

Letter from Senator Pratt.

We have already stated that an address "to the Whigs of Maryland" had appeared in the National Intelligencer from Ex-Governor Pratt, a Senator of Maryland. The position of the writer, as the choice of the Whigs of Maryland, imparts some interest to his views upon the present aspect of political affairs, especially as he announces himself a supporter of Mr. Buchanan.

In response to the communication received from many of my brother Whigs, I deem it my privilege, in this manner, to counsel with all in relation to the course which patriotism and duty would seem to indicate as proper in the present political crisis.

No lover of his country whose judgment is unbiased by party zeal, and uncontrolled by northern or southern fanaticism, can fail to see and deprecate the pending danger of the Union.

The first duty of every man who loves his country and her institutions is to provide for their safety. The life of the nation is in danger. It must be saved; then and not till then, will it be permissible to us to discuss our differences of opinion upon minor subjects.

I say that the life of the Union is in danger, because, for the first time in our history, a party has been formed composed exclusively of citizens of one section of the country, bound together by the single bond of an alliance for offensive warfare against the other section.

We have hitherto disregarded the danger which such a state of feeling and such a course of action would indicate as most imminent, because we have assumed that such sentiments and action could only be attributed to a small minority of our Northern brethren. But now, when this sectional exasperation has been made available for the inauguration of a party calling itself republican, under whose banner, for the first time in the history of the country, this sectional opposition to Southern rights and interests have united in nominating with alleged probabilities of success, a purely sectional ticket for the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States, we can no longer shut our eyes to the reality of the threatened danger; we cannot but feel that the success of such a party would be the death-knell of the Union.

Many of its supporters avow their object and purpose to be disunion, and have even gone so far in the madness of their fanaticism as to denigrate the flag of their country by obliterating from its constellation the fifteen stars which represent the slaveholding States, and displaying with it party banners that flag with but sixteen non-slaveholding States. It is manifest that those who disavow the object are not ignorant of the inevitable result.

The Whigs of Maryland, whom I have the honor to address, need no proof to convince them that calamitous consequences would flow from the success of this sectional party. They each and all know that the election of Mr. Fremont, and the administration of the government by him upon the principles of his party, would necessarily occasion a dissolution of the Federal Union, to which they have been taught to look as the source of national strength, of individual prosperity and happiness.

I have known the Whigs of my native State too long, I estimate their patriotism too highly, I have associated with them too intimately, to suppose it necessary for a moment to offer an argument to them in behalf of their country. They appreciate as fully as I could depict the horrors of disunion; they will see the loss of national strength, the internal dissensions, the fatal check to civilization and freedom, the contempt of the world, which would be the consequences of such a calamity. The Whigs of Maryland who have followed the lead of such patriots as Clay and Webster, "will never keep step with any other music than that of the Union."

I deem it, then, to be my duty, as well as that of all who believe with me that the election of Fremont would be the death-knell of the Union, to unite in the support of Messrs. Buchanan and Breckinridge; and I shall sustain their election to the best of my ability.

Letter of Senator Pearce.

The Hon. James A. Pearce, a Senator of Maryland, has published a letter addressed to the Hon. J. R. Franklin, of Suow Hill, Md., in response to an inquiry from that gentleman as to what part he means to take in the coming Presidential election, and what should be done by old Whigs who never have been attached to any other party, and who do not desire to enter into new political connections. In it he says:

"The contest, it seems to me, lies between Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Fremont. Mr. Fillmore's friends indeed claim a great reaction in his favor; but I have taken much pains to ascertain what his strength is in the free States, and so far I have not been able to satisfy myself that he can carry a single one of them."

"I think, therefore, it would be the part of wisdom and patriotism in the Whigs (by which I mean those who affiliated with no other party) to throw their votes for Mr. Buchanan, as the strongest of the candidates opposed to this Northern sectional party. This they may do without renouncing their old political faith, without stain of dishonor or suspicion of apostasy. The motive being the integrity of the Union, the defeat of a party which is founded on geographical discriminations and bound together by dangerous sectional schemes, the act will be vindicated by disinterested patriotism."

