Local Matters.

TERRIFIC SNOW STORM.—A snow storm of an unprecedentedly violent character visited us on Sunday and Monday last. It is a common remark among our oldest citizens that they do not recollect another equalling it. About seventy-five years ago one nearly—but not quite—so bad was experienced.

The snow commenced falling on Sunday morning, and presently a breeze sprung up, which increased into a perfect gale, and continued throughout the day, the night, and nearly the whole of Monday; the snow coming down all the while, and the cold intense. Drifting as it fell, the snow was piled in every conceivable grotesque fashion, rendering the roads in all directions impassable—although not more than a foot of it fell. Being dry and fine, it insinuated itself into every crevice, penetrating at some point every house in town, and no doubt the same was the case in the country. There was here nearly as much shoveling of garrets as there was of sidewalks.

On Tuesday, the work of "breaking roads" was commenced all round us,—in some instances with commendable energy,—and by evening a number were passable for several miles out, the Chambersburg turnpike as far as the line. Next morning "at it again," with shovels, sleds, wagons, &c., and in the aggregate a good day's work was done—the roughest having been accomplished. All the avenues leading to this place are now passably passable—several having been sufficiently used to render them "tip top."

No mail either left or reached this place on Monday. Several of the carriers attempted to leave, but were compelled by the drifts to turn back. On Tuesday noon the mail from Chambersburg arrived,—it left that place at noon the day previous. On Wednesday, mails arrived from Chambersburg and Hagerstown; and on Thursday that from Harrisburg came in, having been started the day before. No mail from Baltimore or Philadelphia, and intermediate points, arrived until Saturday evening, (which must account for the dearth of news matter in this number of the Compiler.) The Hanover Branch Railroad, we understand, was badly drifted over, and no train got through to the Junction until Friday evening. The Northern Central was passed over on Tuesday. The trains from Pittsburgh to Harrisburg were but slightly interfered with by the snow, which is said not to have been heavy at the West. From the East we look for awful accounts, especially along the coast; but at this writing are in the dark as to character and details.

"The storm will long be remembered as one of unparelleled severity; and the 18th and 19th of January, 1857, will be set down in all the winter memoranda with 'prominent mention.'"

COLD.—The past week has been one of intense cold. On Friday morning the mercury sunk to 6° below zero, and on Saturday morning it went down—down—to 23° below, being the coldest ever noted here! It was suggestive of reflections on the trials and triumphs of the intrepid KANE on the coast of Greenland.

THE POOR.—"they are ever with you," but more particularly do they deserve kind attention from their less unfortunate fellow mortals at this inclement season. There are, we doubt not, in our midst, many who want for the common necessaries of life—and to whom the article of wood would come as a blessing fraught with many joys.

We are happy to know that several ladies, (Mrs. Solomon Powers and Mrs. George Christman,) are actively engaged in behalf of the suffering poor. Their humane efforts will bring many comforts to otherwise cheerless homes. We understand, too, that the Old Fellows, at their meeting on Tuesday evening, appointed a committee with a view to aiding the needy poor. "It is more blessed to give than receive."

A meeting of citizens, to devise ways and means to relieve the wants of the poor, was held at the Court-house on Saturday evening. An adjourned meeting will take place this (Monday) evening, at 6 1/2 o'clock.

"Weather stops for nobody"—and snow storms do not constitute an exception to the general rule, even in favor of Courts of Justice; a remark we are led to by the fact that the Court of this county, last week, was seriously interfered with by the snow storm of Sunday and Monday. President Judge FISHER, being unable, "by stress of weather," to reach this, the Court was called on Monday, by Judges ZIEGLER and HORNOR, the Associates, but only two or three jurors being present from the country, Court adjourned until next day—and from day to day until Thursday, when the Traverse Jurors were discharged. Fifteen Grand Jurors being present, the Court adjourned until next day.

The Nuptial of Hotel-keepers.—We see it stated (say the N. Y. Mirror) that Col. Stevens, of the Retiree and Tremont Houses, Boston, has contracted to take charge of a new and magnificent hotel about to be erected in Philadelphia, on the corner of Chesnut and Eighth streets. Mr. Stevens takes $25,000 of the stock, and agrees to furnish the hotel at the expense of $300,000. It would be superfluous to add that the Philadelphiaans have reason to congratulate themselves on the prospect of having one of the finest hotels in the world.

A Hoop Accident.—It is stated as a fact that a young lady at Peekskill, N. Y., on a windy night, last week, while walking along a street lying above a ravine, attired in hoops of fashionable dimensions, was raised off her feet by the wind and let down the embankment. She was seriously injured, and remained where she fell two hours before she could obtain aid to reach her home.

