TO THE FRIENDS OF PROHIBITION IN ADAMS

TO THE FRIENDS OF PROHIBITION IN ADAMS COUNTY.

Fellow Citizens: The undersigned, in behalf of a committee appointed at a meeting of the friends of Prohibition, in Gettysburg, on the 231 inst., beg to address you a few words upon the important duty devolving upon the friends of Humanity at the approaching election. It may not be unknown to you that the Legislature, at its last session, passed an act providing for an expression of the will of the voters in the Commonwealth in reference to the passage of a Prohibitory Liquor Law. In accordance with this act, therefore, it will be expected of each qualified voter, at the coming election, to deposit a bullot either for or Against Prohibition. Feeling convinced that the subject thus presented to your consideration and claiming your suffrage, far transcends in importance the ordinary questions decided at the ballot-box, we respectthe ordinary questions decided at the ballot-box, we respectfully ask you to weigh the matter calmly and seriously before casting your vote. We believe that results the most momentous depend upon the decision which the people of Pennsylvania shall give to this question;—results in comparison with which the election of this or that candidate sinks into with-which the election of this or that candidate sinks into insignificance. It will be a direct vote upon a great principle, disconnected from men and in lependent of party.—a plain and un nistakable answer to the interrogatory. 'Shall our State be cursed any longer with the Liquor traffic, or shall it not?' If a majority of the votes cast shall be in favor of Prohibition, it shall be considered the wish of the propole and no legislater than actualistic. Prohibitory I am people, and no legislator dure vote against a Prohibitory Law. But if a majority shall be found to be adverse to this measure, its friends must abide by the decision and cease to agitate the subject. Heretofore, fellow citizens, many of you have been deterred

Heretofore, fellow citizens, many of you have been deterred from voting with as because of political differences of opinion on other subjects connected indirectly with our cause. Now, however, you capnot urge this objection. We come before you not to solicit your support for any man or set of men, not to ask you to identify yourselves with any potitical party, but with the simple naked question of Prohibition stripped of every thing but its own intrinsic importance, and ask you to lend it your suffrage. Here is a grand rallying point where Whigs and Democrats, Natives and Foreigners, Protestants and detablies all who leave their country and their race. and Catholics—all who love their country and their race, can meet on common ground, and record their vote in favor of good order and sobriety. Politicians cannot now accuse us of mixing temperance with politics, for we have at their request taken it out of politics, and are willing it shall stand or fall on its own merits. You may vote for whomsoever you please for office, and we will do the same. With candidates we have nothing to do as a committee; but in the name of sufficient humanity, in the pane of countiless widows and of suffering humanity, in the name of countless widows and orphans, made such by the liquor traffic, in the name of truth and virtue, in the name of heaven, we entreat you to unite with us in purging our land from the greatest bane of human progress and free institutions.

Friends of Temperance, we appeal to you as veterans in Friends of Temperance, we appeal to you as veterans in this glorious cause. Let no in lifference or apathy steal upon you. Our enemy will be awake and vigilant, and we must prepare to meet him. Some of you may be opposed to the plan of submitting the question to the people for decision; but let not this prevent you from discharging present duty. The issue is upon us, and we must meet it.—meet it like men, and triumph in the cause of truth, or be ingloriously defeated. Let us take up the gauntlet which an anti-prohibition legislature has thrown down, and meet our enemies on their own terms. If we are defeated the cause of prohibition is own terms. If we are defeated the cause of prohibition is dead for years to come; and our oppounts will jeeringly point to the election of '54 and tell us to our face the people do not want such a law. Up, then, friends of temperance friends of humanity. Let the cries of wilows and orphan the misery of homes made desolate by intemperance, and the poverty, shame and crime which everywhere attend the traffic in ardent spirits, inspire your hearts, and nerve your arm to battle nobly in behalf of humanity and truth.

traffic in ardent spirits, inspire your hearts, and nerve your arm to battle nobly in behalf of humanity and truth.

Parents of Adams county, to you we appeal as to those who can feel with us on this subject. Have you a son in whom you delight—the centre of fond hopes and prayers? What assurance have you that the allurements of the dramshop or hotel, may not prove too strong for his better principles, and tempt him to drunkenness and crime? Hundreds of young men are daily thus seduced, and hundreds of fathers are this hour shedding bitter tears of anguish over the downward progress of adrunken son. And think not, oh! think not, that this may not be your sad experience. You have no security so long as the open bar-roam presents its temptations to the inexperienced and incautious eye of youth. As you value your own happiness, as you value the welfare of your son and wish to shield him from a drunkard's fate, and your daughter from the misery of a drunkard's wife, as you feel for the safety of society and wish to see the young protected from the withening, blasting, scathing breath of intemperance, we beseech you to come to the rescue, and aid us in putting down forever the traffic in ardent spirits.

