

A Singular and Melancholy Case.—Dr. Jas. H. Bogardus, of Kingston, Ulster county, N. Y., died at the Girard House, in New York city, on Sunday, after a very short illness, under singular circumstances. The Herald of yesterday says:

The deceased was 43 years old, of the highest respectability, and ranked the first in his profession in the county in which he resided. For about two years he had been engaged to Miss Isabella Hamilton, a young lady, also a resident of Kingston, and on two occasions days were fixed for their nuptials, on each of which death presented a barrier to the consummation of their wishes. On the former instance, the death of his brother's child rendered a postponement of the day of their contemplated marriage necessary, and both the doctor and his affianced bride attended the funeral. On the second occasion, however, the funeral, and again they attended a funeral service instead of their own marriage ceremony.

On Monday of last week Dr. Bogardus came to the city and put up at the Girard House, in Chambers street, and on retiring complained to Mr. Davis, with whom he was well acquainted, that he was quite unwell. The following day, not feeling able to leave his bed, Dr. Sayer and other eminent physicians were called in and consulted. After several days' attendance they came to the conclusion that there was something more than disease of the body in the case of their patient, and they intimated to him the fact, whereupon Dr. Bogardus frankly informed his medical advisers that he was deeply attached to a young lady, to whom he was to be married on Tuesday, (yesterday,) that their marriage had been twice frustrated by death, and that he now feared that his own illness would prove a third interposition to his happiness.

Dr. Sayer perceiving the sad effect which the fear of another disappointment had upon his mind, suggested the propriety of sending a telegraphic despatch to Miss Hamilton to come to New York without delay, for the purpose of carrying out the wishes of Dr. Bogardus. The despatch was accordingly sent, and Miss Hamilton arrived about four o'clock on Sunday morning, and, as early as possible, some of their friends residing in Newark were sent for to attend the marriage ceremony. At 1 o'clock the same day Dr. Sayer visited his patient, and found him so much better that he considered that it would be unnecessary for him to attend again. At half past 2 o'clock the parties were united, and Dr. Bogardus expressed his thankfulness at being enabled to carry out his intentions of marriage to the lady in question. Their friends then retired for a few moments for the purpose of partaking of some refreshments. He then remarked that he felt so much better that he would get up, and at once proceeded to raise himself in bed. His bride perceiving his efforts to rise, went to assist him, only to discover that he was expiring in her arms. She instantly sprang to the bed and rang for assistance, but before their friends could reach the room he was a corpse, and yesterday afternoon his remains were taken to Kingston on board the steamer North America, for interment.

Horrible Murder of a French Missionary in China.—The Hong Kong Register of September 14th gives an account of the murder by the authorities of Kwang-Si of Rev. M. Chapdelaine, a French Catholic Missionary. It says:

He was seized by the authorities on the 14th of February last, it is presumed under the notion that he was exciting the people to rebellion. Without anything in the shape of a trial, indignities the most gross and cruelties the most barbarous were heaped upon him. The Mandarin who ordered his seizure caused to be administered to him one hundred blows on the jaws with the sole of a shoe, from which the poor missionary suffered intensely. He was immediately afterwards thrown upon the ground, when he received three hundred blows from a rattan. Uncomprehendingly did M. Chapdelaine receive this cruel punishment, not uttering a word, on which his brutal judge, attributing his silence to some enchantment, ordered a dog's throat to be cut, with the blood of which he was sprinkled.

In a state of great weakness and suffering he was conveyed to prison, where, from an admirable constitution, he soon so far recovered as to be able to stand and walk. But his sufferings had not ended. In the belief that he had some connection with the secret societies adverse to the government, while they only allowed him one meal a day, they prepared it all the meats prepared to be unclean and abhorred by the members of these societies. To testify to his torments that he belonged to none of the illegal associations, he freely ate of all put before him. After being in prison for five days, and having made no confession, which it would appear to have been the object of the Mandarin to obtain, he was loaded with chains and placed in the cage. At the end of that time he was forced into a cage, carried from his prison and publicly decapitated. His head was then hung up or placed on a tree, and the boys of the town amused themselves by throwing stones at it until it fell. It is not known what became of the body, but it is asserted that the Mandarin soldiers opened it, took out the heart, cut it into pieces, fried it and ate it.

Verdict against the C. V. Railroad.—A case was tried in the common pleas of this county last week, in which Jesse Brown was the plaintiff, and the Cumberland Valley Railroad defendant, which resulted in a verdict, by the jury, for the plaintiff, of $2,700. The suit was brought to recover damages for injuries sustained several years since. Mr. Brown was an agent on a freight car and when the train was about crossing the bridge at the eastern end of this borough, some obstruction was discovered lying on the track, which proved to be the bumper of the engine of the preceding train. The bridge being high, and fearing that the cars would be thrown off the track and consequently off the bridge, Brown jumped from the train and fell upon some stones which lay below, causing a fracture of both legs, dislocation of the shoulder, and other injuries, which have crippled him for life. The company contended that it was an accident for which they were not liable. The jury, after deliberation, rendered a verdict for the above sum. A motion has been made for a new trial by the attorneys for the company. —Carlisle Democrat.

The Southern Convention. The Savannah Republican says that politics are to be excluded from the Southern Convention about to be held in that city. The Convention is in its character purely industrial, seeking for the South an independence, not political, but that which results from the ability to supply her wants out of her own creative energies, and without a dependence upon others.

New Coins.—The Hon. James Guthrie, Secretary of the Treasury, states that no authority was given by Congress at the late session for the issue of new cent coins, consequently none have been made. This announcement is made as the impression is pretty general that a new cent coin is about to be issued from the mint.

