IMPORTANT TO RAILWAY COMPANIES, MILL OWNERS, &C.

We have erected and have in operation, near the city, an extensive Laboratory for the manufacture of

Lubricating and Paint Oil,

By a new and ingenious scientific process, and now offer and command to public notice and patronage three grades, A, B and C respectively, of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL.

Whenever these lubricators have been tested, they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparations lately offered in the market.

The "A," or best quality, is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other machinery. The "B," or 2d quality, for railway and other like machinery; and the "C," or 3d quality, for heavy and coarse gearing, &c.

The PAINT OIL has been tested by numerous Painters in this city, and proved to be a capital substitute for Boiled Linseed Oil. Indeed many Painters give it a decided preference.

These Oils are now extensively manufactured at our

Eureka Lubric Oil Works.

As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these compounds equivalents of sperm and Linseed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited.

For sale at No. 20 MARKET STREET, corner of Second.

MONDAY MORNING:.....OCT. 14, 1862.

GEORGE SUMNER, brother of the Massachusetts Senator, died on the 6th at Boston, after a long illness, of paralysis.

WE SEE it stated that one of the fifteen shells dropped by Gen. Gillmore into Charleston, shivered to pieces a statue of John C. Calhoun, erected in front of the Court House there.

TO ENABLE civilians of Ohio employed in divisions of the army to come home to vote, the Governor has ordered State agents at all points to issue half-fare tickets. It is estimated that fully 3,000 voters will be added to the poll.

SLAVEOWNERS near Culpepper are sending their chattels into the Union lines, telling them they have nothing to feed them upon this Winter. When the loyal North has Wintered them, these precious owners will be after them as runaways.

The St. Louis Republican states that the Government requires all the tonnage there for the transportation of supplies South for some time to come. Boats will not be permitted to take any stock or private freight for citizens for the present.

THE Philadelphia North American says that the demoniac guerrilla Quantrell is no other than the celebrated thief, forger, and bigamist, known as Dr. J. B. Hayne, whose likeness is in the Central Station Rogues' Gallery. He served five years in the Frankfort (Ky.) Prison, being liberated just before the rebellion broke out. He changed his name and obtained Government employment as a major at Washington, but was found unfit for his position. Many years of his life have been spent in prison. He was an expert forger, a cold blooded murderer, and a heartless debauchee—in short, a cavalier of the first water.

GEN. ROSECRANS.—The following extract from a letter from the wife of a staff officer, to Gen. Rosecrans' army tends to refute certain derogatory statements which have gained currency in some quarters: "The General was in command of the army during the whole engagement, and in no such danger, when the centre of our army gave way, that he was lost to the larger portion of his staff from two o'clock Sunday, until Monday morning, and it was feared by many of his staff officers that he was captured. I write this because of the report at Louisville, and circulated through many of the Western Journals, that he was not in the engagement."

On the 14th of last month Lieut. Tramel and ten men of the First Alabama Federal cavalry, started on foot from Glendale, some ten miles from Corinth, where the regiment is stationed, and proceeded into the center of Alabama, and after an absence of two weeks, returned to camp in safety, bringing with them one hundred and ten recruits for their regiment, as well as five prisoners, one a Lieutenant, and a rebel mail, as trophies. The Lieutenant captured was engaged in counselling, and says he thinks that the Confederacy is about played out, if one man can travel all through it. They report that the country is full of conscripting officers, and the Union men are all hiding in the woods. The recruits were obtained in the counties of Fayette, Walker, Winston and Pickens, and are a fine-looking set of men, who will do good service for the Union. They report that thousands are ready and anxious to join the Union army, and are only waiting the opportunity.

Miss Dickinson.

This gifted and patriotic lady has been making campaign speeches through some of the eastern portions of the State, for several weeks past. We trust that she will be indused to cross the mountains before long. A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes the other day from Danville:

Miss Dickinson favored the people of Shamokin with one of her best speeches last evening. She spoke for about two hours to a most enthusiastic audience, in the Methodist Church. It was the most telling speech heard in Shamokin during this campaign.

The miners were present in considerable numbers, and joined in every round of applause as heartily as any portion of the audience.

Several intense copperheads who heard her effort last evening, openly expressed themselves as highly delighted with her oratory. One old gentleman, who had never heard a lady "speak in public on the stage," and whose life-long prejudices against female orators were deeply rooted, when rallied by his friends for venturing to listen to Miss D., as he did last evening, replied, "Well, I am of the same opinion still; a woman's place is at the fireside of the heart, to feed its flame; but I verily believe Miss Dickinson has an especial mission from Heaven for the conversion of copperheads, and I am proud to acknowledge myself as one of her converts."

