W. Ruber, slightly.

The regiment, after marching thirty miles, went into the fight on the evening of the 2d, Ool. Collier, and Lieut. Col. Moody cheering on their men. On the morning of the 3d, Opl. Collier, while summing his platel, just before going into the battle, shot himself, accidentally, in the foot, and required the attention of the surgeon. He was anxious to mount again after his wound was dressed, but the surgeon would not permit him to do so.

Gallantry of Schoonmaker's Cavairy We have some additional details of the late affair at Beverly, Va., from which it appears that the 14th Pennsylvania cavalry, a regiment recruited here by Col. Schoonma ker, took a conspicuous part in the engagement, and saved our forces from disaster. On Thursday, July 2d, a force of rebels under Gen. William Jackson attacked our troops at Beverly. The 10th Va., under Col. Harris, had forty plokets oppured and his regiment almost surrounded. The 14th Pa., sevelry, Col. Schoonmaker, now in Gen. Averill's brigade, was ordered to make a forced march from Paillipordered to make a forced march from Phillip-ple. They drove the campy beat to Elit Wa-ter, a distance of forty miles, kept up a run-ning fight, destroyed two of the enemy's game, and recaptured the pleasts with important rebel mail matter. One man of company O, while carrying dispatches, was shot dead on the root.

The Hempfield Railroad. A bill is now before the Legislature of West Virginia, having for its object the grant of power to sall the Hempfield Bailroad to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, with a view te having it completed to Greensburg, and thus made a feeder to the great Pennsylvania Central. The bill has already passed the House of Delegates, but it is objected to u. the Senate upon constitutional grounds, it being alleged that, under the constitution of the new State of West Virginis, no additional corporate privileges can be granted until due notice shall have been given under regula-tions to be established by law, and no legal provision has yet been made for giving such notice. The road, in a business point of view, if doing worse than nothing, and it is design. is doing worse than nothing, and it is designable that the sale should take place.
