I regret to inform you that the railroad to avoid the inclined planes on the Allegheny mountain, has not been completed as was confidently anticipated. The delay in the com-pletion of this work has occasioned much inconvenience to the business of the main line and a loss to the revenues of the Commonwealsh. The expenditures have largely exceeded the original estimates for its construction; and although the sum of $277,730 00 was appropriated at the last session of the Legislature for the completion of this worka sum covering the estimate of the engineeryet after the expenditure of the whole amount thus appropriated, the road is unfinished; and to complete it, and pay the debts contracted, the further sum of $177,573 66, as now estimated by the engineer, will be required .-Either the estimates have been very carelessly made, or large sums of money uselessly and extravagantly expended in the prosecution of this improvement. As aiding the business of the main line, reducing still further its expenditures and relieving the Treasury from these constant demands, the announcement of its early completion will be hailed with pleasure by every citizen.

(CONCLUSION NEXT WEEK.)

Hon. J. Glancy Jones.

The above named gentleman, M. C. from the Berks District of this State, evinced a devotion to principle on the floor of the House of State. For argument and cool discussion Mr. Jones has long since established a character for power and eloquence; and his conduct now has also proved that few can sustain themselves in a running debate with his ability. None can defend a principle with more force and clearness. His terse and lucid sentences carry conviction without giving offence, and his gentlemanly deportment wins the respect of even over-zealous opponents. With him there can be no compromise with wrong, bigotry or selfishness. A National man by birth and education, he takes the entire Union for his platform; and "having conquered the lion shall he dread the whelp?"

It was really amusing to see and hear Mr. Jones, on several occasions, last week, retort upon those who wished to assail the Democratic cause. The keen ability with which he uttered truth after truth startled his opponents and staggered them even in their faith. Indeed sophistry can never withstand such

In all sincerity, then, let Mr. Jones persevere; he is entitled to our thanks and to the gratitude of the Democrats of the entire Union; and while we hope to treat our readers to his efforts within the next year, we can assure him that he will not be forgotten, as "higher honors yet await him."-York Gazette.

Another Wakemanite Tragedy.

New Haven, Jan. 2 .- A double murder was yesterday committed near Woodbridge, by Charles Sandford, an insane man, whose nephew is one of the Wakemanites, who was arrested on suspicion of the recent murder of Matthewa. Sandtord's first victim was Enoch Sperry, brother of N. D. Sperry, Secretary of State. The maniac chopped off his head with an axe while he was riding home in a sleigh. The second victim was Ichabod Umberfield, a farmer, whom Sandford killed with an axe in his own house. The murderer is now in at the fact that the President had "headed them prison, where he is constantly muttering a benseless jargon of prayers.

The Chinese Dead.

From the Christian Recorder we learn that the Chinese in California have a regular system of collecting their dead and sending them back to the Celestial land. They forward to all of the principal mining districts two inch pine planks, for the purpose of making boxes for the dead. These boxes are forwarded to San Francisco, where they are shipped to China. This useless practice is the result of two causes. First, a supercillious notion respecting the Celestial Empire; the second is in common with all who have either no religion or a religion based upon mere theological crudities of an unspiritual nature—these regard the body as all that is of man.

A New Kind of Ape.

Professor Owen, the celebrated Naturalist, describes a species of ape recently discovered on the western coast of Africa, named the Garilla species, the adults of which attain the feet broad across the chest. Its head is double the size of a man's and its extremities are enormously developed. They exist in some numbers in the interminable forests of the Gam- 107. bia river. The negroes of the codutry, in their excursions into the forests in search of ivory, exhibited little fear of the lion, as it slunk away from man; but they dreaded the garilla, for when he saw a man advancing he came down out of the tree to the attack, and could strangle a man with the greatest case. The strength of this man ape is enormous; his jaw is as powerful as that of a lion, and his canine teeth equally formidable.

The Message.

President PIERCE's Message, which was sent in to Congress on Monday, and which we print to-day, reflects great credit upon him, not only for its strength and chastity of style, but also for the firm, yet temperate manner, in which it deals with each subject adverted to. The press, with but few, if any, exceptions, speaks out in unreserved approbation of the President's position in reference to our foreign affairs, and in the U.S. Senate the highest compliments were paid him, upon the conclusion of the reading of the Message.

Mr. Clayton said he agreed with the President, and contrasted the pacific character of this country with the aggressive policy always pursued by Great Britain. He said that the construction which that government placed upon the Clayton-Bulwer treaty was entirely new, -something of which he had never before heard. In that treaty it was distinctly stipu-Representatives, at Washington, last week, lated that neither the United States nor Great that honors the Democratic Party of the entire | Britain "will occupy, colonize, fortify or exercise domain" in Central America-

Mr. Cass expressed his entire concurrence with what had fallen from the lips of Mr. Clayton, and his gratification at the course taken by the President, and the views enunciated by the message. - In the whole history of the most tortuous diplomacy there was nothing to be found at all comparable with the course of Great Britain regarding the construction of the Clayton and Bulwer treaty and Central American affairs.

Mr. Weller commended the message. The course of the President in thus laying before the public a general view of the affairs of the nation, is hearthy approved. The novelty of the proceeding has given considerable eclat to it, as all seemed to suppose that the President was compelled to await the organization of Congress; and he is complimented by many for the happy surprise with which he astonished the "assembled wisdom," and diversified the monotony of their unsuccessful quarrels for a Speaker.
