The Canvass in Mississippi.

KNOW NOTHINGISM TUMBLING DOWN No more correct idea can be formed of the present feeling and prospects of the democracy $761 .063 of Mississippi than by a glance, even though it may be a hasty one, at any one of the democratic papers of that State, without reference to the locality of its publication. We have $1833-08 before us the Jackson Mississippian, of the 7th. In the editorial colums we find the subjoined paragraphs:

The Brandon Platform, of the 4th instant, contains the names of FIFTY-TWO gentlemen of Rankin county who have withdrawn from the order of know-nothings within a few days past. thir y-one of whom had joined council No. 192, at Cato springs.

"The same paper contains the cards of Dr. Joseph Lemly, James Cooper, John Hawkins, Joseph Strong, Jackson Halls, and Alex. Smith, of Smith county, all of whom have withdrawn within the last week.

"Let the good work go on! Democrats, to your posts!

"The last Gallatin Argus contains the card of W. M. Haley, a highly respectable citizen, and sheriff of Copials county, in which he gives his reasons for abandoning the order of the S and S. It is a document that should be read by every democrat who is connected with the know-nothing concern. We will publish Mr. II.'s card in our next issue."

In another part of the paper, and under the apt caption of "Moving of the Waters," we also find the subjoined letters, in which, it will be seen, the writers formally announce their withdrawal from the know-nothing order:

GOOD HOPE, LEAKE COUNTY, Miss.,

July 24, 1855. EDITOR MISSISSIPPIAN: Some time since I became connected with an order commonly called know-nothings. It was not long before I became satisfied that the order was not what I supposed it to be. I now, in order that there may be no mistake in regard to my position, as I am a candidate for an office in Leake county, make known, through the columns of your paper, that I have withdrawn from the order, and have no further connection with it. I am a democrat, and have voted the Democratic ticket for eighteen years, and will never give up those principles that I have long cherished to give my support to another Respectfully,

JOHN WILBANKS.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Leake county, take this method of informing the pubsociety commonly called know-nothings, but gollon up to divide the democratic party and get the same old coon into power once more.

Yours, truly, JOHN BRADY, JOSIAH LEONARD. ANDREW MULLAHIN,

We were deceived as to the principles and objects of the organization, which do not suit us, and, for the information of all inquiring friends, we would state that we have dissolved all connection with the order.

JAMES M. COWEN, JOHN W. PATTY, VAN S. BELL.

HILLSBORO', SCOTT CO., Aug. 2, 1855. DEAR SIR: I was induced in the month of April last to join the secret order of "knownothings." I was then, and am now, a democrat. Upon the representations made to me I thought I could cordially act with them. find I cannot: I therefore withdraw from the order. I was a candidate for sheriff of Scott county. I am no longer a candidate for that Methodist Episcopal Church, in Gettysburg, position, but will vote for any sound demoout solicitation from any one, and also withdrew from it of my own accord. I do not think any good democrat can stand upon the so-called "American platform."

Yours, respectfully, JNO. M. FINLEY.

EIGHTY YEARS A PRISONER. - Kendall, of the New Orleans Picagune, in a letter from Paris to that paper, says :- "A tough and hardy old fellow recently passed through Lyons, on his way to Savoy, his native country. No less than eighty years ago, when he was forty-one. he was sentenced to the French gallies, for life, for some crime. At the commencement of our revolution, being then a middle-aged man, he was shut out from the world, and of course expected to end is days, barring the chances of an escape, at the bagne. The other day ha was released, at the age of one hundred and twenty-one. No cause is assigned, but the probability is that the government thought that he had worked out more than a natural life in the gallies, and that he was past doing any further harm. It is said that he has a little property in Savoy, the interest on which has been accumulating exactly one hundred years, or since he arrived at the age of twentyone. The old fellow enjoys perfect health, although he stoops so much that his face near-

CATASTROPHE PREVENTED BY A CAT'S TAIL. -A small child of Thomas Murray, assistant freight agent of the Boston Railroad, while playing near a well in East Albany, N. Y., on Saturday afternoon, slipped, and was just on the eve of being precipitated into it, when the little one grasped the cat by the tail and held on to it, until the cries of the child brought assistance, when it was rescued. The cat was sitting on a log, and so death-like was its grasp that the print of its nails were easily detected in the log.
