DIXON'S

AROMATIC BLACKBERRY CARMINATIVE,

THE SOVEREIGN REMEDY FOR

DYSENTERY, DIARRHEA, FLUX, CHOLERA MORBUS AND SUMMER COMPLAINT.

The immense sales testify to the merits of this remedy.

The numerous daily reports of astonishing cures attest its value.

It has advantages over any other remedy, as once curing the disease, and imparting tone and strength to the system.

Is safe and harmless to the infant, and powerful in the adult case.

To the soldier, especially, it is invaluable, being appropriately termed by them, in many epistles,

"The Soldiers' Friend."

Mothers find it superior to any soothing syrup for children teething, freed from the injurious effects of NARCOTICS, gives rest to the sufferer by removing the disease.

Sold by H. McGARRAH & CO., 85 [illegible] street, Pittsburgh, and by respectable dealers everywhere.

IMPORTANT TO RAILWAY COMPANIES, MILL OWNERS, &C.

We have erected and have in operation, near the city, an extensive Laboratory for the manufacture of

Lubricating and Paint Oil,

By a new and ingenious scientific process, and now offer and commend to public notice and patronage three grades, A, B and C respectively, of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL.

Wherever these lubricators have been tested, they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparations lately offered in the market.

The "A," or best quality, is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other machinery. The "B," or 2d quality, for railway and other like machinery; and the "C," or 3d quality, for heavy and coarse gearing, &c.

The PAINT oil has been tested by numerous Painters in this city, and proved to be a capital substitute for boiled Linseed Oil. Indeed many Painters give it a decided preference.

These Oils are now extensively manufactured at our

Eureka Lubric Oil Works.

As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these economic equivalents of sperm and Linseed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited.

For sale at No. 80 MARKET STREET, corner of Second.

PUBLICATION OF NAMES OF DESERTERS.—We saw, a few days ago, that the names of deserters from Massachusetts regiments had been published in the newspapers of that State. We are informed that the same course will soon be resorted to in Pennsylvania. A Philadelphia paper states that the publication as deserters of the names of those who have failed to report within the allotted time, has been deferred until after the first of the coming month, in order to give them a chance to save themselves from such disgrace.

Transfer of Troops From Grant to Rosecrans.

Speaking of the facilities for reinforcing Rosecrans' army from Vicksburg, the St. Louis Republican gives us the following:

First, there are 347 miles of steamboating to Memphis, and next, by railroad from Memphis to Chattanooga, is a distance of 300 miles. But the road is not open all the way. Trains run regularly to Corinth and Julia, the latter 115 miles, and it is not unlikely that the road may have been opened to Decatur, 70 miles further east. There should, too, be railroad communication between Stevenson and Chattanooga, by means of the Nashville and Central railroad, the distance between these two places being 87 miles. But we can hardly reckon on more than, say, 200 miles, if so much, of railroad transportation between Memphis and Chattanooga. The transfer of troops began several days ago, even before there had been any battle between Rosecrans and Bragg.

Affairs in East Tennessee--Rosecrans and Burnside.

Speaking of the situation of our armies under Rosecrans and Burnside, the Cincinnati Gazette, of Tuesday morning, remarks:

Of the arrival of reinforcements we may not expect to hear much hereafter, as it is not proposed to furnish the rebels with a daily bulletin of operations. As remarked yesterday, there does not appear to be any immediate prospect of a battle for the possession of Chattanooga. The rebels, by their delay, admit their inability to continue the fight, and are doubtless receiving reinforcements. Dispatches from Fortress Monroe mention reports of a heavy movement of troops south-ward from Lee's army; and the comments of late Richmond papers, telegraphed by our Washington correspondent, show that the rebels think that Meade will not attack Lee, from which we conclude that the work of reinforcing Bragg is in progress. From all these things it is to be inferred that the rebels mean to risk a great battle in Northern Georgia, and there fight for the repossession of East Tennessee. It is more than probable that this may be the decisive battle of the war.

