

R. public. In accordance with these sentiments, Pennsylvania, true to the principles of the act of 1780, which abolished slavery within her territorial limits—true to the great doctrine of the Union, the north-western territory of the Union—true to National faith and National honor, asks and expects, as due to her own citizens who have, in good faith, settled in the territory of Kansas, and as due to the industry and energy of a free people, that Kansas should be free.

THE COMPILER.

"LIBERTY, THE UNION, AND THE CONSTITUTION."

GETTYSBURG, PENN'A.
Monday Morning, Jan. 12, 1857.

The Legislature.

The members of the State Legislature assembled in the capitol, at Harrisburg, on Tuesday last, that being the day fixed by law for meeting.

In the Senate, the Know Nothings and Black Republicans fused, as usual, and elected DAVID TAGGART, Esq., Speaker—the Democrats voting for Hon. Wm. WILKINS. Mr. Taggart had 18 votes, and Judge Wilkins 15. The fusion also chose the other officers—Clerk, George W. Hammersley; Assistant Clerk, Jordan Holcomb; Transcribing Clerks, D. W. Leas, Lucius Rodgers, and John H. Wells; Sergeant-at-Arms, Joseph R. Smith; Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, Wm. P. Brady; Door-keeper, Jas. Freeborn; Assist. Door-keepers, E. B. Lytle and Daniel Neyhard; Messenger, S. B. Hamilton; Assist. Messenger, John E. Blane.

In the House, J. LAWRENCE GETZ, Esq., (unanimously nominated in the Democratic caucus) was chosen Speaker—the Know Nothings and Black Republicans voting for S. P. McCALMONT. Getz 52, McCalmont 40. Capt. Jacob Ziegler was elected Clerk; Wm. S. Picking was appointed Assist. Clerk; and Geo. Shada, James McKenna, J. A. Mezger and E. R. Brady, Transcribing Clerks; Sergeant-at-Arms, Jacob Glassmyer—all Democrats.

Gov. POLLOCK'S Annual Message will be found on the preceding page. Its style is of the "4th of July" order—and the author's recommendations, in the main, are a re-hash of those contained in his Message of last year, his Know Nothing and Black Republican proclivities "sticking out" here and there.

A new counterfeit five dollar note on the York County Bank has made its appearance in Philadelphia. It is faithfully copied from the genuine, but the engraving, especially in the medallion vignette. The paper, too, is of an inferior quality, and is not likely to deceive any except the careless and unwary.

The receipts from the Public Works of our State during the last fiscal year, were $2,000,615 66—the ordinary expenditures $1,135,004 00—making the net revenue over ordinary expenditures, $871,011 66, which at five per cent, represents a capital of over $17,500,000. Under such circumstances, it would hardly be wise to sell these works for eight or ten millions, as is recommended in certain quarters. And yet from his Message we would infer that the great Pollock, in his august Know Nothingism, would sanction such a measure.

At a nearly full meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee, in Philadelphia, recently, (Hon. J. B. DANNEB being among those present,) a resolution was adopted endorsing the call of the Chairman for the State Convention on the 2d of March.

Dr. Elisha K. Kane.—The Pennsylvanian says: We deeply regret to learn that this indefatigable explorer, whose fame fills the civilized world, is now lying quite ill at Havanna. His many friends and admirers will deeply regret to learn that his health is in a critical condition, and sincerely hope that he may yet recover and live to enjoy the rich harvest of fame and honor he has so fairly won.

Missouri Politics.—The result of the election for officers of the Missouri State Legislature seems to have been adverse to the Benton and American parties, who united, and were beaten at all points by the union of the pro-slavery Whigs with the Atonian party. This indicates the ability of the Anti-Bentonites to elect two United States Senators.

Blasphemous Wretch.—At a Black Republican meeting held at South Dover, Dutchess co., N. Y., a few days before the election, the Reverend B. H. Davis, a professional minister of the Gospel, in the course of his "Bleeding Kansas" speech, said: "Every vote cast for James Buchanan and against John C. Fremont, is a vote to inflict a stripe upon the back of Jesus Christ!" What sort of religion do they have in Dutchess county, where this lunatic holds forth?

It will be recollected that something like nine or ten months ago, Lucy Stone and Mr. Blackwell became parties to a matrimonial contract. The Boston Post understands that a dividend has just been declared in the shape of a fine bouncing baby.

We hope the Post don't intend to insinuate that this is a semi-annual dividend!

A very pretty and interesting lady has been doing a considerable business in Baltimore, Md., by claiming one man after another as her husband. So positive and pertinacious was she that she extorted sums of $10, $25, and $50, from several individuals, to whom, for these amounts, she agreed to relinquish her legal rights. When last seen, she was starting for Philadelphia, to get evidence, as she said, of her marriage with an old resident of Baltimore, whom she boldly claimed as her husband in the presence of his wife and daughters.