She is doing untold good in arousing the enthusiasm of our friends, and sowing the seeds of truth among our rural audiences. Had she been able to have visited every portion of our State, she could have added thousands of votes to our Union majority.

Prospective Retirement of Chief Justice Taney.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times contains the following:

It is thought here in professional circles that Chief Justice Taney's protracted hold on the Bench of the Supreme Court of the United States, will be unloosed before the spring of 1864. A desire is universally expressed among lawyers and politicians that his successor in office may be a statesman whose history gives the soundest guarantees of Anti-Slavery sentiment, and whose eminence as a lawyer and Senator has only been surpassed by the splendor with which he has administered the finances of the United States during the great rebellion.

JUDGE WOODWARD, Copperhead candidate for Governor, says that

"Slavery is an incalculable blessing."

John Brodhead, Copperhead candidate for City Treasurer, says in his letter to Jeff Davis,

"I am tired of being a White Slave in the North, and long for a home in the sunny South."

Say, nigga, can de leopard change him spots? No, sar! but de copperhead can! Yah—ha! Well, den, spose dat white slave change him spots, can de fugim-slave law fotch him back?

Look hea, nigga! Dat conundum am a legal question, and I defer you to Judge Woodward for de answer.—Phil. Press.

William Cullen Bryant on Emancipation.

At a meeting in New York, last week, called in compliment to the Missouri delegation, Mr. Bryant concluded his speech as follows:

I have read a letter this very day—a letter from a person whose name, if I were to mention it, would carry authority, assurance, acquiescence, and conviction upon all that should read it—in which he says all those negroes who were made free, who were treated like freemen, paid wages, allowed to provide for their families—that they now work better, more to the profit of those from whom they receive wages, and in all respects preserve a more respectful deportment than ever before. He goes on to say that all planters say this, and that it things were worked right in Louisiana, within a year that State would take her place among the free States of the Union, with the entire consent of all who inhabit within her limits. He goes further than this—he says that, over all the South, in every part of the slave States, the change, the transition from absolute and universal slavery to universal and instantaneous emancipation, might take place with even less of violence and confusion than a tax law could be changed in a Northern State. [Applause] Such is his testimony—a most valuable testimony. It seems to me to settle the question. Gradual emancipation. Have we not suffered mischief enough from slavery without keeping it any longer? Has not blood enough been shed? Are not the pools of blood deep enough? My friends, if your child were to fall in the fire would you pull him out gradually? [Laughter.] If he were to take a dose of laudanum sufficient to cause a speedy death, and a stomach pump were at hand, would you draw the poison off by degrees? If your house were on fire, would you put it out gradually? [Laughter.] And yet there are men who talk of gradual emancipation, by force of ancient habit, and there are men in the slave States who make of slavery a sort of idol which they are unwilling to part with, which, if it must be moved, they would prefer to see it removed after a lapse of time and under leave-taking. Slavery is a foul and monstrous idol, a Juggernaut under which thousands of lives are crushed out; it is a Moloch for whom the children of the land pass through fire. Must we consent that the number of the victims shall be thousand victims this year, are you willing that nine hundred should be sacrificed next year, and eight hundred the next, and so on, until after the lapse of ten years it shall cease? No, my friends, let us hurl this grim image from its pedestal. Down with it to the ground. Dash it to fragments. [Cheers.] Hurl it to fragments; trample it in the dust. [Applause] Grind it to powder, as the prophets of old demanded that the graven images of the Hebrew idolators should be ground, and in that state scatter it to the four winds, and throw it upon the waters, that no human hand shall ever again gather up the accursed atoms, and mold it into an image to be worshipped again with sacrifices of human life. [Loud and prolonged applause.]

The Titans of America

A correspondent of the American Phrenological Journal says: "While you have spoken of the Kentuckians, Tennesseeans, West Virginians and Marylanders, as being so large and finely developed, permit me to say that the true Titans of America have escaped your notice—men among whom, though nobody myself, I have walked, feeling myself among gods—physically speaking, of course—men beside whom the Highlanders are in a measure pigmies—men among whom six feet three inches, and a chest of forty-five, forty-eight and even fifty inches are not uncommon—I mean the backwoodsmen of Maine, to whom three generations, spent for the most part in the open air, battling with the piney monarchs that girt the Umbagog, the Moosehead and other lakes and streams of that wild, bracing Northern climate, have given the most gigantic development of physical power which I ever saw or had any authentic account of."

AN electro-magnetic phonoscope, for writing music as played, has been invented in England, and is thus described. The machine is small, and its motive power is electro-magnetic, produced by a voltaic battery, and working in a manner analogous to the printing telegraph. The machine having been placed as report with the instrument to be played upon, say piano forte, harmonium, or organ, the player manipulates the keys in the usual manner, and the machine prints his performance as he goes along, at a speed proportionate to his playing, the usual rate being fifteen inches of paper per minute. The printed notation is identical with that already in use, the difference being that the heads of the notes are square instead of round. It must be valuable for composers.

