A TERRIBLE storm of wind and rain passed over the town of Ridgely the early part of last week. It swept down the valley in its path, tearing up trees, throwing down fences and mowing sheds. It struck a portion of the barn of H. A. MARCELLUS and entirely demolished it. The building was filled with farm tools; a platform wagon was also in it that was badly broken up. The storm reached about half a mile in width, the wind accompanying it falling in torrents and drowning the earth as it had not been drenched for many days. It lasted only a few minutes, but did not leave behind its brief existence.

ALLEN, of Bethlehem, Pa., has taken the contract for the carpenter work, and J. GEORGE, of the same place, that of the masonry work. S. VONORUP has charge of the masonry. The building will have one hundred feet on Desmond street, and will extend one hundred feet along Wilbur avenue. It is to be three stories of brick and after the designs by Engineer A. W. STRANMAN."

THIS community was shocked on Wednesday last week, by the announcement of a double affliction which had fallen upon the family of JOSEPH E. PROCTOR, of Wyoma, in the death of two of his eldest children, JOSEPH M., aged twenty-eight years, and MARTHA C., aged twenty-two years, occurring on the same day, and almost at the same hour, this bereavement was as unusual as it was unexpected and afflicting, and the heartfelt sympathies of our people were universally extended to the stricken family and relatives. The son, who had arrived at manhood, had been sick for some time, but the daughter was in the full flush of youth and health. Her sickness was but of a few hours, and her death sudden and unexpected. She died about 9 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and at six o'clock he breathed his last. The funeral on Friday afternoon was attended by an immense concourse of sympathizing neighbors and friends.

FRED ALLEN, aged about thirteen years, son of ALBERT A. ALLEN, of Orwell, in company with a number of young boys went in bathing in the mill pond at Potterville, on Saturday last, and getting into deep water, and unable to swim, was drowned before assistance could reach him. The body was recovered in a few minutes after the accident, but efforts to resuscitate by the physicians who were promptly summoned, proved unavailing. The funeral took place on Sunday. The afflicted parents have the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community.

THE Scranton Republican says that the attempt to organize a German HANCOCK Club in that city proved a perfect failure. Notwithstanding the meeting had been extensively advertised for two weeks, the night set apart for formation of the club found but five Germans at the designated hall where the organization would be consummated. We learn from the Review that WALTER BROWN, son of Colonel AYERS, of Massachusetts, was seriously injured by a hog on Thursday afternoon. He was passing through a field where the animal was feeding when it turned upon him, throwing him to the ground and inflicting a frightful wound with its tusk on the young man's thigh and another on the neck. Very fortunately workmen were near by, and went to Mr. Brown's assistance or the vicious animal would undoubtedly have destroyed him. Dr. WOODRUFF was called and dressed the wounds. He thinks the patient will soon recover.

SAYS the Waverly Advocate of last week: "The Democrats of South Waverly have been scouring the country for miles around that Borough to get up a list of names for a HANCOCK and ENGLISH club, and they have succeeded in enrolling about a hundred names among which were found a large number of Republicans who are known to be supporters of GARFIELD and ARTHUR, besides quite a number who are not naturalized, and some who are under age and consequently are not voters. Such kind of clubs are sure to knock HANCOCK and ENGLISH on the head election day."

ON Monday evening last, a barn belonging to GEO. BRISK, of Litchfield, was struck by lightning and burned with its contents. A large amount of hay, grain, farming implements, etc., was consumed. The horses with harness were also lost. The fire started at the time, and when it reached the door he beheld the flames bursting from his barn, and the fruits of many days' toil ascending in vapory clouds. About three acres of oats were yet in the field, the rest of his harvest was burned. The loss is partially covered by insurance, but Mr. B. is a young energetic farmer, but his loss is a severe one.

THE friends of Rev. J. BARON FRISCH, of the Baptist Church, gave him a surprise visit on Tuesday evening of this week. About a hundred persons were present, and when the Elder returned from the Bible class at Deacon BRET'S he found himself outnumbered, out-generaled, out-blanked and captured. It is needless to say that the Elder was in good spirits, and that the situation and surrender gracefully. A handsome lot of presents, mostly in silver, were made; these included silver knives, spoons, knives, a custer and some fine linen. The occasion was a happy one and improved by those present. -Troy Gazette.