"Whatever the result, I shall be content if the dangerous excitement which threatens our peace and union can be calmed down, so that the extreme opinions which have their roots in prejudice and passion, may wither away. Then a liberal forbearance and kindly toleration of different sentiments may resume their influence. If this cannot be done, if the South and the North are to regard one another as enemies, then sooner or later our "house, divided against itself," must fall. Then we shall have to say, with Pantheus:

"Unit stannus dies et inextinguibile tempus. Dardania. But ours will be a sadder fate than that of Priam's empire; for it was not the Dardanian people by whom the inevitable doom of Troy was fixed. A foreign foe beat down her lofty walls and destroyed the high renown of her Teucrian race; but we shall fall by our own suicidal hands; we will kindle the flames which shall destroy the edifice of our constitution. Union: ourselves will break the bonds of harmonious interest and fraternal concord which have held us together as one people. May Heaven inspire us with wisdom to avert so sad a catastrophe!"

Not Railroad Accident.—Boston, July 29.—This afternoon, Mrs. Calahan, her daughter and grandchild, residents of Cordville, were run over and killed on the Boston and Worcester Railroad.

A Party Worthy of the Empire State.

The intelligence of the harmonious action of the New York Democratic Convention, which flashed along the telegraphic wires on Thursday, has been gloriously confirmed by the mails. The Union is perfect. No more truce amongst factions, but a cordial and complete incorporation of the Democracy into one united and resistless host. The proceedings of the Convention are characterized by forbearance, concession, and magnanimity on all sides. The State ticket was named by acclamation, and it is one of which it may be said emphatically, that "the offices have sought the men." In a word, it would be difficult to conceive a more satisfactory result. But the feature of the reunion that is most gratifying, is, that it is based upon the principles of the party proclaimed at Cincinnati. The hearty good will with which the national platform is endorsed, will send a thrill of congratulation through every Democratic organization in the land. This action of the Convention at Syracuse has swept the great stronghold of the Black Republicans from under their feet. They are not left the shadow of a chance to carry New York. The great party which carried victory on its eagles in '32, '36, '44, and '52, is again in the field in one body, and animated by one mind. There can be no doubt as to the result.—Pennytaun.

The California Revolution—Message of the President.

WASHINGTON, August 6.—The President today communicated to the Senate a reply to the resolution of that body calling for information relative to the state of affairs at San Francisco, California, together with the correspondence on the subject.

A letter from the Governor of California asks the President for three thousand stand of muskets or rifles, fifty rounds of ammunition, two mortars, three hundred shells, and two guns of large calibre, with their ammunition and appliances, promising that they shall be paid for or returned. He likewise asks the use of the Military and Naval forces to suppress the insurrection. The President conceiving that there are insuperable obstacles to the action now demanded, referred the subject to the Attorney General, whose decision he approves.

Mr. Cushing argues that there is no evidence in the Governor's statements, or other authentic information, that in what has occurred at San Francisco there was committed or threatened any act of resistance or obstruction to the constitution, law or official authority of the United States. The President is only to be moved to action by the Legislature of the State in which the insurrection exists, or by the Executive of such State, when such Legislature cannot be convened, and when imminent or extreme public disaster can be averted only by such interposition of the federal government. He says that the whole constitutional power of California has not been exercised, and it does not appear that the Governor took any steps to convene the Legislature, although that remedy might have been adopted and had its effectual application to the evils long before any such remedy could be demanded from the President.

Singular Marriage.—A young man residing in Bordentown, who was under an engagement of marriage with a young lady, died on Friday week. Both the gentleman and lady, as well as their families, were firm believers in the doctrine of the spiritualists, and notwithstanding the death of the former, it was determined that the marriage should take place between the disembodied spirit of the young man, and the living, breathing body of his affianced bride.

Accordingly, on Sunday, the marriage ceremony was performed between the clay cold corpse and the warm-blooming bride. It is understood that this was in compliance with the directions of the spirit of the bridegroom. The devotion of the lady to the spirit or the memory of her lover carried her through the trying ceremony without faltering; but, it must lead to unhappiness, for she, no doubt, considers herself as the wife of one whom she shall meet in the body never more. Her heart lies buried in the grave with him who should have been her guide and protector. Among all the singular things recorded of the Spiritualists, we have met with nothing parallel to this.—Philadelphia Journal.