From Knoxville we have letters to the 24th and dispatches up to Monday evening. The news, though not very important, is quite interesting. There have been several minor engagements, but no bloody battles; still the Union victory is complete; and because this has been achieved without serious loss of life, it is all the more cheering. The last organized rebel force has been expelled from East Tennessee. The loyal people have almost filled seven regiments since the arrival of General Burnside. Forage and food are plenty, and our troops are in good condition and fine spirits. Communication was open with Gen. Rosecrans on last Thursday, and for the safety of any forces that may have gone to Chattanooga, we are assured there need be no apprehension. It was difficult to restrain the loyal people from laying violent hands on the rebels. Notwithstanding the efforts of the military, several rebel citizens had been killed. The Scotch were, as usual, worming themselves into the confidence of our military men, and it is alleged that they are exercising a greater influence, and obtaining greater privileges, than are safe or proper.

Interesting Southern News.

GILLMORE'S OPERATIONS ON THE CHARLESTON AND SAVANNAH TELEGRAPH WIRES.

On Saturday afternoon, while Mr. Buckhalter, overseer of the track of the Charleston and Savannah Railroad, was passing over the road near Green Pond, he discovered a telegraph wire leading from the Charleston and Savannah wire into the woods. Following the wire a short distance he came upon a party of Yankees, who had an instrument arranged so as to enable them to take off the dispatches passing over the line between Charleston and this city. The Yankees, comprising a party of three whites and three blacks, fled on being discovered, bearing off their instrument, but leaving a quantity of submarine telegraphic wire and other implements.

Mr. Buckhalter lost no time in giving information to the military authorities at the nearest point, and a party of cavalry was speedily dispatched in pursuit of the fugitives, who succeeded in capturing three of the party, a chaplain, a first lieutenant and a negro, all belonging to the Fifty-fourth Massachusetts negro regiment. The pursuit was continued in the Combahee Swamp, to which the balance of the party had fled, and, with the aid of a number of trailing dogs, after a chase of some seven miles, the operator, a red-headed Yankee by the name of Foster, was found and captured while stuck up to his middle in the mud, and unable to extricate himself. The remaining two negroes, with the telegraphic instrument, made their escape in a flat-boat, but at last accounts our men, with their dogs, were in pursuit, with a good prospect of overtaking them.

The Yankee operator admits that he had established his connection with our telegraphic line only a few hours before, and had only obtained a few unimportant messages. He had, however, learned the signals of the different telegraphic stations, and had he not been interrupted, would no doubt soon have been able to have carried on an interesting and, to the Yankees, important correspondence. As the party were well provided with submarine wire, it was probably their intention to establish telegraphic communication between our line and the Yankee headquarters.—Savannah News.

UNIONISTS CONFINED IN CASTLE THUNDER.

There are some big fish in Castle Thunder, caught in the net of military surveillance. The most notable, because of his ancestry, is Andy Johnson, nephew of the great blowpipe, Andy Johnson, of Tennessee. He is about thirty years of age, and boasts how soon he is to be liberated by Yankee bayonets. He is charged with disloyalty, &c.

The next in importance is George W. Hudson, the Englishman and spy, arrested on the Southern Railroad by the "unknown detective" almost a month since. He bears himself with a hauteur.

Another is the Yankee spy, Negley, arrested in the Confederate uniform within the lines of the Army of Northern Virginia, and sent to Richmond by Gen. Lee.

Among the females is Mrs. Clark, a French woman from New Orleans, and apprehended at Mobile on the charge of being an emissary from the Yankees. The other day she surreptitiously sent a letter from the Castle by a negro boy. On discovery of the violation of the rule the boy was ordered to be flogged, whereupon she asked that the stripes might be laid upon her own back instead of the boy's. Of course, her expression of devoted sympathy for the negro could not be entertained in this instance, as she was well aware when she indulged herself in that slight exhalation of gas.—Ibid.

Two Scenes in the Future.

