For the Compiler.

Ma. EDITOR :- The editor of the Star is in an awkward predicament, and he feels, and must try to hide it. This accounts for the marvellong stories that are to be found every week in his columns. By this means he endeavors to divert the attention of the public from his position and antecedents. If in his presence. reference is made to "the way this county used to go," he at once calls your attention to some "Popish plot." If you inadvertently mention the name of Col. Neely to him, he winks and blinks like a Star of greater magnitule and refulgence, and immediately turns to "bleeding Kansas," and asks your aid in its behalf. Should you be green enough to ask him who was, and what was Wm. B. Wilson at the time the great mass of the Whig vote passed over to him, early in the convass, that he could not, and did not make this Jiscovery at the time of the occurrence, forthwith he would startle you with the revelation that "Gizzard foot" Wise had visited James Buchanan, on Southern Business-and so forth ... There are some-particulars connected with these subjects that the editor of the Star is trying to forget, in view of the momentous questions that he is now propounding to the American people; such as who should rule America? Who struck Billy Patterson Fremont? "All is well that ends well," and if the editor of the Star is content with his hillingsgate and abuse, in his defeat, while the Democrats are in possession of the spoils of victory and success. I am sure all hands ought to be satisfied and even grateful. The Star should remember that his party was for a long time dominant in this county, and that rotation in office is an American expression and principle. It is true the Sentinel charged him with the crime of having turned the county over to the Democrats. But this we Democrats do not look upon as a crime, because this revolution fully accorded with our sentiments and interests, and we will absolve the editor of the Star from the crime, providing he turned the county over to us in an open, straight-out and honorable way. If he can not satisfy us that we obtained it thus legitimately and honorably, we will hold him accountable for any and all the guilt that may attach to the "bargain and sale," while we will hold the county and its appurtenances as a sort of a forfeiture whtil such times as the voice of the people may otherwise enact and ordain. I am sure no lawyer can object to MeDeff. these terms?

Politically Dead.

Mu: Entrop :- The mists of party prejulected into droos, and replenished our land with a shower of quietude. Black Republicanish, the cowardly demon, has been slain by the sword of Democracy, enshrouded in Know Nothingism, rowed up Salt River, and But, Mr. Editor, we see the proud banner of way to the centre. The inventor claims for Democracy, inscribed upon it "Buchanan and it an efficiency equal to the folling of a tree of umphantly.
