

Pittsburgh Gazette

8. BIDDLE & CO. TUESDAY MORNING, NOV. 2, 1863

The New York Election. The result of the election to be held in New York to-day, will be looked for with great interest throughout the country generally.

The inhabitants of New York city are tasting the pleasures of having an election. Their pleasures are more exciting than could be enjoyed in any other part of the country.

The speech of General Garfield, on the occasion of his visit to New York, has been referred to, with much interest, by the press.

It will be noticed that no member of the wire-pullers decided by throwing their support to the other side were elected.

Conservation Defined and Illustrated. In the concluding paper of his series called the "Cantonian" in the last number of Blackwood's Magazine, Mr. Milnes makes the following observations on the subject.

When will I resign? We do not like to be troublesome, but we really feel compelled to remind Judge Woodward that he has not yet indicated the precise time at which he intends to surrender the seals and retire to the classic shores of Wyoming.

It is to come off here, however, it is not only the dinner, but the toast and speeches that have to be got ready. The lawyers will wait time as well as the parsons--no one slighting, but to burnish up their poetry and classics for the occasion.

The Public Debt. On the 1st of September last, the Public Debt amounted to $1,228,837,771. It is composed as follows:

On the 1st of May, 1863, the public debt amounted to $1,041,412,714. In four months, up to September 1st, it has been $187,425,057, which is at the rate of $46,856,264 per month, or $1,594,500 per day.

Slave Stampede in Kentucky. A very respectable slaveholder from Kentucky informs us that, within three weeks past, a change seems to have come over the slaves in the southern counties of that State, and large numbers are running off. He says that over one hundred and fifty have escaped from one county, and the trouble is increasing.