An elderly fat gentleman, in discussing a warm breakfast at an inn, called to the waiting boy:—"Donald, bring me bread. I eat a good deal of bread to my streak." Donald answered with much simplicity, "Ay, please your honor, and you eat a good deal of steak to your bread."

The Commissioners have designated Tuesday and Wednesday, the 31 and 4th of February, for hearing appeals—to accommodate those who were unable to attend on account of the storm.

License to keep a tavern in Arendts town was granted by the Court, last week, to ISAAC BYERS. The application of JACOB MARTIN, jr New Oxford, was held over until the April term, in consequence of objections.

Wm. King, Esq. of Harrisburg, (formerly of this place,) has been appointed by Gov. Pollock an Aid to his Excellency, with the rank of Lieut. Colonel. The Governor must have a considerable array of that kind of Aid by this time.

Esq. BRINGMAN has removed his office to the room above the store of Bringman & Auginbaugh, in Chambersburg street.

A Cotillion Party will come off at McCannugh's Hall, in this place, on Thursday evening next.

A meeting of a number of the citizens of the Borough was held in the Court-house on Saturday evening, to devise ways and means to relieve any destitution that may exist in the Borough. On motion of R. G. McCreary, Esq., the Burgesses, JOHN CURT, Esq., was called to the Chair, and R. G. Harper and D. A. Buchler were appointed Secretaries.

D. McCannugh, Esq., stated the object of the meeting, and moved the appointment of a committee from each ward, to make inquiry as to the character and amount of destitution, and report at an adjourned meeting on Monday evening. Commotives:

N. E. Ward—John Gilbert, Hon. S. R. Russell, George Swope.

N. W. Ward—A. B. Kurtz, D. McCannugh, Esq., George Little.

S. E. Ward—J. F. Fahnestock, John Winebrenner, Col. J. D. Paxton.

S. W. Ward—D. McCreary, E. Menchy, J. P. Hoffman, A. W. Fleming.

On motion of R. G. McCreary, the following persons were appointed to receive donations of clothing, provisions, &c., from such citizens as may wish to contribute:—Geo. Arnold, A. B. Kurtz, J. L. Schick, Daner & Ziegler, Fahnestock Brothers, Jacob Norbeck.

Adjourned to Monday evening.

According to one of the ministerial papers of Madrid, of the 24th of December, General Santa Anna, of Mexico, has sent agents to Madrid to propose to re-establish monarchy in Mexico, with a Spanish prince or sovereign, provided the Spanish government will grant him certain assistance. The Epoca opposes any such project unless it be freely demanded by the public opinion in Mexico and have the support of England and France.

Rev. Mr. Dodge, a Baptist clergyman, was lately taken by the citizens of Grant county, Wisconsin, plunged naked into a snowbank, and afterwards ridden out of town on a rail. The cause was the discovery of an arrangement by Mr. Dodge to elope with another man's wife. The baptism by snow may be the means of saving this divine from the fire.

Something of an Income.—It is estimated that one of the rich men of New York has now a "regular income" of $3,000 a day; or about $1,100,000 a year. Out of this he can probably manage with economy, to "lay aside against a rainy day" the respectable sum of a million a year. Add to this another million by the rapid appreciation of his real estate, and we have an annual increase of wealth for this individual, amounting to two millions of dollars. Wm. B. Astor is that gentleman.

A Good Sentiment.—The President elect was unable to attend the celebration of the battle of New Orleans by the Tammany Society of New York, but sent the following toast:

"The friends of the Union North—the friends of the Union South—the friends of the Union everywhere: They have fought the good fight, they have kept the national faith, and they have won for themselves an imperishable meed of glory."

Dr. E. K. Kane.—Late letters from Havana state that the health of Dr. Kane is improving, and that he hoped to start on his return home on the 12th. This is indeed good news.

It appears that the coal extracted from the mines of Pennsylvania the last year has been equal to the sum of forty millions of dollars, which is well up to the yield of the gold mines of California.

Bleeding Kansas.—We find the following in the New York Mirror:

"The Tribune people have received nearly $22,000 for their Kansas fund. This, we suppose, may be considered as bleeding for Kansas. We have not yet seen any report of the appropriation of the said fund."

The Kansas College Project.—Governor Geary has written a letter expressing his hearty approbation of the movement lately made in Lawrence for the establishment of a College in Kansas, and saying that he will be happy to unite in the undertaking.