The American Bonaparte Recognized as Part of the Imperial Family.—According to the Paris correspondent of the Le Nord, of Brussels, the special commission appointed by the Emperor Napoleon sometime ago, to examine into another family matter—the differences between the Princess of Cambray and her husband—has now decided upon the still more important question of the validity of Prince Jerome's first marriage with Miss Patterson, in America, a matter which was referred by the imperial nephew of the persons most concerned to the same commission. The result of the investigation is, that the validity of the marriage, which to the great offence of Napoleon I., was always maintained by the Pope, and a divorce consistently refused by the Holy See, is now confirmed by the Imperial Commission, and the consequence is, that a young sous-lieutenant in the French army, the grandson of Prince Jerome and Miss Patterson, must be recognized as a legitimate member of the Napoleon dynasty.

A Bloodless Duel.—WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—Mr. Pryor and Mr. Ridgeway, Richmond editors, fought a duel this morning at Badensburg, with pistols, at ten paces. No blood was shed, and the difficulty was amicably adjusted.

Distressing Calamity.—The Columbia (S. C.) Times learns from Charlotte, N. C., that on Wednesday a stage coach approaching Salem, laden with 26 passengers (including grown persons and children,) broke down, when the horses took fright and ran off, throwing from the stage a large number of the passengers, some of whom were slightly and others seriously injured. A Mr. Ughaht, of Virginia, just married, with his wife on board, was thrown out and instantly killed. But six out of the number escaped uninjured.

A New Cent.—Every body will be glad to learn that a new cent is to be coined. The old copper head, which has so long represented the smallest fractional division of our decimal money in use, is too cumbersome and large for the little value it represents, and the substitution for it of a new coin, readily distinguishable from all others in circulation, will be considered by all a great improvement. It is therefore proposed, by the Director of the Mint, that the new cent shall be eighty-eight parts copper and twelve parts nickel. This will make a coin of a dark reddish color. It is to weigh 72 grains, less than half the present cent, which is 168 grains.—Phila. Sun.

High Prices.—At Piedmont, Va., as we learn from the Independent, potatoes have been selling at $3.50 per bushel, tomatoes at $6.00, cucumbers 25¢ per dozen, canteloupes 36¢ a 4¢ each, butter 20 cents per pound, and other things in proportion.

The Bedford Gazette contains cards from fifteen persons, who have withdrawn from the Kuon Nothing order in that vicinity. They denounce the leaders of dark literature in no choice terms.

Beef! Beef!

It was during the memorable days of our revolutionary struggle that an old Scotch tory named Johnny Hook, who had beef for the use of the American army, insisted pertinaciously upon the payment of a very extravagant claim in compensation. Afterwards, instead of going to Congress, he sued the commissariat in the courts of Virginia. Patrick Henry, in conducting the defence, pictured the distressed condition of the country while struggling for its freedom, with an army starving and half-clad, and carried his picture down to the day of final triumph—the hour when the heart of every patriot was swelling with joy and exultation, and when the soft notes of peace were filling the air on every side.—"What sound," exclaimed the impassioned orator, in conclusion, "breaks in upon and mars the general harmony? It is the voice of old Johnny Hook, crying through the American camp, in hoarse and discordant tones, 'beef! beef!' Johnny Hook lost his case. While the Black Republicans are denouncing the Democratic administration upon the most unfounded charges—proclaiming themselves the only pious politicians before the people, and congratulating each other upon the apparent harmony and enthusiasm which prevail in their behalf—they are all at once struck dumb by a hoarse and hateful voice from California, shrieking around their camp, 'beef! beef!' Johnny Fremont has lost his case, too.

Mr. Buchanan and the American Laborer.

