SUNDAY READING.—For an interesting epitome of the Religious Intelligence of the week, carefully prepared for the GAZETTE, see fourth page.

Copperheads and Rebels One Party.

The mere fact that the newspapers of the rebel States are urging their military leaders to put forth unwonted energies, and, if possible, to achieve some important victories prior to the Second Tuesday of October, in order to encourage and strengthen the "democracy" of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, ought to cause every man, who is not an arrant traitor, to pause and reflect. It proves, as nothing else can prove, that the rebels and the copperheads are one party—that both are at war with the Government, and that the triumph of the one is the triumph of the other. It proves that the Southern rebels understand the aims of the democratic leaders a great deal better than do the poor ignorant creatures who are blindly following them, and who make night hideous with the wild yells of approbation with which they greet the treasonable utterances of those who at once flatter and betray them, and who, in pretended zeal for the Constitution, are doing all that cowardly hypocrites can do to give hope, and aid, and comfort, and strength to the men who are at open war with the Government, the Constitution and the flag of their country.

No one victory which the rebel armies could possibly gain over the armies of the Union would so strengthen the rebel cause as the election of WOODWARD and VALLANDIGHAM; and the man who deposits a ballot for either, whatever may be his motive, does a greater service to the rebellion, and inflicts a greater injury upon his country, than if he were to take his rifle and fight against the soldiers of the Union.

Those Southern politicians, who are openly counselling the Confederate Generals to strike in unison with their friends in the North, are probably not aware that the leaders of what is called the "democracy" in the free States dare not openly avow their real sentiments—that they can only hope to succeed by playing the part of hypocrites—that the standard-bearer of the party in Pennsylvania is obliged to avow opposition to what he calls the "heresy" of secession, and to say that he condemns it even as he condemns abolitionism. They know that he is in favor of withdrawing our armies to the North side of Mason & Dixon's line, as he told Judge CUNNINGHAM, and then suing for peace. They knew that his heart is with them, and that he would openly advocate their cause if he durst do so; but they do not know that were he say publicly what he said to Judge CUNNINGHAM, it would damn him with the masses of his own party; nor do they know to what miserable shifts of simulated zeal for the Constitution and the Union their friends in the North are obliged to resort. They know that a disaster to the Union arms is an advantage to the Democracy of the North; but they are probably not aware that the leaders of that party dare not say so. If they knew their true condition, and the difficulties which those leaders have in keeping their tattered cloaks of loyalty about their traitorous carcasses, they would not so openly counsel Gen. LEE to aid them by another invasion or demonstration.

The Rumor about Another Draft.

A sensation rumor gained currency through the telegraph a few days ago that the Government was about to order another draft of 600,000 men. We did not believe it at the time; and now, since orders have been issued by the Boards of Enrollment to institute an extensive system of voluntary recruiting, it is hardly necessary to say that the story is destitute of any foundation. The probability is that it was started for political effect. Not the slightest intimation of such intention on the part of the Government has reached any of the Boards of Enrollment.

If we beat the Copperheads this fall in Pennsylvania and Ohio by decisive majorities, the present generation may rest easy as to any further conscriptions; and had it not been for the encouragement which the rebels derived from copperhead victories in 1862, the past draft would not have been needed.

ABOLITION PRESS OF MISSOURI.—The St. Louis Democrat gives the list of twenty-seven newspapers in Missouri which oppose the Gamble ordinance, and advocate immediate emancipation. They are as follows:

Democrat, Evening News, Central Christian Advocate, Westliche Post and Neue Zeit, St. Louis; Herald and Westliche Volksblatte, St. Joseph; Democrat, St. Charles; State Times, Jefferson city; Citizen, Mexico; American, Lagrange; Radical, Ironton; Journal of Commerce, Kansas city; Courier and Chronicle, Hannibal; Herald, Edina; Union of States, Bethany; Consolidation, Chillicothe; Sentinel, Weston; Journal and Missourian, Springfield; Herald and Union, Lebanon; News, Washington; Volksblatte, Hermann; Express, Rolla; Tribune (about starting at St. Joseph.)

IMPORTANT ORDER.—An order from the War Department directs the attention of courts martial to the acts of Congress giving such courts power to sentence officers, who absent themselves from their commands without leave, to be reduced to the ranks to serve three years or during the war.

The truth as to the rebel losses at Gettysburg is gradually coming out. A Richmond correspondent of the Mobile Register says their loss in killed and wounded was at least twenty-five thousand men, and gives statistics confirming this estimate. The authority for his statement is a gentleman with General LEE, and intimately associated with him.

The Ears of the Cat Let Out of the Bag.

We have heard much said in relation to "the dignity of the position which Judge Woodward occupies in the canvass," and perhaps it is owing to an optical defect that we cannot discern this "dignity." At all events, we can't see it. But perhaps the reader will be able to discover something like this "dignity" in the following splendid effort which the thrice defeated Woodward delivered to a crowd of night revellers who recently serenaded him in Philadelphia:

I have been honored by the call of my fellow citizens, but the call being an unexpected one, and having just returned from the Horticultural Fair, feel tired and worn out, and for this reason you must excuse me for not addressing you. IF I SHOULD BE ELECTED GOVERNOR, I WOULD THEN FEEL IT MY DUTY TO ADDRESS YOU ON ALL POLITICAL QUESTIONS, AND THEN I WILL EXPRESS MY OPINIONS IN A LANGUAGE TO BE UNDERSTOOD. UNTIL THAT TIME COMES I MUST BE EXCUSED. I THANK YOU FOR THE COMPLIMENT. I BID YOU GOOD NIGHT.

