THE OLDEST HOUSE IN BRADFORD COUNTY .- It is stated on authoricy that the oldest farm house now standing in Bradford county, is located on the land of GEO. H. WELLES in the village of Wyalusing. It is near the Lehigh Valley depot, and can be plainly seen from the car windows. The owner evidently utends allowing it to stand as a monunent of the early settlers, as the roof ing with age. The windows have the appearance of port holes. The door is low and the old stepping stone yet remains in front of the door as a welcome to those yet desiring to enter. For many years the many tall pines in the old cemetery at Wyalusing have leave him in reality the only noticeable attraction to the cemetery. But these are being cut down by the church authorities.
