OTHER FELLOWS THINK SO TOO. There's just one thing a man can have

In all this world of woo and strife, That makes the business not too bad And that one thing's an easy wife. Dost fancy that I love my girl For rosy cheeks or raven hair?

She holds my-heart because she laughs-Because she laughs and doesn't care. I put my boots just where it sults, And find them where I put them, too,

That is a thing you must allow A chap can very seldom do. I leave my papers on my desk : She never dusts them in a hear. Or takes to light the litchen fire

The very one I want to keep. On winter nights my cozy dame Will warm her toes before the fire

She never scolds about the lafup, Or wants the wick a trifle higher. On Sunday she is not so fine But what her rufles I can hig; CI light my pipe just where I please,

And spill the ashes on the rug. The bed is never filled with "shanis"-A thing some women vitely plan To worry servants liaif to death, And spoil the temper of a man. She lets me sleep to any hour,

Nor raises any horriddin If it just happens, now and then, To be quite late when I come in. I tell you, Jack, If you would wed . Just such a girl who lets things run, She'll keep her temper like a lamb,

And help you on to lots of fun. Don't look for money, style or show, Or blushing beauty, ripe and rare Just take the one who laughs at fate-Who laughs and shows she doesn't care,

You think, perhaps, our household ways Are just perchance a little mixed; Oh, when they get too horrid bad, We stir about and get things fixed. What compensation has a mon-Who earns his bread by sweat of brow,