Hon. S. R. MALORY, Dem., has been re-elected to the U. S. Senate from Florida, for six years.

An unsuccessful attempt was recently made to assassinate the King of Naples, by a soldier in the army. The criminal was soon after executed.

Girard College, at Philadelphia, now supports and educates regularly 515 boys, all indigent orphans.

An Unexampled Record.

The New York Times reluctantly pays a tribute to the Democratic Administration of President Pierce, by saying: "The Annual Report of the Federal Treasury Department, affords the highly satisfactory, and in the magnitude of the sum, unexpected information that the foreign trade of the country for the Treasury year ending 30th of June last, shows a balance in favor of the United States of $12,324,976. The previous semi-official returns had authorized the confident estimate that this balance would be at least five million of dollars; but as the figures for the port of New York, and as the general trade of the country during that period—April 1, to June 30—have gone ahead of the most sanguine calculations, we have now the pleasure of congratulating our financial readers upon a precise OFFICIAL RESULT for the whole year, the magnitude of which has no parallel in the history of Government."

Why Was Fremont Nominated?

Theodore Parker, in a recent address from the pulpit, throws light upon the causes of Fremont's nomination. "The head of freedom," said he, "in the North was Fremont, a young, inexperienced man, the choice of nobody. As Taylor was selected for availability, to the neglect of Clay and Webster, so was Fremont selected over Seward and Chase, the Clay and Webster of the Republican party. Mr. Fremont (reasoned his party) was a young man, and could be defeated without disastrous consequences; not so, had Seward or Chase led the ranks. Under these circumstances defeat would be ruin."

Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet.

The last Chambersburg Spirit contains a letter from "Betsy Buckhandle," the chambermaid at Wheatland, in which the following is given as Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet—having been taken by her from a memorandum found in the left boot of the President elect. "When he went to bed on Saturday night and set his boots outside of his room-door to have them greased for Sunday:—

Secretary of State—Biggs.
Secretary of the Treasury—Diggs.
Secretary of the Navy—Biggs.
Secretary of War—Biggs.
Secretary of the Interior—Biggs.
Postmaster General—Biggs.
Attorney General—Wiggs.
Betsy, we suspect, has about as much ground for her "speculations" concerning Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet as the N. Y. Herald and Greely's Tribune have.

The editor of the Saratoga (New York) Republican pertinently remarks:

"The Maine Liquor law enthusiasts, not content with the popular repudiation of their attempt to coerce the masses to adopt their system of dietetics, are about to take advantage of the Republican majority in the State legislature to supply us with a new prohibitory act as early as possible. These pseudo temperance men have already filled the Commonwealth with drunkards by their injudicious endeavor to combine morals with politics. They seem determined not to stop until they have disgusted sobriety itself into a patron of tipping shops, and made common sense, in self-defence, turn tavern-keeper."

Railroad Accidents.

An accident of rather a serious nature occurred yesterday on the Northern Central Railway, at New Cumberland, about four miles this side of Harrisburg. It was caused by a bridge crossing a stream at this place having been fired, as is supposed by a spark from a burning train, and occurred to the train which left Baltimore at 8 o'clock in the morning for Harrisburg, under the charge of Captain Kadelcliff. He having been notified at York, by Captain John Slade, of the down passenger train, of the burning of the bridge, was approaching it very slowly, and carefully, and being on the lookout he discovered that the train was approaching too closely and signaled the engineer to reverse his engine and jumped from the train, falling down the embankment and receiving some slight injury. At almost the same instant the engine went over the edge of the old bridge, and breaking loose from the train tumbled into the stream below, carrying the engineer, Mr. John Gierbrick, down with it—the fireman saving himself by jumping off. As the engine went down it from some cause exploded, and is so wrecked as to be almost useless. The engineer was so seriously injured that slight hopes are entertained of his recovery. He was taken to a private house near by, where he is receiving every attention.

The engine was the new one lately put upon the road, the John H. Done, and was a valuable piece of machinery. The cause of the accident was from some derangement in the reversing gear of the engine, as the fireman says that when he jumped off the engine was using every exertion to reverse the engine, but without avail. When he was rescued from the wreck he still had hold of the reversing lever. He was one of the most trusty engineers in the service of the company, and the conductor of the train affirms his having been running very carefully in approaching the stream, showing the accident to have been caused by the gearing of the engine not having worked properly.—Baltimore Sun of Thursday.

Burning of Vermont Capital Building.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 6.—8 P. M.—The Vermont capitol building is now on fire, with no hope of saving the entire edifice from destruction. The spacious dome is enveloped in flames, and the fire is spreading to all parts of the building. The origin of the fire is laid to some defect in the heating apparatus.