The Nuptial of Hotel-keepers.—We see it stated (say the N. Y. Mirror) that Col. Stevens, of the Retiree and Tremont Houses, Boston, has contracted to take charge of a new and magnificent hotel about to be erected in Philadelphia, on the corner of Chesnut and Eighth streets. Mr. Stevens takes $25,000 of the stock, and agrees to furnish the hotel at the expense of $300,000. It would be superfluous to add that the Philadelphiaans have reason to congratulate themselves on the prospect of having one of the finest hotels in the world.

A Hoop Accident.—It is stated as a fact that a young lady at Peekskill, N. Y., on a windy night, last week, while walking along a street lying above a ravine, attired in hoops of fashionable dimensions, was raised off her feet by the wind and let down the embankment. She was seriously injured, and remained where she fell two hours before she could obtain aid to reach her home.

An elderly fat gentleman, in discussing a warm breakfast at an inn, called to the waiting boy:—"Donald, bring me bread. I eat a good deal of bread to my streak." Donald answered with much simplicity, "Ay, please your honor, and you eat a good deal of steak to your bread."

A movement is on foot to establish a Savings Institution in this place.

Diverging Empires.

The Seeds of Physical and Moral Triumph.

—Two classes of conquerors appear upon the earth, and from each class we select a type to illustrate the difference which lies between their practice and achievements. There are soldiers whose mission seems to be to pull down and overturn—and such were Alexander and Napoleon: there are reformers who, from the ruin of decaying systems, create and build up new structures—and to this latter class belong such men as Luther and Holloway! Let us contrast Napoleon and Holloway—two men, alike perhaps in the normal nature of their genius, and each aiming at a certain universality of empire in the professions they respectively selected. The empire of the sword which the former created and for so many years of fluctuating victory sustained and fostered was, after all an idle and a bloody dream. It faded in the frost of his reverses, and when he died, a lonely exile on the sea-girt rock, there was no compensating benefit that he could point to for all the carnage, misery and ruin his personal ambition cost the world.

Professor Holloway made a wiser choice, although the enemy he grappled with had more than mortal terrors at command. He leveled war upon disease, and with the self-made weapons of his Universal Remedies has fought and overcome his enemy in every land, on every sea, among all tribes and nationalities of the earth. It was a stubborn fight and one in which success brought no triumphant cries to cheer the prowess of the conqueror. The silent gratitude of a rescued sufferer, the still small voice of an approving conscience, the assurance that his years had been devoted to a worthy object, and the growing respect and admiration of all whose good opinion deserves to be considered,—these were the stimulants which prompted him to despise the calumnies of interested haters, and persist in the dissemination of that medicinal empire which he has at length established among all the nations and branches of the human family. And his is an empire that will last, and a reward that shall not pass away.

It would be an insult to the understanding of our readers—versed as we must suppose them to be in a matter of such vital interest—to enlarge upon the different steps of the investigation by which Professor Holloway succeeded in demonstrating that all maladies took their rise in an organic impurity of blood. He did discover it; and by discovering in addition, one single combination of herbs capable of restoring the blood to purity, arrived at that Universal Remedy which, though dreamed of, and believed in, and hoped for by the wise men of all former ages, had never before been realized in the test of universal practice. Great, indeed, is the reward of the learned and indefatigable physician: the prayers of the millions he has saved accompanying him through life, and the record of their gratitude will have gone before him when he is summoned from the scene which his genius and philanthropy have so largely contributed to improve. The reward of practical benevolence is an imperishable crown.—N. Y. Sun-Mercury.

A Romance of Real Life.

On Monday last, on the arrival of the morning train from the East, two German girls stepped out of the cars and were immediately recognized by two young men who were standing on the platform. When they were clasped in each others' arms,—their emigration to this country forms an interesting story. The young men are natives of Wertemburg, Germany, and when in their native place "fell in love" with the daughters of a wealthy citizen, and their love was reciprocated by the youths, who were poor, provoked the ire of the parents of the maidens. They would not be disgraced by the marriage of their daughters to the two "porcupine" men of Wertemburg. Finding that the "old folks" could not be reconciled, they hit upon the following plan, forming a sacred agreement:—"The young men would leave Wertemburg and come to the United States, and earn money, when having earned enough, they would send for the objects of their affections: they declaring constancy till death." They parted. The young men came to America, and by the persuasion of friends who had preceded them to this country, they settled to hard labor in Anderson's Valley, some miles distant from Shippensburg. After working about a year, they accumulated the means necessary to convey the idols of their hearts from Germany to America, and immediately despatched it to them,—spending many sleepless nights in anxiety for their arrival."—On Monday last, their cup of joy was filled, for their loved ones reached them in safety and in health. They left home unknown to their parents, and came alone four thousand miles, without meeting an acquaintance till they embraced their lovers at the depot in Shippensburg. This is an instance of true devotion, before which the sickly creation of novelists pines, and is another instance of the constancy of woman's love. It also proves that where she has once concentrated her affections there they will remain indifferent to the opposition of those who may dislike their choice. All honor to the courageous maidens who could, without shrinking, leave the abode of luxury and brave the perils of the deep, to fulfill the "bonds of holy love"—Shippensburg News.