SHUT THE DOOR! The Savannah Republican says that politics are to be excluded from the Southern Convention about to be held in that city. The Convention is in its character purely industrial, seeking for the South an independence, not political, but that which results from the ability to supply her wants out of her own creative energies, and without a dependence upon others.

On the morning of the election, the New York Tribune said: "If Buchanan should to-day be elected President, the next movement to propitiate and flatter the Pro-Slavery interest, to which this nation will then have fully succumbed, will be the revival of the African slave trade."

We do not know that we can offer a better rebuke to such vile electioneering nonsense, than by quoting the following from the Cincinnati Enquirer since the election: "We observe that several of the Abolition journals are much exercised about the revival of the slave trade, which they declare is one of the settled ideas and objects of the Democracy.—Now, as the South have always been opposed to the slave trade, and as New England has always had a great interest and the principal participation in that horrible business, she has now a good opportunity of reviving it, as her States stand altogether and cannot betray one another. She can now satisfy her spite, wreak her vengeance on the South, and inflict a blow upon her valuable slave property, and at the same time give employment for her immense capital in the shipping trade, by introducing a few more millions of slaves. The provision in our federal Constitution, so steadily insisted upon by the New England States, extending the term of the slave trade some twenty years, will be further amended and extended. We expect to see New England moving in this business and threatening to dissolve this Union unless this traffic is re-established."

The slave trade in the United States is prohibited by a provision in the Constitution, and that can only be altered by a vote of two-thirds of the States. Then why such miserable, shameless inventions as this to fool some green horn out of his vote. A party resorting to such means of electioneering must be of short duration, and change its name, its candidates and its leaders every four years, if not often.

The story was set afloat here that if Buchanan should be elected slavery would be introduced into Pennsylvania! Whatever opinion these men may have of the people, to whom they make such statements, they at least can have but very little regard for themselves.—Eric Observer.

Interesting Items from Kansas. We gather the following items from late Kansas letters, written at Leavenworth, in the New York Times:

The Rev. Mr. Meager, who was threatened with mob law if he did not leave the territory within a specified time, and never come back, has returned, after a visit to the States, and is now here. The Missourians have offered to pay him the amount of money necessary to cover the damage done to his church and church property during the recent war. Russell, of a pro-slavery firm, has paid Mr. Graham for the rifles, revolvers, camping utensils, &c., taken from his party some months since, and the Sharpe's rifles taken at Lexington, Mo., last March, are to be returned to the owners, and sent back to the committee at Chicago. It is reported that Mr. Graham's bill amounted to something near $7,000, all of which has been paid.

Through Governor Geary's address many of the most prominent pro-slavery and free-State men who, two months ago, were warring against each other, met and shake hands, exchange courtesies and seem disposed to bury the past and help each other in the future. Let no one blame Geary till his whole policy is developed and understood.

Women Voting.—A German Wisconsin paper says the elections at Racine, as well as in Walworth county, Wisconsin, were actually carried, (illegally, of course,) by strong-minded ladies, disguised as men, who, inspired by a great love for Fremont, carried out their principles by treacherously passing themselves off for specimens of the sterner sex, and voting.

The Fillmore organs are dying out all over the country. Know Nothingism, it appears, don't pay. The American Organ, at Washington, a virulent Know Nothing print, that was daily filled with all kinds of slander against the men and policy of the Democratic party, has "peged out." The American Democrat (?) at Baltimore, a print of the Plug-Ugly stripe, after sinking at least $65,000 for its publishers, is no more. The Daily Dispatch, a Fillmore organ, conducted with ability, and printed in New York, is dead. So they go.

A Wolf in Sheep's Clothing.—The Rev. William H. Keys, formerly of this city, a divine who rendered himself somewhat notorious by his bitter denunciations of the "Pope of Rome," has had a true bill found against him by the Grand Jury of Blair county, for assault and battery with intent to commit a rape.—Lancaster Examiner.

Caution to Western Travellers.—The Pittsburgh Chronicle states there is a considerable business done in selling bogus railroad tickets and conductors' checks for tickets in many of the more prominent cities of the West. Those wishing to travel on railroads should never purchase tickets of any persons who hawk them about. The regular offices of the companies are the only safe places at which genuine tickets can be obtained. There should be some additional precaution adopted in the manner of protecting strangers from imposition.

A Man Sotted Down by his own Regret.—A singular circumstance recently occurred in Miller county, Illinois. An old man named Wilson, aged 86, died, having made arrangements with certain persons not to bury him, but to have his entrails taken out and put in a box and placed beside his coffin, which he has had over ten years. He was then filled with salt and sewed up with a grape vine or something of that sort. He was then carried to the repository of his coffin—a cavity in a perpendicular bluff, about 50 or 60 feet from the bottom. About 200 persons were present.

Two curious cases of intermarriage have occurred in Newton county, Ga. Mr. Stephen Daniel, aged 56, married a daughter of N. Rogers, who was 15, and N. Rogers, aged 62, married a daughter of Stephen Daniel, aged 14 years. A correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch says: "Will you be so kind as to let us know the relationship of their offspring?"

Samuel Swartwout died at New York on Friday, in the 73d year of his age. He was Collector of that port under Gen. Jackson, and his immense defalcation while in office was the result of his being victimized by designing men.

The Republicans have gained a Congressman in Illinois, "was a despatch forwarded by telegraph from New York to Chicago, where it was considered a capital joke, it being known that the Democrats had gained two members.