—What a speech for the "dignified candidate" of a once powerful party! Not a word about traitors. Not a word against the conspirators who are struggling to destroy the Government. Not a word for the brave men who are perilling life and limb to defend that Government. Not a word for principle! And yet George W. Woodward asks the people of Pennsylvania to support him for Governor—to invest him with power that he may be enabled to assist their mortal enemies. After he is elected Governor, he will speak in a language not to be mistaken! Of this there can be no doubt, but the freemen of the State will take care that he is not elected Governor of Pennsylvania.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Judge Woodward as Oily Gammon.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia North American communicates the following to that paper:

This gentleman recently obtained a ticket of entrance into a large machine works in this city, and as soon as he was inside commenced to violate one of the rules of the works plainly printed on his ticket, "No visitor is allowed to converse with the workmen," by electioneering the Democratic ticket among the men. He told them several wonderful tales, among which was a statement that he was sure of one hundred thousand majority outside of Philadelphia; so that if he did not get a single vote in the city his election was a certainty. As the Judge is so sure of his election, it is rather a small business to be guilty of acts like the above. Where is his dignity?

ENGLISH COMMERCE.—The English Board of Trade returns for July show a large increase in the export trade of the kingdom. The value of the exports during the month was $68,250,000, an increase of $7,600,000, or 12½ per cent. in excess of the total for the corresponding month of last year, and $17,770,000 in excess of that for July, 1861. The improvement has been distributed among all the principal articles of production, linen and woolen manufactures being especially prominent. There has also been some revival in the shipment of railway iron to the United States, and the export of arms and ammunition has been more than double that of the same month of the last two years—the total, which was $397,000 in July, 1862, being now $860,000. Of cotton manufactures the shipments show an increase of 10 per cent. in value, but a decrease of about 20 per cent. in quantity.

THE fugitive rebel Governors of the Trans-Mississippi States—Messrs. Reynolds, of Missouri, Flannagan, of Arkansas, Moore, of Louisiana, and Lubbuck, of Texas, (the latter not yet fugitive)—have just been in convention at Marshall, Texas, to consider the present aspect of affairs in that region. They have issued an address reviewing their misfortunes, setting forth their bright prospects, urging renewed efforts, and announcing that the Western section of the Confederacy will seek no destiny separate from that of the rebel States east of the Mississippi. They have also established themselves as a Committee of Public Safety for the purpose of helping the fortunes of the Confederacy.

A LETTER from Virginia City, Idahoe Territory, to the St. Joseph News, says: "I am now in one of the richest gold mines of this or any other country. They have been but a short time discovered, and the best portion of them have not been opened, but those that are now being worked pay from ten to twenty-five dollars per day. It is thought that there are others to be opened that will pay one hundred dollars per day to the hand, from the fact that twenty-five dollars to the pan of dirt has already been taken out of them."

A GENTLEMAN of Chickopee, Massachusetts, has on his farm an apple tree remarkable both for size and productiveness. Its trunk measures three feet and eleven inches in diameter, and its top spreads over a circle of one hundred and eighty feet in circumference, so that it is doubtless the largest apple tree in the country. Three years ago seventy bushels of apples were gathered from it. It will turn off several barrels of fruit this year.

PLUMBAGO has recently been introduced as the basis of a cement for steam joints and the general metallic connections of the engineer. It is composed of six parts of plumbago, three of slacked lime, eight of sulphate of baryta, and three of boiled linseed oil. This compound, it is said, secures a perfectly air and steam tight joint, much superior to that obtained by the use of red lead.

THE Danville (Ky.) Tribune says the work on the railroad from Lebanon in that direction is being vigorously put through. About one hundred negroes, a portion of the quota of Garrard county, passed through the town on Wednesday, intended for work on some portion of the road, and a requisition was made upon the agents in Boyle county for thirty laborers for the same purpose on Thursday.

IN the neighborhood of St. Clair, Franklin county, Missouri, hogs, in apparent good health and condition, are dying by scores, some farmers having lost the greater part of their stock. In some places the same affection, or some other fatal disease, seizes fowls, and they droop about for several days, become blind, and perish.

EXPERIMENTS that have recently been made in France show that a horse can live seventeen days without food or drink, and twenty-five days upon water alone. If he consumes solid food without drinking, he can live only five days. A horse that had been deprived of water for three days drank eleven gallons in three minute.

SUGAR UP!—The Richmond Examiner of Sept. 22d, exclaims: "Heigho! Common brown sugar yesterday took a spasmodic jump to three dollars per pound. Clarified and white commanded four dollars per pound, at retail." That is "sweetening high."

IT was Punch who said so felicitously that while men only want (modest dogs!) all they can get, the women want all they can't get!
