MISCELLANEOUS.

IMPORTANT TO RAILWAY COMPANIES, MILL OWNERS, &c.
We have erected and have in operation, near the city, an extensive Labratory for the manufacture of
LUBRICATING AND PAINT OIL,
By a new and ingenuous scientific process, and now offer and commend to public notice, and patronage three grades, A, B and C respectively, of 1st, 2d and 3d quality LUBRICATING OIL.
Wherever these lubricators have been tested, they have been pronounced greatly superior to any of the preparations lately offered in the market.
The "A," or best quality is designed to take the place of the best Sperm Oil, and for use on cotton, woolen or other machinery. The "B," or 2d quality for railway and other like machinery; and the "C," or 3d quality, for heavy and coarse gearing, &c.
The PAINT OIL has been tested by numerous Painters in this city, and proved to be a rapid substitute for boiled Linseed Oil. Indeed many Painters give it a decided preference.
These Oils are now extensively manufactured at our
EUREKA LUBRIC OIL OIL WORKS.
As the process is scientific and uniform, customers can rely on the uniform excellence of these economic equivalents of Sperm and Flaxseed Oil. A trial and test is confidently invited.

FRIDAY MORNING.....OCT. 16, 1863.

The News.

The sensationists seem to have been holding high carnival at Washington for some days past. Certainly some of the stories reported to have obtained currency in that city, and thence telegraphed over the country, are of such a character as almost to invoke again what we had supposed the Government would never more have occasion to resort to—the censorship.

It is impossible, however, to account for the recent coloring given by certain newspaper correspondents, in their reports of military affairs and the movements of our army in Virginia, by the mere supposition that the business and interest of news-gatherers is to make the most of what they have to send, and that in this instance they have thrown in the sensation element ad libitum.

We must suppose that business and interest of quite another kind have prompted the invention and transmission of these exaggerated (not to say downright false) and, in every point of view, mischievous reports. Meantime, from old experience of the sinuous and unscrupulous tribe of stock-jobbers, we feel confident that much, if not all, of this vile work may be charged to them. Their business and interest have frequently, in the past, prompted and inspired the evil genius of invention, just in the same way.

Judging from the most careful review we can give to the dispatches of the past few days —of course distinguishing them from one another in the process, according to the character of the sources from which each appears to come—we should say that the withdrawing of considerable numbers from Meade's army to re-inforce Rosecrans, a movement of which the rebel newspapers long ago spoke very explicitly, showing that they had full information of much, if not all, that was going on within our lines, rendered it necessary, or at least prudent, for Gen. MEADE to shorten his lines of communication, so as to frustrate any project which his wily and enterprising antagonist, Gen. LEE, might attempt, such as cavalry expeditions to cut off supply-trains, or even raids across the Potomac—not to speak of another possibility of a still bolder kind, manœuvering so as to pass with his whole army round one of the flanks of Meade's army and get into the rear between him and Washington. With such a mere man of routine to deal with as Gen. MEADE, without any genius save that of the pseudo-Fabian sort, which is exceedingly cautious, even when there is no special necessity for caution, General LEE might take advantage of MEADE's situation, to do any or all of the things we have enumerated. Of course, it would be an ungrateful return on the part of LEE, for MEADE's consideration of his situation at Williamsport; but the generals of hostile armies do sometimes fail to copy one another,—and LEE, as he is intensely in earnest in making war, would be likely to act without the least regard to gratitude, or any other sentiment that might stand in his way.

Therefore, as all this was known to the Government at Washington, and to Gen. MEADE himself, we see no reason to doubt that the falling back from the Rapidan to Manassas, was a movement dictated by expediency and voluntarily undertaken—not at all the result of any present disaster, suffered at the hands of the enemy. No doubt when JEFF. DAVIS left for the south, to do his utmost for Bragg by his personal presence and exertions, he enjoined LEE to make whatever demonstrations he might against MEADE, to prevent further reinforcements being sent to ROSECRANS.

We can but say another word. This journey of DAVIS southward, which was announced yesterday in our dispatches, and which we now find that a Petersburg newspaper confirms, is significant of how deeply the rebel President feels the truth of his own statement about the danger of suffering our army to hold East Tennessee, and how earnestly, nay, how desperately, he will work, risking everything at almost every other point, in order to concentrate an army sufficient to resist the advance of the Army of the Cumberland. Within a few days we may hear that the Waterloo battle of the war has been fought at Chattanooga.