Second Despatch.

MONTPELIER, Jan. 7. A. M.—Nothing remains of the capitol but bare walls. The most serious loss is the contents of the apartments of the State naturalist, the destruction of which is total and irreparable.

Destructive Fire at Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Jan. 6.—A fire broke out at half past 12 o'clock last night, in the store 158 River street, occupied by B. Hatch, butcher. The fire from there extended to six adjoining stores south to the corner of Congress street; also burning four stores on Congress street, making ten stores.

Horrible Accident.

We learn that at Monrovia depot, in Frederick county, on Monday evening, a man named Horace Moberly, in the employ of John Bartholow, Esq., as a team hand, in attempting to cross the railroad track ahead of a freight train, fell with his neck across the rail, and the whole train passed over him, completely severing his head from his body.

Some half dozen State Legislatures met on Tuesday last.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

Mr. Buchanan has definitely decided upon the first week in February as the period for his going to Washington. He will stay at the National, which has already become the headquarters of many of his intimate friends.

The population of New York is dying away at about the rate of one in every seven minutes, day and night, all the year round.

We notice that several of our contemporaries "find time" to miss a week in the publication of their papers, on account of New Year's. Somehow we never could do that.—Sick or well, the Compiler is bound to appear.

The new State capitol at Columbus, Ohio, will be opened on Tuesday. A grand festival will be given to celebrate the event.

The notes of the Lancaster Bank are bought at 80 cents. The Erie City Bank has closed. There are rumors also unfavorable to the credit of several of the Ohio and Indiana Banks.

Add together England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland, and the aggregate superficies will yield almost precisely the area of Kansas; which, however, is small when compared with her sister territory, Nebraska.

We know of a carpenter's apprentice, who, being too lazy to work, about once an hour bumps his nose against a post till it bleeds, and then sets down to have a good resting spell.

Which causes the most swearing, a horse that won't draw or a stove?

The Madison (Wisconsin) Argus says in that State and its county "support has been refused to a worthy minister, for no other reason than because he voted for Buchanan;" and it repeats that it is literally true that "within the limits of that city, men were told by clergymen that if they voted for Buchanan they would go to hell." What Christians!

Notice is given of an application to the Legislature for a new bank, in Philadelphia, with a capital of five millions, with power to increase it to ten millions. This bank is to be called the "Republican Bank," the name probably being the only thing of a republican character about it.

Congress is now in the sixth week of the session. Thus far, little or nothing has been done.

The old line Whig and Democratic friends of W. N. H. Heman, the editor of the Louisville Courier, have persecuted him with a magnificent and elegantly wrought silver service, valued at some seven or eight hundred dollars.

There will be two eclipses this year, both of the sun. The first will occur on the 25th of March. It will be invisible in all that part of the United States east of the meridian of Washington, and partially visible west of Washington. The second is an annular eclipse of the sun, which will commence on the 17th of September, at midnight in the United States, and therefore invisible in this country. It will be visible in a large portion of Asia, part of Africa, and the whole of Australia.

The New York Herald begins to talk of the "late Republican party." There is something in that word "late," coming as it does from the Herald, that would impress one very forcibly with the idea that a dissolution had taken place; that there was a deceased organization to look after.

Fort Wayne, Indiana, is a "bird of a place." One of its papers says the people not only pay for their amusements in counterfeit money, but they pay their contributions to their public charities in the same kind of currency. Fort Wayne can take the banner!

The tendency of the Parisians to political change was not ill described by the Frenchman when, speaking of them during the year of tumult, 1848, he said, "They do not know what they want, and they will not stop till they have got it!"

Joseph Burke, aged eighteen years, son of John Burke, of Burke county, Ga., was killed on Christmas day by the accidental discharge of a pistol, which he was carrying in a side pocket of his coat.

Byron is said to have remarked that "the greatest trial to a woman's beauty is the ungraceful act of cutting eggs." Some Yankee remarks that the poet could never have seen a lady hanging on by the teeth, to a blazing hot corn cob!

The mayor of Newport, opposite Cincinnati, received a magnificent Christmas present of three fat bouncing babies from his wife on Christmas eve.

The Indiana State Bank went into operation on the 1st inst.—It is to have 20 branches, and its entire capital is fixed at six millions. The President of the bank is Hugh McCulloch, and its cashier Jas. M. Ray.

Foreign papers state that all the English mechanics are to be dismissed from the Russian service, and Americans to be employed.

For the year ending March, 1856, the tax on dogs in England yielded about one million dollars.

James A. Bayard, Senator from Little Delaware, is the best billiard player in the United States.

"The Angel Gabriel," the street preacher, died recently in Demarara.