We have already refuted the infamous slander (which none but knaves would circulate, and after the facts are understood, none but fools will believe,) that Mr. Buchanan advocated a reduction of the wages of the American laborer to ten cents a day. It is only papers of the most infamous and depraved stamp, whose editors have lost all regard for truth, that repeat it. The Cincinnati "Weekly Times," (a paper strongly opposed to Mr. Buchanan's election,) of the 26th ult., has the following remarks in reference to this subject.

Not the Right Way.—We say that some of our exchange papers that are opposed to the election of Mr. Buchanan, are now urging against him that he once advocated the reduction of wages in this country to ten cents per day. Now we do not believe that James Buchanan ever said a word that could be fairly construed into such an assertion. It would have been irrational in him, and to say the least of it, very impolitic. At no time since the foundation of our Republic, has there been a period when such an assumption would not have raised a storm from the tolling millions, that would have wrecked the hopes of any political aspirant forever. Casting aside for an instant, the fact that, as a statesman, James Buchanan well knows that a nation can never acquire strength upon such a miserable pittance per diem, that the advocacy of such a proposition was most absurd, and throwing it solely upon the ground that neither policy for any present or future advantage could accrue to its author, we repeat, we do not believe that he ever uttered such a sentiment.

If it is false, as we candidly believe it is, how absurd to urge it against him. We are as strongly opposed to the election of James Buchanan to the Presidency as any one can be who is opposed to the issued involved in the platform on which he professes to stand, but at the same time we wish to and intend to oppose that election with truth, and nothing but the truth. The Slanders of the know Nothing Party. The Philadelphia Ledger (neutral) says: "Mr. Buchanan is berated and abused for sentiments which, it is charged, he uttered thirty years ago—the very best proof that his opponents can find nothing in his long career of public usefulness for thirty years subsequent which they may pick a flaw in. A man who can show a public life free from blemish for as long a period as some of his detractors have lived need not be ashamed of his antecedents."

The Right Sort of Talk.—We find the following in the N. Y. Journal of Commerce: "Too much Sycophanting.—A letter to one of the editors of the Journal of Commerce, from a Northern clergyman travelling in Missouri, says: 'I saw the "Chicago Boys" soon after their relief from their armor at Lexington.—If they had boasted less, the Lexington people would have let them alone. Indeed, if Kansas fails to come in as a free State, the Abolitionists have to thank their own had spirit and misguided measures for the result. This is the opinion of the numerous free State men now in Missouri, who have decided preferences for freedom.'"

What They Claim.—The fusionists claim Minnesota for Fremont. Very likely. None of the Territories will vote for Buchanan, but he will get pretty much all the States. Mr. Cole, the editor of a German paper in Easton, was offered $3,000 to desert Buchanan and go for Fremont. Norfolk and Portsmouth.—The health of these two cities is represented as being better than for many seasons past. A thousand murders have been perpetrated in San Francisco, and the city has been burned down seven times, during the past seven years. On Monday week, as Mr. Wm. Graves was out hunting with his son, near Chesterfield, Va., the young man's gun was accidentally discharged, killing his father on the spot.

Arrest of a Cut-throat.—A fellow was arrested on Tuesday morning for cutting a purse out of the pockets of a stranger. The latter contained such of the change as he had upon him, when Mayor Vaux, who is known as a man of taste, advised the offender to obtain a better pair at the Iron Stone Clothing Store, of Freshkill and Wilson, Nos. 255 and 257, Chesnut street, Philadelphia.

Stop That Ball.

The Telegraph announces a great Fusion meeting at Pittsburgh, and says: "The meeting was addressed by Governor Wood, of Ohio."

Gov. Wood, of Ohio, was all that time at his own home, Evergreen place, Rockport, Ohio, one hundred and fifty miles from Pittsburgh, raking hay and shouting for Buchanan. The Herald wonders why we don't take all these fusion telegraphs for truth.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

The Position of Hon. John M. Clayton.—Senator Bayard, of Delaware, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting at Dover, in his own State, on the 24th ult. In the course of his eloquent speech he announced that his colleague in the Senate, the Hon. John M. Clayton, would, under no circumstances, support either Fremont or Fillmore for the Presidency; and we understand that this announcement was made with the entire approval of Mr. Clayton.—Wash. Union.