The National Debt.

A Washington dispatch of Tuesday says:

The National debt is far less in amount than the enemies of the Government hoped it would be on the 1st of October. They had prophesied that we would owe three thousand millions of dollars before the end of the second year of the war. Government enters upon the third year of the war, with a debt of only twelve hundred and twenty-two millions seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The increase of this debt, hereafter, will be moderate, the Government being abundantly supplied with muskets, cannon and clothing.

In a speech last night at Armory Hospital, the accomplished Register of the Treasury, Hon. L. E. Chittenden, said that, while Northern Copperheads were predicting bankruptcy and ruin in our monetary affairs, foreign capitalists were only too anxious to invest in government securities. Yesterday $350,000 worth of United States bonds were issued to foreign brokers, and Government has money now on hand with which to pay the entire army for the month of November, which money was furnished by foreign capitalists.

The London Examiner, which has been anything but friendly to our cause, thus remarks on the plea of Jeff. Davis to raise 500,000 negro troops: "To hold out the prospect of rewards to such a force is an absurdity worthy of the imagination of Rabolais or Swift. 'You shall have freedom and fifty acres at the end of the war if you serve faithfully,' are the conditions proposed. 'We will take them at once,' would be the reply of half a million, 'and not wait to run the chance of being shot in the meanwhile.' The proposal is monstrous and impracticable, but it has important significance, as indicating the extreme military wants of the Confederacy, and the wild expedients at which it snatches, and which it will have to abandon or ruefully to repent."

THE ALABAMA IN A FRENCH COURT.—Mainkoff, the Paris correspondent of the New York Times, writes: "A Court of Bordeaux has decided that the Confederate steamer Alabama is a corsair, and one of the claimants against the Florida, says in a note in the journals, that he can prove every point taken in the decision in the Bordeaux Court against the Florida.' He is, therefore, pushing his case against the latter vessel and hopes to see her also declared a pirate. It is not anticipated, however, that the Government will go back in its decision that she is a man-of-war, and, therefore, exempt from seizure.

THE REBELLION IN SAN DOMINGO.—Advices from San Domingo to the 16th ult. have been received at Boston, by the arrival of the schooner Freeman. The rebellion is reported to have terminated in the entire success of the Spanish troops. The island is reported to be unhealthy, several of the Freeman's crew having died of yellow fever.

A LONG FAREWELL.—We are informed that on Tuesday Mrs. Vallandigham took her departure from Dayton to join her husband, saying, as she bade her friends farewell, that she never expected to return until she returned with her husband, and he as Governor of Ohio. Alas, what a long farewell!—Ohio State Journal.

Fare of Prisoners at Richmond.

The Rev. Louis M. Boudyre, one of several chaplains who have just returned from Richmond, has published a letter correcting some inaccurate reports which have lately obtained currency respecting the fare of the inmates of the Libby Prison. He says:

While it is true that the fare of Federal prisoners in Richmond is almost as scanty as it could be and sustain life at all, it is not true that any of us reported that their "food consists of a few beans, a hunk of corn bread, and no meat, daily." Beans are sometimes used, but rarely. Corn bread is not known among them, only such as is baked by the prisoners themselves from meal which the officers are allowed to purchase. Regular rations of meat are issued daily. Officers' rations, generally fresh beef, about three ounces after cooking; good bread, about eighteen ounces; rice, about two ounces, and sometimes beans instead; a teaspoonful of vinegar; about the same of salt.

This is found to be scarcely half enough to sustain health, and were in not for the twelve thousand dollars' (Confederate) worth of groceries, &c., purchased weekly by the officers of Libby prison, it would be impossible to depict the suffering of those miserable inmates. What must we think of enlisted men whose rations consist only of eighteen ounces of bread and about four of bacon? Without blankets or overcoats, they lie upon the hard, dirty floors of warehouses, or the cold ground of Belle Island. It is not uncommon to find, among three hundred, as many as fifty sick ones in a day. Deaths are numerous. I have seen much of this with my own eyes; what I have not seen I have from the testimony of Confederate officers in charge. The record of suffering is still more appalling among citizen prisoners."

The Attack on the Ironsides and Why it Failed.