What Makes a Bushel.

The following table of the number of pounds of various articles to a bushel may be of interest to our readers:

Wheat, sixty pounds.
Corn, shelled, fifty-six pounds.
Corn, on the cob, seventy pounds.
Rye, fifty-six pounds.
Oats, thirty-six pounds.
Barley, forty-six pounds.
Buckwheat, fifty-two pounds.
Irish potatoes, sixty pounds.
Sweet potatoes, fifty pounds.
Onions, fifty-seven pounds.
Beans, sixty pounds.
Bran, twenty pounds.
Clover seed, sixty pounds.

Hemp seed, forty-five pounds.
Blue grass seed, fourteen pounds.
Dried peaches, thirty-three pounds.

A member of the Lazy Club has just been expelled for going at a faster gait than a walk. The recusant offered, in mitigation of sentence, the fact that the sheriff was after him, but the society was inexorable.

Job Printing cheaply done at this office.

HEAVY ROBERT.—A dwelling up town was robbed a few nights since of a number of valuable articles. Among the latter was an entire suit of clothes from the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Bookbitt & Wilson, Nos. 225 and 237 Chesnut street, Philadelphia. The robber evidently had good taste.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—Impurities of the blood are often developed in disgusting eruptions, ulcers, tumors, scurvy, rashes, boils, and other external affections. For all these, and for the numerous complaints, Holloway's Ointment is literally a life-giving balsam. It neutralizes the malarious humors, or seeds of disease in the system, and dispels the inflammation, Nature gives the cure. The Ointment is used in the same manner as the Pills, and is equally efficacious in all the cases mentioned above. It is the only medicine that will cure all these affections, and it is the only one that will cure them without the aid of a physician. It is the only one that will cure them without the aid of a physician.

MR. MOUL'S Reaping Machine.

MR. C. MOUL, Dear Sir:—According to my promise, I should have written to you long before this, respecting the Reaping Machine I got from you about the first of July last. I must say that I cannot express myself in terms high enough, as a Reaper for cutting grain, oats, grass and clover seed. I do not believe that there is any Reaper now in use, that will beat yours. I have seen McCormick's Reaper at work, and I can work your Machine as easy with two horses as he can his with four. I would not exchange my Machine for one of McCormick's, if any person would give me $100 to boot, to say I should make use of it; for I think your Reaper a perfect Machine both for durability and ease to work with.

Yours, with respect,
ABRAHAM WAYBRIGHT.

Mecca and Mohammed.

G. P. PUTNAM & CO. have published and G. P. have now ready for sale, Burton's Pilgrimage to Mecca and the Tomb of the Prophet, with an introduction by Bayard Taylor. 1 vol. 12 mo., with Illustrations, $1.50.

The history of this curious book is as follows:—Burton, an officer of the East India Company, having by a long residence in Upper India, acquired a perfect knowledge of the Oriental language and customs, projected a visit under the auspices of the Royal Geographical Society, to the Holy City of Mecca, and the Tomb of the Prophet at Medina, places rarely if ever before witnessed by any Englishman.—This he successfully accomplished in 1833-4, disguised as a Mohammedan Dervish. The history of the pilgrimage is not surpassed in interest and originality by any book of travel ever published—embracing his residence at Cairo as a Mohammedan Student; the journey across the desert with the great annual caravan of Pilgrims; the visit to the Tomb of Mohammed; the discovery that the sacred black-stone of Mecca is an acrolite; the annual sermon preached at Mecca to an audience of 150,000 Pilgrims gathered from all parts of the Moslem world; his narrow escape from detection, and the only accurate account of the ceremonies of the Moslem faith.

To the religious community this work furnishes information never before made public, respecting the ceremonial laws of a large portion of the Eastern World; while for general interest, Burton's narrative will compare favorably with either Escholar, or Ctescent and the Cross.
