The Delaware Election.

In one of our special Washington dispatches an incidental reference is made to Mr. Smithers' success in Delaware. This supplied an unaccountable omission in the dispatches of the Associated Press, yesterday, in which we had no notice whatever of the election of Mr. Smithers. We find, however, that the agent of the Associated Press actually did send a proper announcement of the fact to other points than Pittsburgh. Here it is, now, as it comes to us in the papers of the more favored localities:

WILMINGTON, Nov. 19.—It having become evident, from the vigorous campaign conducted by the Unionists, that Charles Brown would be overwhelmingly defeated, the friends of that gentleman withdrew his name the day before the election. Smithers, the Union candidate, has 4,008 majority in New Castle county. The returns from the other counties indicate his triumphant election without opposition.

A County That is Not Asleep.

There is a French proverb—at least there is a proverb that has a conspicuous place in recent French history, as the motto of the Droit nouveau party, of which the historian GUIZOT was the most distinguished leader—to the effect that "God will always help those who strive courageously and intelligently to help themselves." In the following paragraph, which we quote from a Western paper, this is strongly exemplified.

Marion county, Ind., (Indianapolis,) offers a premium of $100 bounty to volunteers, additional to that provided by Government. As there was not money sufficient in the County Treasury, the Commissioners applied to the banks to take the order and advance the means. The request has been nobly responded to. Within twenty-four hours, $41,000 was advanced—the Indianapolis Branch Banking Company alone taking $30,000—and pledges given for the balance needed. The Commissioners also intend to provide liberally for soldiers' families.

—Now, if it were not almost too irreverent, we might almost say, this shows that at least sometimes those who wisely endeavor to help themselves have both God and Mammon to help them. But as we read of this county of a Western State—we think of the counties of our own State, and must acknowledge that, so far as we can judge, they are all just in the condition in which a paragraph elsewhere in our paper to-day asserts they are—ASLEEP.

Important to Hay Dealers.

In consequence of the exorbitant prices now asked for hay in Missouri, Government authorities have felt compelled to take steps to put a stop to unbounded speculation in this article, as will be seen by the following order, which we clip from the St. Louis Democrat:

ASSISTANT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE,
FORAGE DEPARTMENT, U. S. A.,
ST. LOUIS, MO., Nov. 17, 1863.

The action of speculators has been such, that the Government has been compelled to pay extravagant prices for hay, in order to meet its necessities. Hereafter no more than twenty-five dollars per ton, for good, well-baled, Timothy Hay, duly inspected, will be paid. If hay does not come forward freely at that price, Government will seize it, wherever it is found, and send it to St. Louis, or Cairo, and deduct the transportation from the above price.

By order of Chief Quartermaster of the West.
E. D. CHAPMAN, Captain and A. Q. M.

KENTUCKIANS DESERTING THE REBEL SERVICE.—A Lexington correspondent writes:

At no period since the rebellion broke out, has there been so many desertions of Kentuckians from the ranks of the enemy, as at present. We are constantly hearing of rebel soldiers returning to their homes, in this and adjoining counties, willing to take the oath or do anything else, so that they may be allowed to remain. Five reached the little town of Walton, Boone county, in one day, last week, and they report large numbers of others on the way.

SECRETARY WELLES has written, in reply to a communication from New York merchants, urging greater zeal in the pursuit of the rebel privateers, that all the vessels which can be spared from the blockade service, have already been dispatched after them, and every means in the power of the department have been used.

EVENING GAZETTE TELEGRAMS.

The Recall of the Truant States—Plan of the President.

NEW YORK, NOV. 20.—A special dispatch to the Tribune from Washington, dated November 20th, says: The attention of the President and more prominent members of the cabinet, and other gentlemen, has been largely given of late to the consideration of the important question connected with the recall to the Union of the truant Southern States, several of which may soon be knocking at the door. The President's course to be adopted is not yet determined.

Several theorists claim the President's ear; but he is, himself, engaged in maturing a practical plan by which to secure reunion upon the only practicable basis, the basis of freedom and equality before the law for all. Recent utterances of the President, and instructions to the commissioned representatives of the Government, in districts of the South now in our possession, leave no doubt that the policy of the administration is to permit none of the vagrant States to come back with a slave constitution, is fixed. The present discussion relates to the ways and mean of effecting this result.

From the Army of the Potomac.