In addition to the particulars from our own officers of the late rebel attempt to blow up the new Ironsides, which have been given in our dispatches, we may copy the following from the Richmond Examiner of the 8th:

During the months of July and August, the Picture was placed in the hands of the talented Artists under whose auspices it was originally produced, and for nine weeks their united energies were bestowed in retouching the picture and executing new scenes of absorbing interest. Each scene has been entirely repainted, and stands forth in all the freshness and lustre of its prestine beauty. The immense success and unparalelled reputation acquired by this matchless painting, brought into the field a host of miserable imitations, which have vainly endeavored to compete for the public favor. The efforts have proved utterly futile, and the press and public, with one accord, have pronounced GOODWIN & CO.'S POLYORAMA OF THE WAR unrivalled and unapproachable. The exhibition is now under the exclusive direction and control of Mr. RUFUS SOMERBY, who will positively appear at each exhibition and deliver an elaborate Historical Lecture, the rendition of which, in the principal cities of the United States, has extorted the unqualified approbation of the entire public. Mr. Geo. D. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, in commenting upon this Lecture, awarded to Mr. Somerby the proud title of the MOST GIFTED ELOCUTIONIST OF THE DAY. Still further to increase the attractiveness of this elegant and refined entertainment, Mrs. RUFUS SOMERBY, the eminent Contralto Vocalist, will introduce, at each exhibition, a variety of popular and appropriate songs, ballads, &c., many of them written expressly to illustrate the various deeply exciting scenes. The charms of melody are thus wedded to the painters' art, and the lovers of ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE, CLASSIC ORATORY and REFINED MUSIC will be presented with an entertainment which stands confessedly WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD.
☞Tickets, 25 CENTS; Children under ten, 15 CENTS. Doors open at 7; commence at 7½ o'clock. Grand Matinee WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, at 3 o'clock, when children will be admitted for 10 cents each.

From Niblo's Saloon, New York, at
MASONIC HALL,
FOR A SHORT SEASON,
Commencing
WEDNESDAY, October 14th, 1863,
GOODWIN & CO.'S GIGANTIC
Polyorama of the War.
The largest, most complete and only authentic HISTORY OF THE GREAT REBELLION ever depicted on canvas, forming a perfect transcript of every event of importance from the first dread signal at Sumter down to the capture of Vicksburg.
This is the same COLOSSAL PICTURE OF THE WAR that was exhibited in Pittsburgh in January last, and gave such universal satisfaction to crowded and delighted audiences for three consecutive weeks; and the same furore which marked its advent in this city also greeted its appearance in Cleveland, Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Chicago, Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia, the most capacious halls in those cities being insufficient to accommodate the immense throngs which flocked to witness it.
During the months of July and August, the Picture was placed in the hands of the talented Artists under whose auspices it was originally produced, and for nine weeks their united energies were bestowed in retouching the picture and executing new scenes of absorbing interest. Each scene has been entirely repainted, and stands forth in all the freshness and lustre of its prestine beauty. The immense success and unparalelled reputation acquired by this matchless painting, brought into the field a host of miserable imitations, which have vainly endeavored to compete for the public favor. The efforts have proved utterly futile, and the press and public, with one accord, have pronounced GOODWIN & CO.'S POLYORAMA OF THE WAR unrivalled and unapproachable. The exhibition is now under the exclusive direction and control of Mr. RUFUS SOMERBY, who will positively appear at each exhibition and deliver an elaborate Historical Lecture, the rendition of which, in the principal cities of the United States, has extorted the unqualified approbation of the entire public. Mr. Geo. D. Prentice, of the Louisville Journal, in commenting upon this Lecture, awarded to Mr. Somerby the proud title of the MOST GIFTED ELOCUTIONIST OF THE DAY. Still further to increase the attractiveness of this elegant and refined entertainment, Mrs. RUFUS SOMERBY, the eminent Contralto Vocalist, will introduce, at each exhibition, a variety of popular and appropriate songs, ballads, &c., many of them written expressly to illustrate the various deeply exciting scenes. The charms of melody are thus wedded to the painters' art, and the lovers of ARTISTIC EXCELLENCE, CLASSIC ORATORY and REFINED MUSIC will be presented with an entertainment which stands confessedly WITHOUT A RIVAL IN THE WORLD.
☞Tickets, 25 CENTS; Children under ten, 15 CENTS. Doors open at 7; commence at 7½ o'clock. Grand Matinee WEDNESDAY and SATURDAY AFTERNOONS, at 3 o'clock, when children will be admitted for 10 cents each.
