The habeas corpus is a great and precious privilege when properly used; but like all other lost things, if misused and perverted, becomes the direct of curses. Its intent is to shield the innocent and the helpless against arbitrary, irresponsible and despotic power; but here it was used to screen the guilty, defeat the ends of justice and lay bare the bosom of the nation to the strokes of its enemics. This decision breaks down all distinction between loyalty and treason, between enemies and friends. It is perverting the palladium of individual security into an engine of national destruction. It is taking the children's bread and casting it to dogs. Is there a loyal oitizen who can read the foregoing extract without feeling that his own personal security is impaired, that his honor ass good citizen is impaired, that his honor ass good citizen is pro-slavely neighbors. Several other delagates have resigned, and elections are to be held on the 10th inst, to fill the vacancies. The radicals have brought out Judge Henry B. Governor Seymour and the Colored Troops. Troops.

The Troy (N. Y.) Times says that a committee of colored men from that city waited upon Gov. Seymour last week, and saided him whether he would favor the organization of: regiments of black mee. He replied that he should not, saying that he had too much sympathy for the blacks to do so, as the position they must occupy would be one of extreme danger, and would lead to dreadful and unnecessary acrifice of life.

Perhaps no other man in America is capable of anything so mean and contemptible as this. The soft-hearted Governor of New York, through pure sympathy for the negroes, declines to permit them to be placed in "danger," and kindly assures them that "the dreadful and unnecessary sacrifice of life," in case they went into battle, is not to be thought of for a moment.

This, for a leader of a party which classes all who differ with it as "nigger worshippera," is notes bad; and our white soldiers be held in the will be glad to know that, according to so high a democratic authority, they are the men who must occupy positions of "extreme men who must occupy positions of "extreme danger." Mr. Headley is eminently dited for the preparation of a work of this character. He is acknowledged to be the most vigorous and graphic writer of Milliary History in the language. He devotes his whole time and energy to the works, spending some pertion of this time with the army, and his ortensive acquaintance and correspondence give him peculiar advantages for obtaining information. Usabiased by party and unfattened by politicians, he writes from the standpoint of a patriotic and impartial historian.

With his facilities for obtaining facts, and his wonderful powers of condensation, he is enabled to furnish the people with a full, consecutive, reliable and impartial History of the great contest of modern times, in a smal compass. Avoiding dry details—tedious or dejointed documents, extracts and doubtful reports—he combines facts in his own peculiar and masterly style, making overy page glow with the facchation of a rumance, as the readers of his first volume will testify. Booth, of Philadelphia, which, together with the test of estimal experience by manufacturers in Pittsburgh, Cincinnation and St. Louis, detarmines it to be the pursest and most valuable Clay now known, whether Foreign or American. Potts made from it have stood in the Class Surasco from 6½ to 6 months.

The Analysis in of the Clay as taken from the mine, without any washing or proparatise whatever. It possesses great adhesiveness and positicity qualities, which are not shown by the Analysis, and when defined of the admixture of a large proportion of thill or burned clay.

I am now prepared to fill orders for the above Clay, to be shipped from St. Louis or delivared here.
