

OUR COUNTRY'S PATRIOTS.

Oration delivered at the Anniversary Celebration of the Philadelphia Society of Pennsylvania, on the evening of July 11th, 1855, by JOHN W. BIRNBAUM, Communicated by a friend.

Once more has the anniversary of our Country's Independence come with all its cheering influences. Millions hail its recurrence with feelings of gratitude, and celebrate it with patriotic devotion. To-day the rancor of party spirit slumbers and all are Americans. The praises and exultations of the nation resound through every valley and are re-echoed by every hill-top from the granite hills of New Hampshire to the rocky reefs of Florida; and ascending from the shores of the Atlantic, they mount upon the breeze and are borne westward, ever gaining strength until they mingle sublimely with the roaring surges of the Pacific. In the celebration of this joyous day the Philanthropic Society desires to participate; and on this the twenty-fourth year of our existence as a society, we would associate our anniversary with that of our country's freedom. Not only does our nation's heart beat high with joy, but a similar feeling animates the hopes of the friends of freedom throughout the world. No matter where they roam, whether on the wintry coast of Siberia, or the sunny plains of India; whether through the fertile valleys of the Continent or on some lone, barren isle in the stormy ocean, they hail this day with joy, and directing their eyes towards the Western Continent, viewing the results of the actions of the day of which this is the anniversary, they cherish a hope which is, alas, too bright for realization. It is, indeed, a great good day; and well may the eye of every American kindle with the fire of liberty, and his heart glow with gratitude, pulsate with patriotic emotion, and ache to contemplate the freedom of his native land, achieved, secured, and transmitted to him by his patriot fathers. It is to them, under the guidance and protection of Heaven, that we are indebted for our noble institutions, our national prosperity, and the exalted position which we occupy amongst the nations of the earth. It is their actions that we to-day commemorate, and the result of their life & death that gives us so much cause for joy and congratulation. In the days of our prosperity, how can we forget their trials, their sacrifices, and their noble deaths? On this the day of our national festivity, how can our memory of them slumber? Instinctively the mind turns back to scenes of bygone years, and recounts, one by one, the eventful actions in which our Patriot Fathers were the great actors, and the grand results of those events which have all conspired so gloriously to make us a free, happy and independent nation. Go with me in imagination back through the lapse of years to the eventful period of 1776, and entering the portals of Independence Hall, take a view of the surrounding scene. Assembled within those walls is the third American Congress, yet the representatives of the subjects of a foreign potentate. But it is a noble band of patriots. It is the 4th of July; and a more than usual interest is manifested. The time has at length arrived when forbearance has ceased to be a virtue. The cup of England's oppression is full, and animated with the spirit of freedom, they resolve to be true to their cause. View them as, with determination, yet with soul stirring eloquence, they recount their wrongs and resolve to be free. Their sky is overclouded with the smoke of British cannon, and an almost impenetrable gloom broods around, yet one lone star penetrates that gloom, sheds its genial ray upon their hearts, animates them to noble actions, and guides them on to deeds of glory. It is the star of hope. By its refulgent light the gloom is dispelled. They see through that gloom a glorious future for themselves and their posterity, and resolve to sacrifice their lives and their sacred homes upon the altar of liberty. No cowardly fear agitates them, but "trusting Him who is mighty to save," and with the glorious motto, "Liberty or death," those noble men sign that declaration of Independence which is destined to live with their country forever, or to consign them to a traitor's grave. The grand, impressive, sublime scene is over. American Patriots have performed their first duty. A nation is born and the goddess of liberty smiles through her tears. Such were the patriots of 1776, and noble spirits they were. They loved the land of their fathers, but their homes they adored. Peace and security were dear to them, but they scorned oppression; conscious of right, they promulgated the great principles of independence and self-government to the world, and appealed to the God of nations for the justice of their cause. But these declarations had to be sustained. For England having refused to listen to their supplications and redress their wrongs, was less willing at this crisis to acknowledge their independence. Far rather would she "greet them with bloody hands and welcome them to hospitable graves." Haughty and self-confident she invaded our shores with a powerful army, resolved to crush the germ of liberty in the bud. But our country's patriots faltered not; they remembered that

A Marvellous Remedy for a Marvellous Age!

Holloway's Ointment. THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY. By the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these this Ointment, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the Kidneys, disorders of the Liver, affections of the heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Asthma, Coughs and Colics, are by its means effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by other means. Erysipelas, Salt Rheum & Scorbatic Humors. No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the Skin, whatever form they may assume, as this Ointment. No case of Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, or Erysipelas, can long withstand its influence. The inventor has travelled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, dispensing this Ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health.

Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Wounds & Ulcers.

Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful Ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings, and tumors. Prof. Holloway, by command of the Allied Governments, dispatched to the hospitals of the East, large shipments of this Ointment, to be used under the direction of the Medical Staff, in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing. Piles and Fistulas. These and other similar distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the Ointment be well rubbed in over the parts affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot. Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Diseases of all kinds, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scurvy, Sore Heads, Scrofula, Erysipelas, Sore Breasts, Wounds & Ulcers, Sore Throats, Glandular Swellings, Stiffness or contraction of the joints, even of 20 years' standing.