Imagine a venerable copperhead when this war is over, and these stirring times are forgotten, sitting at his home with his children around him. He may tell them of the wars and the sacrifices men made—and how the people rejoiced when the news of each victory came from the army. What will he say of his own part in the struggle? My children, in that sad time when the country was in danger, I was against the country—my heart was with the rebel—when he triumphed I was glad—when he was defeated my heart was sore and heavy. My children, when I am gone, do not curse the traitor. Be silent. It is the only respect you can pay to your father's memory."—Philadelphia Press.

Another scene. Imagine one who is now young and strong, with no incumbrances, passing into the sere and yellow leaf. His little grand-children have been reading the story of the bravery and patriotism of the men of the present times. One of them inquiringly asks: "Did you go as a soldier grandpa?" "No, my dear," is the reluctant reply. "But why not?" "O, I consulted my family physician, and he decided that I had incipient phthisis." "Incipient phthisis! what is that grandpa?" "Ahem that's a disposition to cough when you get cold."—Boston Journal.

IMPROVED FEELING IN CANADA.—The Boston Traveller says: "We learn from a Boston gentleman who has just returned from an extensive tour in Canada, that a gratifying change of sentiment in regard to the contest in the United States is already apparent in that country. Though there are yet many strong adherents of the South, the great mass of the people are disposed to rejoice at the late decisive federal victories, and to hope that the struggle may end in the re-establishment of the authority of the government over all the territory of the republic. The leaders of the liberal party now controlling the Canadian government are decidedly friendly to the North, and the present premier especially so, notwithstanding the fact that his wife, a Louisiana lady, owned a plantation in that State, with three hundred negroes, who, since the federal occupation, have become free.

THE Sorghum or Chinese sugar corn proves to be hardier than Indian. The late frost in the Northwest, which cut off a large portion of the corn crop, did not touch the Sorghum. Two gallons cane juice are equal to a bushel of corn for fattening cattle, and from 800 to 1000 gallons can be obtained from swingle acre. The Chicago Tribune says that hereafter it is probable the two crops will be produced in equal quantities in the West, the Sorghum for sugar and syrup making, and hog and cattle feeding, and the corn for man's consumption.

THE sorghum crop in Illinois has been very severely injured by the frost. This will be a severe blow to the companies that were just fairly ready to commence the manufacture of sugar and molasses upon a large scale. Their outlay has been quite large, and they were expecting a heavy return. The crop through the State has not been entirely cut off, but it is very seriously injured. The frost affected most on low lands.

THE extreme penalty of military law, daily visited, almost, upon the professional substitutes who have been caught in deserting from Gen. Meade's army, is working a reform, and desertions are decreasing. A sharp lookout is now kept on the Potomac, where they have been swimming across into Maryland and escaping. Some have been shot in the water who refuse to give themselves up.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT INDICATED.—The Chicago Tribune, of Tuesday morning, says: It would be contraband to draw an inference from the fact of Gen. Hooker's presence at Indianapolis yesterday, and the heavy requisitions made upon our railroad companies for cars. It is certain that great and important movements are going on.

THE story now going the rounds of the press to the effect that our government had abandoned its original position with regard to the colored soldiers and their officers in the hands of the enemy, is false. Mr. Odell and General Meredith are now having a conference concerning exchanges.

THE first special order issued by Gen. Boyle after his appointment by Gov. Bramlette, recommends the citizens of Kentucky to form themselves into companies for protection against guerrillas—if they do not a draft from the enrolled militia will be ordered.

THE guerrilla General Richardson, who has so long been a terror to the people of West Tennessee, has been taken prisoner. He had ventured to Memphis in disguise, but was recognized and arrested.

UP TO Monday night about 1,300 rebel prisoners and 5,000 wounded Union soldiers had arrived at Nashville. The churches and halls in the city were crowded with the latter.

A STUNNER.—A steamer left New York for New Orleans on Saturday, having on board a gun weighing 49,550 pounds, and capable of throwing a 400 pound shot.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND of the Corps d'Afrique, under Gen. Banks, have been mustered in, and recruiting is active. The maximum strength is 25,000.

LETTERS for Union prisoners in Richmond should be directed to Castle Thunder, instead of Libby prison.