The Repealing of the Slave Trade.—The introduction of a resolution on the re-opening of the slave trade, has caused some commotion. Open the slave trade! Why they might as well agitate the "slip" trade in the face of the fact that such elegant garments can be procured at the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 265 and 267 Chestnut street, above Sixth, Philadelphia.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS are the only reliable remedy for the sexual disabilities and disorders of females. In cases where the functions peculiar to the organization of the sex have been suppressed, suspended, or in any way deranged, the mild and conservative action of the Pills will speedily restore their regularity. The terrible diseases which result from a neglect of these derangements, are well known to all physicians, and it is of the utmost importance that the cause of their position should be taken when the result is the least. This subject is one upon which it is impossible to enlarge in the columns of a newspaper, but it would argue little in favor of the suffering of the feeble portion of the human race, to pass it over in silence.

Local Matters.

COURT, AND SO FORTH.—The January Term of Court will commence on Monday next, (the 19th.) We mention the fact for two reasons. Firstly, that "all the world and the rest of mankind" may know it; and, secondly, because it furnishes a reasonable occasion to say to delinquent patrons, that many excellent opportunities will doubtless then be afforded for remitting money to the Printer. If the many who owe us will but pay a small amount each, the aggregate will greatly relieve our present necessities. Those residing out of the county—many of them in the West—we hope will also take this kind hint to heart, and do unto us as they would be done by. Our expenses must be paid, and surely the proceeds of our labor should furnish the "where-with-all" to pay them. Is it not so, friends?

The Directors of the Poor have completed their appointments, which are as follows:

Steward, Jacob Cramp.
Clerk, D. C. Brinkerhoff.
Treasurer, J. B. Danner, Esq.
Physician, Dr. J. A. Swope.
Counsel, Wm. McCann, Esq.

That these gentlemen will discharge the duties of the several posts to which they have thus been called, to the profit of the county and the satisfaction of the tax-payers, we have no hesitation in predicting; and all who know them will cordially agree with us.—Know Nothing disappointed office-seekers may grumble at every step taken by the Board, now that two of the three Directors are Democrats; but they would be equally dissatisfied if the purest saint were to distribute the patronage and not put it in their pockets. Verily, they do hard—but there is no help for them, and there should not be, for so prescriptive, intolerant and grasping a crew.

HIRAV, son of Mr. Eli COVER, lately of this place, met with an accident, on the 25th ult., at the residence of his father, in Knox county, Illinois, which, and to say, resulted fatally. It appears that he was on horseback, in chase of a hog, which had escaped from the pen. The hog ran under the horse, causing him to stumble and throw off the boy, upon whom the horse then fell, injuring him so severely as to cause his death in two days after. He was only 15 years old, and was a fine, promising boy.

FINE HOGS.—Mr. Nicholas CORDORI, of this place, some weeks since, slaughtered two Hogs, one of which weighed 410 and the other 391 pounds—their age being about 17 months, and on Monday last he slaughtered a third of the same litter, the weight of which was 425 pounds! Certainly, heavy pork for the age.

The cold was intense on Thursday all day. In the morning at 7 o'clock the mercury was 1° below zero. On Friday morning it was 4° above—during the night 1° below, W. W.

Mr. Henry RICE intends putting up in the Spring a large and handsome brick building upon the corner of York and Stratton streets, on the lot now occupied by him. It will be a decided improvement to that portion of the town.

Terrible Calamity in Washington—A Lady Burned to Death.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The wife of Judge Daniels, of the U. S. Supreme Court, was burned to death last night by an accident at the residence of her husband in Franklin row. The Judge and his wife had been out and returning home, he went into the library and she repaired to her sleeping apartment, and commenced dressing preparatory to retiring for the night. Being very near-sighted, she did not perceive a candle sitting on the hearth, nor the flames that communicated to her clothing until they completely enveloped her. She then ran from the room shrieking for assistance. Her rapid motion only added strength to the flames and before any effectual assistance could be rendered, she was terribly burned from head to foot, and her recovery was rendered hopeless, from having inhaled the fire. She died the morning after, lingering eight hours in dreadful agony. She was a most estimable lady, about 35 years of age, and leaves two children, the youngest being only six or eight months old. She was the daughter of the late James Harris, of Philadelphia, formerly chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery attached to the Navy Department. This terrible calamity has caused much regret to a large circle of friends and the community at large, who deeply sympathize with the judge on his bereavement. He was himself burned, but not seriously, while endeavoring to extinguish the flames.

The Intelligence says:

Mrs. Daniels was sitting in her chamber at a low table preparatory to retiring for the night, having on a calico robe. From some cause, now unable to be assigned, the candle on the table by which she was lighted fell and communicated its flames to her robe, which she endeavored to put out, but in vain. In this way she screamed aloud, and ran into the passage outside the chamber, when a
