

MONDAY MORNING, AUG. 24

Union State Ticket

- FOR GOVERNOR: ANDREW G. CURTIN, of Centre; FOR JUDGE OF THE SUPREME COURT: DANIEL AGNEW, of Beaver; Union County Ticket...

Where is the National Intelligencer? The paper above-named, which is supposed to represent the conservative element...

The events which preceded the rebellion above, that it was brought about by the assurance of Northern Democrats that the great States would permit...

It is not surprising that Mr. Curran, and other people, have expressed the opinion that it makes no difference, if the slavery dies by Union hands, whether the slavery dies by Union hands...

The Intelligencer suggests, as a deduction from these views, that it is easy for it to answer where it is—that it is now where it was in the beginning, and that it had always occupied the position of a tendency to overplay the original theory of the war...

It is something however to know from his own confession, that it has always opposed not only such measures as involved a departure from the original idea—but such others, especially as had a tendency in that direction by involving consequences to slavery that could not be aimed at for our own sake, and as an object of the war...

When it comes to the subordinate inquiry—'Does it favor the country?' the answer is, that we have only to look around us, to see that in consequence of the rebellion, there has been interpolated on the original theory of the war...

to the Intelligencer, that the war to suppress the rebellion was allowed to linger for some twenty months, with our own capital under siege for nearly half that time...

The last and noblest work of rebellion: Of all the outrages to which any people have been subjected, that of the rebellion against the Union is the most heinous...

CLANDIDITIES: FOR N. JERREY, HENRY M. HARRIS, of the nation of the Southern States, which will sell out...
