Towanda, Pa., April 13, 1882. ENTERED IN THE POSTOFFICE AT TOWARDA AS MAIL MATTER OF THE SECOND CLASS.

LUCAL AND GENERAL. The church was still, the sermon long. The air Heavy with scent of hay stole in the door Thrown open wide, round which the brier fair Clustered in rosy fragrance. On the floor The crimsoned sunbeams lay, and one soft glow Thrown by the pictured pane, fell dim around A golden curly head, hung sleepy low, A baby angel with a halo crowned.

A childish voice begins, "See pwetty light " Then mother's whisper: "Hush, for God is here This is God's house, my darling." Then the bright Blue eyes look questioning, until the clear Sweet voice says plaintively, while drowsy blink The little orbs-"God talks too much, I fink !"

On February 5, 1882, at the house of

Mr. John Hopkins, in Bennet, Klingman County, Kansas, Sarah A., wife of Rev. W. H. Davis, and daughter of Allen Usher, formerly of Smithfield, Bradford County, Pa., died, aged 48 years. Sister Davis was a lady of true Christian character, and was highly esteemed by all who know her. She was afflicted by throat disease for some time, and suffered extremely at times. and their prayers prevailed. Often, while living, she related that instance, and said it was nothing but prayer that saved her, then a great deal of her time was spent in prayer. For twenty years she had been a laborer in the vineyard of the Lord with her husband, in his chosen vocation as a minister of the E. U. Association, and in contending with the storms and trials of the itinerancy she contracted the affliction which resulted in ber death. Her last moments were spent in earnest prayer and thanksgiving to God, and at last fell asleen in the arms of Jesus where she is now undisturbedly resting. Our dear Brother Davis and his foster daughter have the sympathies of the entire community. The occasion was mproved from Ps. 16-11. A large and little. sympathizing congregation attended.

T. MURRAY. A SMITHFIELD LARK. Last Friday night three men, evidently intent on a general big time, broke into the drug store of D. G. Phelps in East Smithfield, where they stole what whiskey they wanted and, not satisfied with taking enough for their own use, left the faucet turned, wasting the rest of the li quor which they didn't use. From the drug store they went to the post office which they got into by breaking a glass | 1882, of paralysis, William Bunyan, aged and sliding back the door bolt. The only clue to the marauders was the print of a large, square-toed shoe, where they climbed over a fence into a moist field, but a young man was suspected and he has since left as we are informed. One thing is reasonably sure: they were not all Jews, as their selection George W.