A GOOD TRAIT OF "THE TIMES."—Mr. J. Moore, a practical printer in London, lately stated in a lecture on the History of the Art of Printing: "The proprietors of the Times have done much to improve the condition of the compositors employed in their establishment. For many years a savings bank has been established, to which every compositor is expected to subscribe weekly. A cuisine has been fitted up, where viands, wholesome and suitable, are prepared at a small cost to the customers. There is also a bath to refresh the body after the fatigues of the night. And, better still, dwelling-houses have been erected on Mr. Walter's estate, in Berkshire, where the compositors may retire, in their old age, upon a pension."

The mules must be delivered in this city within (25) twenty-five days from the date of signing the contract.

Payment to be made upon the completion of the contract, or so soon thereafter as the Chief Quartermaster of this depot shall be in funds.

The mules will be awarded in lots of (500) five hundred each, unless the Chief Quartermaster may deem it for the interest of the Government to vary the number.

The Chief Quartermaster reserves to himself the right to reject any or all bids that he may deem too high.

D. H. RUCKER, Brig. Gen. and Chief Quartermaster, Depot of Washington.

ORDNANCE OFFICE, WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, October 2, 1863.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until the 30th day of October next, for BANDING and BUSHING the 42-pounder Guns, at the Forts and Arsenals of the United States in the Atlantic states, amounting in number to 100, more or less.

The guns will be delivered at, and removed from, the establishment where the work is to be done at the cost of the United States.

Proposals for those on the Pacific Coast—about 50 in number—will be received until the 10th of December next; and in the case of these, the guns will be delivered at San Francisco or its vicinity.

The guns are to be turned down to a true cylinder for the length of twenty-seven inches from the base of the base ring, prepared to take a band of the best wrought iron the interior diameter of which will be twenty inches, and its thickness three inches.

The vent is to be bushed with a new bush of pure ingot copper, one inch in diameter and about nine and a half inches long, and bored with a vent of the form of an inch.

Drawings of the gun in its original form and with the band put on can be seen at this office, at the Watertown Arsenal, Mass.; at the Watervliet Arsenal, and at the New York Agency, No. 45 Wirth street, city of New York; at the Arsenal at Pittsburg, Pa.; and at Allegheny Arsenal, Pittsburgh, Pa.; at the Fort Monroe Arsenal, Va.; at St. Louis Arsenal, Mo.; and Kendall Arsenal, Ga.

The work is to be done to the entire satisfaction of the officer who will be appointed to superintend it; and payments will be paid in full for each gun upon his certificate of inspection and receipt.

Proposals will state the price per gun for the whole operation; describe in detail the manner in which it is proposed to put on the band; the number they will bend per month; and the time which will be required to do the whole work. The method and the time required for doing the work as well as the price, will be important elements in considering the bids and awarding the contract.

No bids will be considered from any parties but such as are actually engaged in the manufacture of iron and heavy machinery, and who are, in the opinion of the Department, fully prepared to execute the work. In the case of parties not known to this Department, evidence to the foregoing effect must accompany the proposal.

Bond, with satisfactory sureties, to the amount of fifty per cent. of the bid, will be required for the fulfilment of the contract; and the Government reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if deemed unsatisfactory.

Prop sals will be endorsed "Proposals for Banding 42-pounders," and will be addressed to Brigadier General George D. Ramsay, Chief of Ordnance, Washington City. GEO. D. RAMSAY, Brig. Gen., Chief of Ordnance.

PROPOSALS FOR HORSES. CAVALRY BUREAU, OFFICE OF THE CHIEF QUARTERMASTER, Washington, D. C., Aug. 15, 1863.

Proposals are solicited and will be received at this office for the furnishing of CAVALRY HORSES, to be delivered at Pittsburgh, Pa., Philadelphia, Washington City, Syracuse, N. Y., or Indianapolis, Ind.

Proposals will be considered for the furnishing of horses in lots of not less than twenty-five (25). The horses to be from fifteen (15) to sixteen (16) hands high, from five (5) to nine (9) years old, well broken to the saddle, compactly built, in good flesh, and free from all defects.

The ability of the bidder to fulfill his agreement must be guaranteed by two responsible persons, whose signatures must be appended to the guarantee.

The responsibility of the guarantors must be shown by the official certificate of the Clerk of the nearest District Court, or the United States District Attorney.

Proposals must be addressed to Lieut. Col. C. G. SAWTELLE, Chief Quartermaster, Cavalry Bureau, and be endorsed on the envelope, "Proposals for Horses."