We make our appeal to you, fellow citizens, as Patriots We make our appeal to you, fellow citizens, as Patriots devoted to the glory, honor and good of the country—as christians, concerned for the welfare of souls and the cause of God-as thinking men, conscious of the terrible evils pressing upon society as the legatimate and necessary results of the run traffic—men of every name and party, and urge you to weigh well this important, all-absorbing question. Cast it not aside as a matter of little moment. Great inter-

Cast it not aside as a matter of little moment. Great interests are at stake—interests affecting deeply the temporal and eternal welfare of our fellow men. The responsibility is great—let us meet that responsibility fully and earnestly.

Every where our cause is gaining strength. The reflecting masses are on our side. Truth and reuson are for us. God and Heaven are for us, and who then can be against us?

To the polls, then, Freemen of Adam's county, on the 10th of October, and rote for Prohibition! Tickets will be furnished at all the election polls. Examine your tickets carefully, and see that the words "FOR A PROHIBITORY LIQUOR LAW," are there. Come to the rescue, and unborn millions-will rise up and call you biessed.

Sept. 29, 1854. From the Realing Gazette. THE DARSIE RESOLUTION. - We stated last week, that the late Whig County Convention refused, or omitted, to pass a resolution in favor of Darsie, the regularly nominated Whig candidate for Canal Commissioner. This is literally true, notwithstanding the proceedings, as published in the Journal, contain such a resolution. We can produce the testimony of more than twenty persons who were present. to prove that neither that resolution, nor any thing like it, was read or passed by the Convention. The resolutions that did pass-or that were offered, for we believe no vote was taken upon them-were published in the Press of the following Tuesday, and, while Pollock and Smyser are conspicuously mentioned, Darsie's name is not in one of them. It was Long Henry not until after this omission was noticed, and remarked upon with dissatisfation by certain -Lott William H. old fashioned Whigs who happen to have been born on the same foreign soil with Darsie, that the Darsie resolution, which appears in the Journal, was so much as written. These are Miller Peter D. the facts in the case. It is true, and we defy Miller Peter even the officers of the Convention to contradict it, that no resolution in favor of Darsie three days after the Convention adjourned.

From the Presbyterian. Politics or the Gospel.

The question whether our Congregational brethren are to be instructed by their pastors in politics, or in the gospel, is one which we should judge will soon have to be considered. a Christian of the highest standing, whose home is now in a different section of the country, but who has recently been on a visit to his native region, said in our hearing, within a few days, that "he did not know but that it to New England." that during his late visit he "had heard Nebraska preached much more fect, has come from other sources. An intelli- citizens. gent New England correspondent, in a late letter to a widely circulated journal, intimates that unless there should soon be an end to pochurches must divide, as the conservative portions of the congregations are determined they will not endure the prevalent desecration of the pulpit. He also says, that if the present state of things continues, many will be driven. into the Episcopal Church, as the most conservative body among them. A friend of ours was recently present in a Congregational church, when the pastor read from the pulpit a call for a church-meeting, together with two sets of resolutions, the one from a portion of the people protesting against his new fangled progress preaching, and the others sustaining him in his course. It was obvious that a breach had been made, and that there were ample materials for a warfare. Our brethren will probably discover, when it is too late, that it might have been better for them to follow the example of Christ and the apostles, by

Reading the Future by the Past.

There is a truth made memorable by unvarying history, says the Washington Union, that no ism, no faction, ever rears its head in this country that is not hostile to the democratic party. And why? Because in every instance, with instinctive sagacity, the democratic party denounces all isms. -Look at the long procession of factions which have arisen from the disappointments of politicians, like deadly miasma from decaying vegetation, and, like the pestilence itself, have succeeded in prostrating many a true and heroic defender of the truth.—Against each the democratic party raised its stalwart arm, and, after a brief struggle, each has been consigned to merited oblivion. Behold! Hartford conventionists, national republicans, anti-masons, conservatives. native-Americans, abolitionists, ultra temperance men, and now intolerants and abolitionists again. The only antagonist of these factions, as one after another they rose into being, was the democratic party. This was the party of their first and their last hatred—that the target of their poisoned arrows-that the fortress against which their impulses and their energies were directed. To the whigs each of them became an object of affection no less spontaneous: but, by the time both sides (the whigs and the factions) were beginning to flatter themselves that their newly-acquired power would last forever, the recuperated democrats regained the field, and resumed their position as the master party and the constitutional party of this country. One often reads the future in the past!

Holloway's Pills, a certain Cure for Asthma. -These Pills have effected several wonderful cures of these complaints. The following is one out of five hundred: James Earnshaw, of Philadelphia, suffered with asthma for fifteen months, the continual cough completely shook his system, caused him to spit blood, and at times almost choked him. Everything he ate he vomited, and he became the mere ghost of his former self; Holloway's Pills, in this instance, were, as usual, efficacious; (aided as they were by the Ointment, which he well rubbed into his chest.) and in seven weeks by these remedies, he was cured; he has since regained his wonted strength, and warmly recommends Holloway's medicines to his fellow
