLENBACK, of Wilkes-Barre, a long time since deceased. Mr. WELLES who was manorial heir of the late ELLES J. WELLES, came into possession of this, the HOLLENBACK mill. Mr. WELLES concluded to build new, and also concluded at the same time to be true to his nature and erect a mill, than which none better should be found in the country or of more modern appointments. He looked the State over for a model, and in the spring of 1878 contracted with JOHN T. NOYES & SON, of Buffalo, N. Y., to build a mill on the said site that should fulfill all the requirements of the best "modern mill." The said firm were to furnish the machinery, and do all the work for about $10,000—WELLES furnishing all the materials. Ground was broken about July, 1878. The company at once struck trouble in the nature of quicksand, causing them a loss to start with of about six hundred dollars. The mill was to be completed in December following, but was not till over one year. The company put in about $2,000 worth of machinery extra from contract.

"When it was pronounced complete Mr. WELLES' miller started the mill, but to the great consternation of all parties concerned, it was utterly a "no go." The wheels were entirely inadequate to propel the immense machinery. The company taking the position that the contract was fulfilled and Mr. WELLES that it was not, matters came to a dead-lock and so remained until in February last, when Mr. WELLES employed and contracted with the "Richmond City Mill Works," of Richmond, Indiana, to complete his mill. In the mean time suit was brought against the aforesaid delinquents to recover for the injury sustained on the part of Mr. WELLES, and is now by rule of the defendants in one of the highest courts of the State. March 1st, ultimo, JAMES ALBERTSON came here as wheel-right for the said Richmond, and has with several assistants, been busily engaged with repairs up to the 20th instant. By removing, changing, altering, and placing in new machinery, the mill now gives indication of great success. Your correspondent paid the mill a visit, and together with Mr. ALBERTSON looked it over carefully, and although not a judge, considered it, together with the snow-white flour it delivered to the miller (a sample of which in biscuits was not only seen but tasted), prime in all respects, and an elegant mill. Mr. WELLES is now prepared to furnish the "new process" flour to merchants, dealers, and all customers at home or abroad, at the lowest rates known to the trade. He has also prepared to do all custom work brought to his mill. In a word Mr. WELLES has conferred on this community, as we trust, a lasting blessing, and on himself a profitable investment. Now let the good work of improvement go on, till Wyalusing shall become what her central position demands, a large manufacturing town."