NEW YORK, NOV. 21.—The Herald has the following:

Army of the Potomac, Nov. 20.—The guerrillas around Warrenton having fired upon our pickets quite frequently of late, the citizens have been notified that on the first recurrence of picket shooting, Warrenton will be shelled.

Brandy Station, Nov. 20.—A squadron of the 6th New York and 3d Virginia Cavalry, of Buford's command, under Capt. Conger, of the latter regiment, made a reconnoissance yesterday in the direction of Sperryville, and captured a rebel herd of 232 cattle, 14 horses and 15 herders.

Seizure of All Cotton in New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A New Orleans correspondence, of Nov. 14th, to the Herald, states: Yesterday the United States Marshal and his deputies seized all the cotton now in New Orleans. The seizure was made on the order of Mr. Rufus Waffler, the United States District Attorney. A rumor says that the seizure was made on information derived from secret parties, that most of the cotton now in stores in transitu, was purchased from disloyal parties, and that before it can be released, the present owners must prove that the parties from whom they purchased are loyal to the United States Government.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21, 1863.

The Richmond Examiner, of the 18th, is before me. The type is battered and worn. The paper is like grocery wrapping. There is no local news, and the shipping column is played out, except two arrivals at Wilmington. The only telegram worth a notice is from Charleston. It says that a monitor had her smoke stack perforated the day previous. Our iron-clads made a survey of the channel from Cumming's Point toward the city. The attack on Fort Sumter is still going on. The batteries at Fort Gregg threw twenty-five shots into the City of Charleston.

A report from Sumter states that our monitors took their position to-day near Cumming's Point, and afterwards passed up the channel. It is believed that they carried heavy weights suspended at certain depths below the water, to ascertain if there was passage for vessels of a certain draught.

Burnside is in a tight place, secure from immediate danger, but surrounded with difficulties. There is little faith placed in his dispatch stating that all was right.

The line between Cumberland Gap and Knoxville is badly interrupted.

The statement that the rebel authorities had refused permission to convey provisions and clothing to Union prisoners in Richmond, is a mistake. The authorities there not only accepted the contributions, but appointed a commission of Union officers to distribute them. I telegraphed you on the faith of a private dispatch to that effect, received by the President of the Charleston Commission, G. H. Stewart, Esq.

General Meade, Adjutant General Williams, and Chief Quartermaster Ingalls, have returned to the army on the 17th.

The bridge over the Rappahannock is completed.

British officers, from Canada, arrived at the army headquarters on Sunday evening. The party consists of Col. Earl, of the Grenadier Guards; Capt. Peel, a son of Sir Robert Peel; Capt. Stevenson, and Lord Castlebrough, all of the Scotch Fusileers. The object of the visit is simply curiosity.

The Delaware special election for member of Congress, to which the State is entitled, has gone by default. Smithers, the Administration candidate, has had it all his own way.

The expedition of Banks is a great success.

The enemy have thrown away their arms and fled to St. Antonio. Brazos Island, Point Isabel and Bienville are in our possession, and unless reinforcements are sent the victory will be barren.

The discharged troops are re-enlisting here almost in a body. Of the 47th Pennsylvania just paid off, 800 men took the bounty and went in to see the war out. Paymaster Taggart says that a large part of the whole army will follow the example. W. J. J.

Clothing and Supplies for Indiana Prisoners—Proposed Release of Correspondents, etc.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The World's Washington dispatch says: The Indiana State agent reached here to-night from Fortress Monroe, bringing with him a letter from Commissioner Ould, in reply to one of his own, stating that the rebel authorities will positively receive and deliver to all Indiana soldiers in the Confederacy all clothing and supplies which may be forwarded to them, and for which he (Ould) will give due notice to the Indiana authorities from time to time, as such may be delivered and accounted for.

A proposition has been made to the Richmond authorities to release, unconditionally, without parole or exchange, all newspaper correspondents in prison, provided a similar release of the same number of civilians is made here.

Advices from the front to-night state that no collision has yet occurred. The rebels have made no new demonstration within a day or two, but seem to be still strengthening their earthworks.

$4,000,000 in Gold for Mexico.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The World says that the French war steamer Media has just arrived at this port from Vera Cruz, via Havana. She will return directly to the former port, having been ordered to New York expressly to take out to Mexico $4,000,000 in gold, purchased in this city on account of the French government, by the house of Belmont & Co.
